As you read this I am in Spain, but I am writing this in Norfolk. The early part of my sabbatical has been spent winding down, relaxing, and researching: days spent in libraries, meeting up with friends, visits to Brighton, Somerset, and South Yorkshire. But I am here in retreat – a period of prayer and reflection, asking what God wants me to be doing, and what I need to change in my life. Walsingham is the perfect place for this. It is a small village but extraordinary for the Shrine – with its wonderful church and the pilgrim community which flows through here like a river, itself being created by the place and being transformed by it. And then I will be in Rome looking at some of its ancient churches and then in the mountains of northern Spain also looking at ancient churches, and exploring more of the worship for which the churches were created. And by ancient I don't mean mediaeval, as we tend to in England, but 4th – 8th Centuries. At this stage I think there might be a series of essays from all this, but we will see.
