The Poetics of Ancient and Classical Arabic Literature Esad Durakovic, 2015-04-24 Through analysing ancient and classical Arabic literature including the Qur'an from within the Arabic literary tradition this book provides an original interpretation of poetics and of other important aspects of Arab culture Ancient Arabic literature is a realm of poetry prose literary forms emerged rather late and even then remained in the shadow of poetic creative efforts Traditionally this literature has been viewed through a philologist's lens and has often been represented as materialistic in the sense that its poetry lacked imagination As a result Arabic poetry was often evaluated negatively in relation to other poetic traditions The Poetics of Ancient and Classical Arabic Literature argues that old Arabic literature is remarkably coherent in poetical terms and has its own individuality and that claims of its materialism arise from a failure to grasp the poetic principles of the Arabic tradition Analysing the Qur'an which is known for confronting the poetry of the time this book reveals that post-Qur'anic literature came to be defined against it Thus the constitution and interpretation of Arabic literature imposed itself as a particular exegesis of the sacred Text Disputing traditional interpretations by arguing that Arabic literature can only be assessed from within and not through comparison with other literary traditions this book is of interest to students and scholars of Islamic Studies Arabic Studies and Literary Studies

Menelaus' Spherics Roshdi Rashed, Athanasios Papadopoulos, 2017-10-23 Despite its importance in the history of Ancient science Menelaus' Spherics is still by and large unknown This treatise which lies at the foundation of spherical geometry is lost in Greek but has been preserved in its Arabic versions The reader will find here for the first time edited and translated into English the essentials of this tradition namely a fragment of an early Arabic translation and the first Arabic redaction of the Spherics composed by al-Muḥsin al-Ḥarawī together with a historical and mathematical study of Menelaus' treatise With this book a new and important part of the Greek and Arabic legacy to the history of mathematics comes to light This book will be an indispensable acquisition for any reader interested in the history of Ancient geometry and science and more generally in Greek and Arabic science and culture

The World As I Measure It: Volume Beta: An Autobiographical Reflection Larry Ashkenazy, Beta The World As I Measure It is a deeply personal reflection from the author behind a series of celebrated works This autobiography charts the life journey that influenced the creation of those books offering a unique glimpse into the major events and thoughts that shaped the author's intellectual path However it is not a companion or guide to their published works Instead this narrative stands apart sharing the milestones and experiences that led to the development of the ideas readers will find within the books themselves For those interested in the mind behind the words this is a revealing and thoughtful chronicle

The Philosophers and Mathematics Hassan Tahiri, 2018-08-14 This book explores the unique relationship between two different approaches to understand the nature of knowledge reality and existence It collects essays that examine the distinctive historical relationship between mathematics and philosophy Readers learn what key philosophers throughout the ages thought about mathematics This includes both thinkers who recognized the relevance of mathematics to their own work as well as those who chose to completely ignore its many achievements The essays offer insight into the role that mathematics played in the formation of each included philosopher s doctrine as well as the impact its remarkable expansion had on the philosophical systems each erected Conversely the authors also highlight the ways that philosophy contributed to the growth and transformation of mathematics Throughout significant historical examples help to illustrate these points in a vivid way Mathematics has often been a favored interlocutor of philosophers and a major source of inspiration This book is the outcome of an international conference held in honor of Roshdi Rashed a renowned historian of mathematics It provides researchers students and interested readers with remarkable insights into the history of an important relationship throughout the ages

Literature and the Islamic Court Erez Naaman, 2016-02-12 Courts were the most important frameworks for the production performance and evaluation of literature in medieval Islamic civilization

Patrons vying for prestige attracted to their courts literary people who sought their financial support The most successful courts assembled outstanding literary people from across the region The court of the vizier and literary person al Sahib Ibn Abbad 326 385 938 995 in western Iran is one of the most remarkable examples of a medieval Islamic court with a sophisticated literary activity in Arabic and to a lesser extent in Persian Literature and the Islamic Court examines the literary activity at the court of al Sahib and sheds light on its functional logic It is an inquiry into the nature of a great medieval court where various genres of poetry and prose were produced performed and evaluated regularly Major aspects examined in the book are the patterns of patronage selection and auditioning the cultural codes and norms governing performance production and criticism the interaction between the patron and courtiers and among the courtiers themselves competition genres as productive molds the hegemonic literary taste and the courtly habitus This book reveals the significance these courts held as institutions that were at the heart of literary production in Arabic Using primary medieval Arabic sources this book offers a comprehensive analysis of Islamic courts and as such is of key interest to students and scholars of Arabic literature Islamic history and medieval studies

Moral Rationalism and Shari'a Ali-Reza Bhojani, 2015-03-24 Moral Rationalism and Shar a is the first attempt at outlining the scope for a theological reading of Shar a based on a critical examination of why Adliyya theological ethics have not significantly impacted Sh readings of Shar a Within Sh works of Shar a legal theory us l al fiqh there is a theoretical space for reason as an independent source of normativity alongside the Qur n and the Prophetic tradition The position holds that humans are capable of understanding moral values independently of revelation Describing themselves as Adliyya literally the people of Justice this allows the Sh a who describe themselves as Adiliyya literally the People of Justice to attribute a substantive rational conception of justice to God both in terms of His actions and His regulative instructions Despite the Sh adoption of this moral rationalism independent judgments of rational morality play little or no role in the actual inference of Shar a norms within mainstream contemporary Sh thought Through a close examination of the notion of independent rationality as a source in modern Sh us l al fiqh the obstacles preventing this moral rationalism from impacting the understanding of Shar a are shown to be purely epistemic In line with the emic insider approach adopted these epistemic obstacles are revisited identifying the scope for allowing a reading of Shar a that is consistent with the fundamental moral rationalism of Sh thought It is argued that judgments of rational morality even when not definitively certain cannot be ignored in the face of the apparent meaning of texts that are themselves also not certain An Adliyya reading of Shar a demands that the strength of independent rational evidence be reconciled against the strength of any other apparently conflicting evidence such that independent judgments of rational morality act as a condition for the validity of precepts attributed to a just and moral God

Eastern Rome and the Rise of Islam Olof Heilo, 2015-11-19 The emergence of Islam in the seventh century AD still polarises scholars who seek to separate religious truth from the historical reality with which it is associated However history and prophecy are not solely defined by positive evidence or apocalyptic truth but by human subjects who consider them to convey distinct messages and in turn make these messages meaningful to others These messages are mutually interdependent and analysed together provide new insights into history It is by way of this concept that Olof Heilo presents the decline of the Eastern Roman Empire as a key to understanding the rise of Islam two historical processes often perceived as distinct from one another Eastern Rome and the Rise of Islam highlights significant convergences between Early Islam and the Late Ancient world It suggests that Islam's rise is a feature of a common process during which tensions between imperial ambitions and apocalyptic beliefs in Europe and the Middle East cut straight across today's theological and political definitions The conquests of Islam the emergence of the caliphate and the transformation of the Roman and Christian world are approached from both prophetic anticipations in the Ancient and Late Ancient world and from the Medieval and Modern receptions of history In the shadow of their narratives it becomes possible to trace the outline of a shared history of Christianity and Islam The Dark Ages thus emerge not merely as a tale of sound and fury but as an era of openness diversity and unexpected possibilities Approaching the rise of Islam as a historical phenomenon this book opens new perspectives in the study of early religion and philosophy as well as providing a valuable resource for students and scholars of Islamic Studies Routledge Revivals: Medieval Islamic Civilization (2006) Josef Meri, 2018-01-12 Islamic civilization flourished in the Middle Ages across a vast geographical area that spans today's Middle and Near East First published in 2006 Medieval Islamic Civilization examines the socio cultural history of the regions where Islam took hold between the 7th and 16th centuries This important two volume work contains over 700 alphabetically arranged entries contributed and signed by international scholars and experts in fields such as Arabic languages Arabic literature architecture history of science Islamic arts Islamic studies Middle Eastern studies Near Eastern studies politics religion Semitic studies theology and more Entries also explore the importance of interfaith relations and the permeation of persons ideas and objects across geographical and intellectual boundaries between Europe and the Islamic world This reference work provides an exhaustive and vivid portrait of Islamic civilization and brings together in one authoritative text all aspects of Islamic civilization during the Middle Ages Accessible to scholars students and non specialists this resource will be of great use in research and understanding of the roots of today's Islamic society as well as the rich and vivid culture of medieval Islamic civilization Legal Authority in Premodern Islam Fachrizal A. Halim, 2014-11-20 Offering a detailed analysis of the structure of authority in Islamic law this book focuses on the figure of Yahy b Sharaf al Nawaw who is regarded as the chief contributor to the legal tradition known as the Sh fi madhhab in traditional Muslim sources named after Muhammad b Idr s al Sh fi d 204 820 the supposed founder of the school of law Al Nawaw's legal authority is situated in a context where Muslims demanded to stabilize legal disposition that is consistent with the authority of the madhhab since in premodern Islamic society the ruling powers did not produce or promulgate law as was the case in other monarchic civilizations Al Nawaw's place in the long term formation of the madhhab is significant for many reasons but for one in particular his effort in reconciling the two major interpretive communities among the Shafiites i.e. the Iraqis and Khurasanians This book revisits the history of the Shafi school in the pre Nawawic era and explores its later development in the post Nawawic period Presenting a comprehensive picture of the structure of authority in Islamic law specifically within the Shafiite legal tradition this book is an essential resource for students and scholars of Islamic Studies History and Law

Discourse in Translation Said Faiq, 2018-11-21 This book explores the discourse in and of translation within and across cultures and languages From the macro aspects of translation as an inter cultural project to actual analysis of textual ingredients that contribute to translation and interpreting as discourse the ten chapters represent different explorations of global theories of discourse and translation Offering interrogations of theories and practices within different sociocultural environments and traditions Eastern and Western Discourse in Translation considers a plethora of domains including historiography ethics technical and legal discourse subtitling and the politics of media translation as representation This is key reading for all those working on translation and discourse within translation studies and linguistics

Before Copernicus Rivka Feldhay, F. Jamil Ragep, 2017-06-12 In 1984 Noel Swerdlow and Otto Neugebauer argued that Nicolaus Copernicus 1473-1543 explained planetary motion by using mathematical devices and astronomical models originally developed by Islamic astronomers in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries Was this a parallel development or did Copernicus somehow learn of the work of his predecessors and if so how And if Copernicus did use material from the Islamic world how then should we understand the European context of his innovative cosmology Although Copernicus's work has been subject to a number of excellent studies there has been little attention paid to the sources and diverse cultures that might have inspired him Foregrounding the importance of interactions between Islamic and European astronomers and philosophers Before Copernicus explores the multi cultural multi religious and multi lingual context of learning on the eve of the Copernican revolution determining the relationship between Copernicus and his predecessors Essays by Christopher Celenza and Nancy Bisaha delve into the European cultural and intellectual contexts of the fifteenth century revealing both the profound differences between them and us and the nascent attitudes that would mark the turn to modernity Michael Shank F. Jamil Ragep Sally Ragep and Robert Morrison depict the vibrant and creative work of astronomers in the Christian Islamic and Jewish worlds In other essays Rivka Feldhay Raz Chen Morris and Edith Sylla

demonstrate the importance of shifting outlooks that were critical for the emergence of a new worldview Highlighting the often neglected intercultural exchange between Islam and early modern Europe Before Copernicus reimagines the scientific revolution in a global context The City in the Muslim World Mohammad Gharipour, Nilay Ozlu, 2015-03-05 Presenting a critical yet innovative perspective on the cultural interactions between the East and the West this book questions the role of travel in the production of knowledge and in the construction of the idea of the Islamic city This volume brings together authors from various disciplines questioning the role of Western travel writing in the production of knowledge about the East particularly focusing on the cities of the Muslim world Instead of concentrating on a specific era chapters span the Medieval and Modern eras in order to present the transformation of both the idea of the Islamic city and also the act of traveling and travel writing Missions to the East whether initiated by military religious economic scientific diplomatic or touristic purposes resulted in a continuous construction de construction and re construction of the self and the other Including travel accounts which depicted cities extending from Europe to Asia and from Africa to Arabia chapters epitomize the construction of the Orient via textual or visual representations By examining various tools of representation such as drawings paintings cartography and photography in depicting the urban landscape in constant flux the book emphasizes the role of the mobile individual in defining city space and producing urban culture Scrutinising the role of travellers in producing the image of the world we know today this book is recommended for researchers scholars and students of Middle Eastern Studies Cultural Studies Architecture and Urbanism
