Scott Fraser PhD,David Grove LISW-S,Mo Yee Lee PhD,Gilbert Greene PhD,Andy Solovey MSW,2014-03-28 Funders of mental health services to youth and families have increasingly required providers to use treatments deemed to be evidence based There are several evidence based family treatment EBFT approaches found to be effective with the same types of presenting problems and populations All of these EBFTs claim to be based on similar theoretical approaches and have specified treatment protocols that providers must follow to be faithful to the model These EBFTs are expensive for agencies to establish and maintain Many agencies that initially adopted one of these EBFTs later de adopted it because they could not sustain it when billing Medicaid is the only way to pay for such services Meta analyses of treatment outcome studies have found that various theoretical approaches to therapy are effective but no one approach is more effective than any other What accounts for client improvement is not the specific treatment approach but rather the factors they all have in common To provide an effective affordable and flexible approach to family treatment the authors of this book developed and have conducted researched on an approach they call Integrative Family and Systems Treatment I FAST I FAST is a meta model organized around the common factors to family treatment Such a model does not require practitioners to learn a completely new way to provide treatment but rather it builds on and incorporates the clinical strengths and skills they already possess This book is a manual for how to faithfully and flexibly provide I FAST A manual for a meta model to treatment based on the common factors has never been provided This book provides clear guidelines illustrated by cases examples for not only how to provide I FAST but also how to teach and supervise it as well as how to integrate I FAST with the rest of an agency s services and programs Handbook of Art Therapy Cathy A. Ferrell RN, PhD, MA, FAAN, FPCN, CHPN,Joy Goldsmith PhD,Thomas Smith MD,Sandra Ragan MD,Myra Glajchen,The Rev. George Handzo,2015-10-23 The Textbook of Palliative Care Communication is the authoritative text on communication in palliative care providing a compilation of international and interdisciplinary perspectives. This volume was uniquely developed by an interdisciplinary editorial team to address an array of providers including physicians, nurses, social workers, and chaplains, and it unites clinicians with academic researchers interested in the study of communication. By featuring practical conversation and curriculum tools stemming from research, this text integrates scholarship and inquiry into translatable content that others can use to improve their practice, teach skills to others, and engage in patient-centered communication. The volume begins by defining communication, explicating debatable issues in research, and highlighting specific approaches to studying communication in a palliative care context. Chapters focus on health literacy and cultural communication, patient and family communication barriers, and approaches to discussing palliative care with specific patient populations, pain, life support, advance care planning, and quality of life topics such as sexuality, spirituality, hope, and grief. Team communication in various care settings is outlined, and current research and education for healthcare professionals are summarized. Unique to this volume are chapters on conducting communication research, both qualitatively and quantitatively, to promote further research in palliative care.

Tidy's Physiotherapy E-Book Stuart Porter, 2008-04-01. The essential book to refer to whether you're just starting out or about to go on placement or need to look up something for an assessment.
