Farming in Modern Irish Literature Nicholas Grene, 2021-08-05 This innovative study analyzes the range of representation of farming in Irish literature in the period since independence partition in 1922 as Ireland moved from a largely agricultural to a developed urban society In many different forms including poetry drama fiction and autobiography writers have made literary capital by looking back at their rural backgrounds even where those may be a generation back The first five chapters examine some of the key themes the impact of inheritance on family in the patriarchal system where there could only be one male heir the struggles for survival in the poorest regions of the West of Ireland the uses of childhood farming memories whether idyllic or traumatic and the representation of communities challenging the homogeneous idealizing images of the Literary Revival the impact of modernization on successive generations into the twenty first century The final three chapters are devoted to three major writers in whose work farming is central Patrick Kavanagh the small farmer who had to find an individual voice to express his own unique experience John McGahern in whose fiction the life of the farm is always posited as alternative to a rootless urban milieu and Seamus Heaney who re imagined his farming childhood in so many different modes throughout his career Farming in Modern Irish Literature yields original insights into the literary iconography of rural Ireland and its interplay with social and cultural history opening up fresh vistas on the achievements of Irish writers in different genres styles and historical eras Castration Desire Robinson

Murphy, 2023-12-14 Theorizes an alternative form of masculinity in global literature that is less egocentric and more sustainable both in terms of gendered and environmental power dynamics Contemporary novelists and filmmakers like Kazuo Ishiguro Japanese British Emma Donoghue Irish Canadian Michael Ondaatje Sri Lankan Canadian Bong Joon ho South Korean and J M Coetzee South African Australian are emblematic of a transnational phenomenon that Robinson Murphy calls castration desire That is these artists present privileged characters who nonetheless pursue their own diminishment In promulgating through their characters a less egocentric mode of thinking and acting these artists offer a blueprint for engendering a more other oriented global relationality Murphy proposes that in addition to being an ethical prerogative castration desire s less is more model of relationality would make life livable where veritable suicide is our species otherwise potential fate Castration desire thus offers an antidote to rapacious extractivism with the ambition of instilling a sustainable model for thinking and acting on an imminently eco apocalyptic earth In providing a fresh optic through which to read a diversity of text types Castration Desire helps define where literary criticism is now and where it is headed Castration Desire additionally extends and develops a zeitgeist currently unfolding in critical theory It brings Leo Bersani s concept psychic utopia together with Judith Butler s radical egalitarianism but transports their shared critique of phallic individualization into the environmental humanities In doing so this book builds a new framework for how gender studies intersects with environmental studies Foster Claire Keegan, 2010 A heartbreaking haunting story of childhood loss and love Annual
