Banking for Family Business Stefano Caselli, Stefano Gatti, 2005-10-18 1 2 Laurent Huck and Sergio Trezzi During the last 5 years the asset management industry has been constantly invested by events which have required top management of major companies to rethink their business model while preserving their company's mission From the Internet bubble easy growth model to a strong cost control environment in 2000 2003 many financial institutions have undertaken structural changes in order to reap the opportunities offered by the new market Hints of globalization have actually been around for several decades even though they made only a modest impact however the availability of global capital and advances in communication technology have emphasized the process of internationalization and the tools available to connect and integrate business activities to answer to more complex needs of clients. Moreover, the financial scandals and the review of mutual fund trade activity in the US by the Attorney General Elliot Spitzer have highlighted the importance to focus all efforts on renewing the confidence of professional investors and their clients who have entrusted their capital to asset managers. Therefore, there is a growing need in the market to reinforce the concept of Shared Positive Values among the entire industry and among its stakeholders.

Developing Financial Leadership in Small-Medium Businesses Stewart Barnes, Malcolm Prowle, 2025-03-12 Many small medium enterprises (SMEs) are very small organisations comprising mainly single person and micro businesses but in the United Kingdom there are around 250 000 small medium businesses (SMBs) which are substantial businesses with turnovers of millions or tens of millions of pounds. A key requirement for thriving SMBs is effective leadership throughout the organisation. One crucial aspect which is often overlooked is that of financial leadership. Financial management in SMBs is often seen as a technique based activity whereby finance staff have a limited role preparing annual financial accounts and disseminating financial information to key individuals in the organisation. They may act reactively by responding to requests for specific financial information. On the other hand, strong financial leadership is proactive, constructive and innovative and plays a critical role in ensuring that organisations stay financially adaptable and can build resilience and sustainability in today's fierce market. The most effective financial leaders have a sophisticated and thorough understanding of their organisation's financial health and they make decisions grounded in financial realities to use that information in their communication to demonstrate the strategic connection between money, mission and purpose. This research volume asserts that understanding the importance of utilising robust financial management approaches and financial information in making business decisions and assessing business performance is the key. This is especially relevant for SMBs as they can have a significant influence on countries' economies. It will therefore be of interest to researchers, academics, practitioners and advanced students in the fields of leadership, financial management, entrepreneurship and strategy.
