Gallantry Awards Ministry Of Defence Government Of India:

Anti-Aircraft Artillery in Combat, 1950-1972 Mandeep Singh, 2020-04-30 Anti aircraft artillery was extensively used in combat in the First World War though such weapons had made their debut in the Franco Prussian War in 1870 when the besieged French used balloons for observation and communication and the Prussians used the first custom built 1 pounder gun to try and shoot them down It was however not until the Second World War that anti aircraft artillery came into prominence shooting down more aircraft than any other weapon and seriously degrading the conduct of air operations In the battle between the attackers and anti aircraft artillery the latter had the upper hand when the war ended The post war years saw a decline in anti aircraft artillery as peace prevailed and the advent of the jet aircraft seemed to tilt the balance in favour of the aircraft as they flew faster and higher seemingly beyond the reach of anti aircraft artillery It would take all the hi tech equipment and the guile and cunning that anti aircraft artillery could muster to try and reclaim pole position It is that story of the tug of war between the aircraft and artillery that forms the narrative of this book as it traces the history of combat employment of anti aircraft artillery from the Korean War in effect the first Jet Age war to the War of Attrition between Arab states and Israel when the missiles came of age sending the aircraft scurrying for cover Anti Aircraft Artillery in Combat 1950 1972 is the first attempt to look at the combat performance of ground based air defences incorporating the views analyses and experiences of Soviet Arab and South Asian Armies The book looks at the major wars between 1950 and 1972 including the Korean War Vietnam War the wars in South Asia in 1965 and 1971 and conflicts in the Middle East such as the Six Day War Annual Report - Government of India, Ministry of Defence India. Haynes, Rana Chhina, 2008 With India's independence in 1947 and emergence as a fully self governing republic in 1950 new awards were created to reward Indian citizens for bravery and national service While these new national awards grew out of the historical heritage of the period of British rule they also represented the unique values of the new republic This book presents a systematic overview of the official military police and civilian awards of the Republic of India from 1947 though to the present day In addition to presenting a detailed catalogue of official awards this work also surveys the development of policy on such awards considers their changing legal status and provides a critique of the policies that governed their creation and bestowal While focusing on official national awards the book also provides information on Indian provincial awards on foreign awards given to Indians and on awards of the pre 1947 Provisional Government of Free India While much space is necessarily devoted to military awards attention is also given to civilian awards to the awards of the police and fire services and to the other official awards of the Indian Republic This is the first book to focus on this important topic and should be of special interest to those in the defence and other uniformed services to national policy makers to students and collectors of decorations and medals and to those with an interest in the social and political history of India Members of the general public with an interest in how such national honours are awarded or with a curiosity over the meaning of all those bits of coloured silk that are worn on uniforms will find this a useful and handy work of reference
