Human Adaptation Yehudi A. Cohen,2017-07-12 Underlying the anthropological study of humans is the principle that there is a reality to which a human must adapt for survival Populations must adapt to the realities of the physical world and maintain a proper fit between their biological makeup and the pressures of the various niches of the world Social groups must develop adaptive mechanisms in the organization of their social relations if there is to be order regularity and predictability in patterns of cooperation and competition This book presents an introduction to anthropology that is unified and made systematic by its focus on adaptations that have accompanied the evolution of humans from non human primates to inhabitants of vast urban areas in modern industrial societies Human Adaptation contains over forty outstanding essays that are intended to serve as an introduction to physical anthropology archeology and linguistics from the point of view of the processes of adaptation The organization of these selections contains a balance between biological and prehistoric cultural adaptations They provide coherence for the study of human evolution Several selections notably those in connection with linguistic adaptations deal with contemporary people in order to shed light on earlier evolutionary processes More than half of the selections deal with biological evolution This volume unifies the subject matter of anthropology within a single and powerful explanatory framework and incorporates the work of the most renowned anthropological experts on man

The Letters of St. Antony Samuel Rubenson,1995-01-01 This book revolutionizes our understanding of the life and thought of the great anchorite father of the Egyptian desert It is a signal contribution to our knowledge of Egyptian Christianity in the third and fourth centuries Birger Pearson Institute for Antiquity and Christianity Samuel Rubenson by means of a fresh analysis of the letters of St Antony exposes the distortion of the picture of early Christian monks as unlettered and primitive Rubenson describes the desert monasteries as centers of theological reflection in Egypt showing how they combined the speculative philosophy of the Greeks and the biblical tradition Included in this volume is a new translation of the letters themselves which are shown to be authentic and an important source for the study of the desert fathers and the early monastic tradition The later image of Antony is demonstrated to be influenced by church politics of the latter part of the fourth century Samuel Rubenson is Associate Professor at Lund University Lund Sweden
