Benchmarking in Services Jaideep G. Motwani,Victor E. Sower,2006 Benchmarking is defined as an improvement process in which a company measures its performance against that of best in class companies determines how those companies achieved their performance levels and uses the information to improve its own performance Bemowski 1992 p 20 Under the best of circumstances benchmarking can be difficult time consuming and costly Service benchmarking is made more difficult than benchmarking in manufacturing because it appears that those things which are important to the customer may differ significantly from one service industry to another Sower et al 2001 Because of the question about the universality of the definition of quality in the service industry and the impact on benchmarking activities the editors obtained as broad a cross section of papers for this special issue as possible The industries represented by the nine papers in this issue cover a broad spectrum of service industries from sports to banking from laboratory services to hospitality and tourism

Reshaping Accounting and Management Control Systems Katia Corsi,Nicola Giuseppe Castellano,Rita Lamboglia,Daniela Mancini,2017-03-21 This book examines the relationship between digital innovations on the one hand and accounting and management information systems on the other In particular it addresses topics including cloud computing data mining XBRL and digital platforms It presents an analysis of how new technologies can reshape accounting and management information systems enhancing their information potentialities and their ability to support decision making processes as well as several studies that reveal how managerial information needs can affect and reshape the adoption of digital technologies Focusing on the four major aspects data management information system architecture external and internal reporting the book offers a valuable resource for CIOs CFOs and more generally for business managers as well as for researchers and scholars It is mainly based on a selection of the best papers original double blind reviewed contributions presented at the 2015 Annual Conference of the Italian Chapter of the Association for Information Systems AIS Service Supply Chain Systems Tsan-Ming Choi,2016-04-14 Supply chain management is a well developed area The traditional supply chains are dynamic systems which include the forward and reverse flows of physical products and the related information and fund However a service supply chain is different because the real product may take the form of a service which implies that many traditionally cruc Ebook: Managerial Accounting GARRISON,2014-05-16 Ebook Managerial Accounting Workbook/Study Guide for Use with Introduction to Managerial Accounting Ray H.
