African Languages B. W. Andrzejewski,S. Pilaszewicz,W. Tyloch,1985-11-21 Although African literatures in English and French are widely known outside Africa those in the African languages themselves have not received comparable attention In this book a number have been selected for survey by fourteen specialist writers providing the reader with an introduction to this very wide field and a body of reference material which includes extensive bibliographies and biographical information on African authors Theoretical issues such as genre divisions are discussed in the essays and the historical social and political forces at work in the creation and reception of African literature are examined Literature is treated as an art whose medium is language so that both the oral and written forms are encompassed This book will be of value not only to readers concerned with the cultures of Africa but to all those with an interest in the literary phenomena of the world in general African Oral Literature Russell Kaschula, 2001 Throughout Africa oral literature is flourishing though it is perceived by some as anachronistic to the modern world This work refutes this idea in its entirety by presenting 22 chapters which firmly place the study of oral literature within contemporary African existence The study analyzes how oral literature relates to media music technology text gender religion power politics and globalization Kgoro Gr 8 L/b Sesotho , An Annotated Bibliography of Southern Bantu Praise Poetry David Westley, 1999 Limi , 1969 Bafokeng , In the Time of Cannibals David B. Coplan, 1994 The workers who migrate from Lesotho to the mines and cities of neighboring South Africa have developed a rich genre of sung oral poetry word music that focuses on the experiences of migrant life This music provides a culturally reflexive and consciously artistic account of what it is to be a migrant or part of a migrant's life It reveals the relationship between these Basotho workers and the local and South African powers that be the cannibals who live off of the workers labor David Coplan presents a moving collection of material that for the first time reveals the expressive genius of these tenacious but disenfranchised people Coplan discusses every aspect of the Basotho musical literature taking into account historical conditions political dynamics and social forces as well as the styles artistry and occasions of performance He engages the postmodern challenge to decolonize our representation of the ethnographic subject and demonstrates how performance formulates local knowledge and communicates its shared understandings Complete with transcriptions of full male and female performances this book develops a theoretical and methodological framework crucial to anyone seeking to understand the relationship between orality and literacy in the context of performance This work is an important contribution to South African studies to ethnomusicology and anthropology and to performance studies in general
