Ascetic Modernism in the Work of T S Eliot and Gustave Flaubert Henry Michael Gott,2015-10-06 Gott examines Eliot s The Waste Land 1922 in conjunction with Gustave Flaubert s La Tentation de Saint Antoine 1874 He provides a highly original reading of both texts and argues that a stylistic affinity exists between the two works

Unsilenced Rosemary Lucy Hill,Bianca Fileborn,Catherine Strong,2025-01-09 This book explores gender based violence within the music industry and how women who have experienced violence represent it in their music Using the key case studies of music by Kesha Lingua Ignota and Alice Glass as well as many other examples from across the musical landscape the book examines how the artists represent their experiences of gender based violence in their music lyrics and music videos how they narrate and describe their experiences how they incorporate these experiences into their public personas and how the music industry itself might be facilitating or perpetuating the violence The analysis sheds light on how survivors construct their experiences and how the songs and videos inscribe new understandings of gender based violence The book argues that men s control of women s creativity can be considered a form of musical abuse and that through its structures and systems the music industry itself can be classed as inherently abusive And yet women musicians can sing back to the violence they ve experienced and create powerful new representations that have the potential to change the way we listen to music if we are prepared to develop our feminist ears

Salman Rushdie and Translation Jenni Ramone,2013-09-12 Salman Rushdie s writing is engaged with translation in many ways translator figures tell and retell stories in his novels while acts of translation are catalysts for climactic events Covering his major novels as well as his often neglected short stories and writing for children Salman Rushdie and Translation explores the role of translation in Rushdie s work In this book Jenni Ramone draws on contemporary translation theory to analyse the part translation plays in Rushdie s appropriation of historical and contemporary Indian narratives of independence and migration

Listening to War J. Martin Daughtry,2015-09-01 To witness war is in large part to hear it And to survive it is among other things to have listened to it and to have listened through it Listening to War Sound Music Trauma and Survival in Wartime Iraq is a groundbreaking study of the centrality of listening to the experience of modern warfare Based on years of ethnographic interviews with U S military service members and Iraqi civilians as well as on direct observations of wartime Iraq author J Martin Daughtry reveals how these populations learned to extract valuable information from the ambient soundscape while struggling with the deleterious effects that it produced in their ears throughout their bodies and in their psyches Daughtry examines the dual edged nature of sound its potency as a source of information and a source of trauma within a sophisticated conceptual frame that highlights the affective power of sound and the vulnerability and agency of individual auditors By theorizing violence through the prism of sound and sound through the prism of violence Daughtry provides a productive new vantage point for examining these strangely conjoined phenomena Two chapters dedicated to wartime music in Iraqi and U S military contexts show how music was both an important instrument of the military campaign and the victim of a multitude of violent acts throughout the war A landmark work within the study of conflict sound studies and ethnomusicology Listening to War will expand your understanding of the experience of armed violence and the experience of sound more generally At the same time it provides a discrete window into the lives of individual Iraqis and Americans struggling to orient themselves within the fog of war

Cultural Seeds: Essays on the Work of Nick Cave Tanya Dalziel, 2016-05-13 Nick Cave is now widely recognized as a songwriter musician novelist screenwriter curator critic actor and performer From the band The Boys Next Door 1976 1980 to the spoken word recording The Secret Life of the Love Song 1998 to the recently acclaimed screenplay of The Proposition 2005 and the Grinderman project 2008 Cave s career spans thirty years and has produced a comprehensive and sometimes controversial body of work that has shaped contemporary alternative culture Despite intense media interest in Cave there have been remarkably few comprehensive appraisals of his work its significance and its impact on understandings of popular culture In addressing this absence the present volume is both timely and necessary Cultural Seeds brings together an international range of scholars and practitioners each of whom is uniquely placed to comment on an aspect of Cave s career The essays collected here not only generate new ways of seeing and understanding Cave s contributions to contemporary culture but set up a dialogue between fields all too often separated in the academy and in the media Topics include Cave and the Presley myth the aberrant masculinity projected by The Birthday Party the postcolonial Australian ness of his humour his interventions in film and his erotics of the sacred These essays offer compelling insights and provocative arguments about the fluidity of contemporary artistic practice

Scripting Empire James Procter, 2024 A volume on the literary and cultural history of West Indian and West African writing at the BBC The volume covers over 40 different radio programmes which appeared within the Calling West Africa and Calling West Indies schedules between 1941 and 1965 and brings together a wide range of uncatalogued archive materials

Testimony, Witness, Authority Tom Clark, Sasha Henriss-Anderssen, Tara Mokhtari, 2014-07-24 What does it mean to listen faithfully to how stories are told through a web of verbal and near verbal media How do dynamics of testimony witness and authority work to determine the politics and poetics of human experience This collection of essays addresses fundamental problems that confront creative practitioners researchers educators and graduate and undergraduate students working on questions about expressive communication across the Humanities Creative Arts and Social Sciences It is an international interdisciplinary examination of the interaction between verbal and near verbal media their uses and their users The leading theme of this volume is an interrogation of texts both oral and written that bear witness to experience and which are determined by permutations of subjective consciousness the dynamics of transmission cultural knowledge systems and codes aboriginality and the limits of verbalisation The contributing authors are international scholars and artists in the fields of literature education creative writing linguistics film and documentary performance studies sporting culture politics and poetics All offer erudite insights on various formal and informal articulations of experience their applications and their broader significance

Sonic Bodies Julian Henriques, 2011-09-08 The reggae sound system has exerted a major influence on music and popular culture Out on the streets of inner city Kingston Jamaica every night sound systems stage dancehall sessions for the crowd to share the immediate intensive and immersive visceral pleasures of sonic dominance Sonic Bodies concentrates on the skilled performance of the crewmembers responsible for this signature sound of Jamaican music the audio engineers designing building and fine tuning the hugely powerful sets of equipment the selectors choosing the music tracks to play and MCs DJs on the mic hyping up the crowd Julian Henriques proposes that these dancehall vibes are taken literally as the periodic motion of vibrations He offers an analysis of how a sound system operates at auditory corporeal and sociocultural frequencies Sonic Bodies formulates a fascinating critique of visual dominance and the dualities inherent in ideas of image text or discourse This innovative book questions the assumptions that reason resides only in a disembodied mind that communication is an exchange of information and that meaning is only ever representation

Possession, Puritanism and Print Marion Gibson, 2015-10-06 Tells a story of injustice and passionate resistance to religious persecution in the last years of Queen Elizabeth's reign Through an analysis of a sensational series of demonic possessions and exorcisms this book highlights the existence of controversies in print in the late Elizabethan period of the kind that would one day lead to civil war

Applied Puppetry Matt Smith, 2024-10-03 Drawing on thirty years of making theatre with objects this field defining book maps the terrain of applied puppetry Through a range of case studies both personal and practical Matt Smith offers a reflective and engaging study which provides makers thinkers and students alike with a toolkit for thinking about and making puppetry in community settings Through eight chapters Smith muses on the nature of creativity explores approaches to puppetry through ecology and considers how puppets and objects affect the act of making and in turn how they affect those who make use and experience them in performance Along the way Applied Puppetry offers practical exercises in theatre making demonstrates the political power of puppetry beyond borders and interrogates the limitations and possibilities of puppetry and object theatre in local communities volatile contexts and difficult circumstances

The Sound of Culture Louis Chude-Sokei, 2015-12-29 The Sound of Culture explores the histories of race and technology in a world made by slavery colonialism and industrialization Beginning in the late nineteenth century and moving through to the twenty first the book argues for the dependent nature of those histories Looking at American British and Caribbean literature it distills a diverse range of subject matter minstrelsy Victorian science fiction

cybertheory and artificial intelligence All of these facets according to Louis Chude Sokei are part of a history in which music has been central to the equation that links blacks and machines As Chude Sokei shows science fiction itself has roots in racial anxieties and he traces those anxieties across two centuries and a range of writers and thinkers from Samuel Butler Herman Melville and Edgar Rice Burroughs to Sigmund Freud William Gibson and Donna Haraway to Norbert Weiner Sylvia Wynter and Samuel R Delany
