Duty To Consult And The Aboriginal Reconciliation Process:

The Oxford Handbook of the Canadian Constitution Peter Oliver, Patrick Macklem, Nathalie Des Rosiers, 2017-08-10 The Oxford Handbook of the Canadian Constitution provides an ideal first stop for Canadians and non Canadians seeking a clear concise and authoritative account of Canadian constitutional law The Handbook is divided into six parts Constitutional History Institutions and Constitutional Change Aboriginal Peoples and the Canadian Constitution Federalism Rights and Freedoms and Constitutional Theory Readers of this Handbook will discover some of the distinctive features of the Canadian constitution for example the importance of Indigenous peoples and legal systems the long standing presence of a French speaking population French civil law and Quebec the British constitutional heritage the choice of federalism as well as the newer features most notably the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms Section Thirty Five regarding Aboriginal rights and treaties and the procedures for constitutional amendment The Handbook provides a remarkable resource for comparativists at a time when the Canadian constitution is a frequent topic of constitutional commentary The Handbook offers a vital account of constitutional challenges and opportunities at the time of the 150th anniversary of Confederation

Final Report of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, Volume One: Summary Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, 2015-07-22 This is the Final Report of Canada's Truth and Reconciliation Commission and its six year investigation of the residential school system for Aboriginal youth and the legacy of these schools This report the summary volume includes the history of residential schools the legacy of that school system and the full text of the Commission's 94 recommendations for action to address that legacy This report lays bare a part of Canada's history that until recently was little known to most non Aboriginal Canadians The Commission discusses the logic of the colonization of Canada's territories and why and how policy and practice developed to end the existence of distinct societies of Aboriginal peoples Using brief excerpts from the powerful testimony heard from Survivors this report documents the residential school system which forced children into institutions where they were forbidden to speak their language required to discard their clothing in favour of institutional wear given inadequate food housed in inferior and fire prone buildings required to work when they should have been studying and subjected to emotional psychological and often physical abuse In this setting cruel punishments were all too common as was sexual abuse More than 30 000 Survivors have been compensated financially by the Government of Canada for their experiences in residential schools but the legacy of this experience is ongoing today This report explains the links to high rates of Aboriginal children being taken from their families abuse of drugs and alcohol and high rates of suicide The report documents the drastic decline in the presence of Aboriginal languages even as Survivors and others work to maintain their distinctive cultures traditions and governance The report offers 94 calls to action on the part of governments churches public institutions and non Aboriginal Canadians as a path to meaningful reconciliation of Canada today with Aboriginal citizens Even though the historical experience of residential schools constituted an act of cultural genocide by

Canadian government authorities the United Nations declaration of the rights of aboriginal peoples and the specific recommendations of the Commission offer a path to move from apology for these events to true reconciliation that can be embraced by all Canadians

Genetic Resources and Traditional Knowledge Tania Bubela, E. Richard Gold, 2012-01-01 This fascinating study describes efforts to define and protect traditional knowledge and the associated issues of access to genetic resources from the negotiation of the Convention on Biological Diversity to the Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples and the Nagoya Protocol Drawing on the expertise of local specialists from around the globe the chapters judiciously mix theory and empirical evidence to provide a deep and convincing understanding of traditional knowledge innovation access to genetic resources and benefit sharing Because traditional knowledge was understood in early negotiations to be subject to a property rights framework these often became bogged down due to differing views on the rights involved New models developed around the notion of distributive justice and self determination are now gaining favor This book suggests through a discussion of theory and contemporary case studies from Brazil India Kenya and Canada that a focus on distributive justice best advances the interests of indigenous peoples while also fostering scientific innovation in both developed and developing countries Comprehensive as well as nuanced Genetic Resources and Traditional Knowledge will be of great interest to scholars and students of law political science anthropology and geography National and international policymakers and those interested in the environment indigenous peoples rights and innovation will find the book an enlightening resource

Realizing the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples

Jackie Hartley,Paul Joffe,Jennifer Preston,2010-05-01 Adopted by the UN General Assembly on 13 September 2007 the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples affirms the minimum standards for the survival dignity and well being of the indigenous peoples of the world The Declaration responds to past and ongoing injustices suffered by Indigenous peoples worldwide and provides a strong foundation for the full recognition of the inherent rights of Indigenous peoples Despite this Canada was one of the few countries to oppose the Declaration With essays from Indigenous leaders legal scholars and practitioners state representatives and representatives from NGOs contributors discuss the creation of the Declaration and how it can be used to advance human rights internationally

Resource Communities in a Globalizing Region Paul Bowles,Gary N. Wilson,2015-12-14 Northern British Columbia has always played an important role in Canada s economy but for many Canadians it also existed as an almost forgotten place a vast territory where only a few roads some railroad tracks and a ferry system connected small cities towns and villages to the outside world Now as the global appetite for oil gas hydroelectricity wood and minerals intensifies this resource rich and geographically important region is being pulled onto the national and international economic stages As debates around pipelines mines and hydroelectric projects intensify in local coffee shops distant boardrooms and the halls of Parliament this timely volume examines the connections and tensions between resource communities and global market forces illuminating how governments Aboriginal peoples organized labour NGOs and the private sector are adapting to resisting and embracing change
