Narrow Margins Marie Browne, 2012-10-18 Narrow Margins a laugh out loud book which proves that lean times can sometimes be a very positive thing. Faced with the loss of everything following the collapse of the Rover Group, Marie Browne moved her long suffering husband Geoff, chaotic children and smelly narcoleptic dog on to a houseboat in search of a less stressful, healthier alternative way of life. Strapped for cash, the family buy a decrepit 70ft barge called Happy Go lucky which had been run as a floating hotel. Outdated and in need of a complete refurbishment, Happy becomes their floating home. First they need to learn the ropes and many pitfalls beset their adventures. As they come to terms with living on a narrow boat, readers gain a fascinating insight into life in the slow lane. About the author: Marie Browne is a gently harassed mother of three who for the past fifteen years has been desperately trying to escape the Customer Service Industry. Apart from her husband and kids, the best things in her life are real ale, barbecues, ugly mad dogs that nobody else wants, and cream covered designer coffees. She also has an obsession with shoes, but her husband is threatening to get her help for that. "See Ya Later Shit Lords!" Edward Blackwell, 2017-03-28 This is a collection of the blogs that were written every day whilst undertaking the Mongol Rally with my school friend Mikey in the summer of 2016. These blogs are a frank and truthful account of what it is like to spend five weeks on the road in a tiny red car travelling over 10 000 miles across a third of the world's surface through 20 countries. The Mongol Rally is one of the toughest adventures in the world, and this book gets you to the highs and lows as if you were in the passenger seat. The rally wasn't just about travelling the world. The pair managed to raise over 2000 for three charities: Cool Earth, The Back Up Trust, and The Max Levene Trust. This was helped by many sponsors who took pride of place on the exterior of the little red car. Fletcher's Solicitors were the main contributors; more sponsors are given in the book. Cars, The New Domestic Automakers in the United States and Canada A.J. Jacobs, 2015-12-16 Over the past forty years, state, provincial, and local governments in the United States and Canada have provided foreign automakers with approximately 4.80 billion in incentives in order to lure light vehicles assembly plants to their areas. This has included tax abatements, infrastructure construction, land giveaways, job training programs, and other subsidies. As of early 2015, ten foreign vehicle makers operated 20 light vehicles in developed

North America Despite the fact that all ten of these automakers have pursued a similar pattern first exporting vehicles into the United States and Canada before launching vehicle plants in developed North America each has followed its own specific historical development path and has created its own unique growth trajectory This book provides a unique historical and qualitative review of these ten vehicle makers from their early beginnings to their export entry into the United States and or Canada through early 2015 In addition it chronicles the histories of more than a dozen former automakers and potential future foreign light motor vehicle assembly plants in the United States and Canada This includes the first foreign automaker to build its cars in the United States De Dion Bouton of France in July 1900 the early 20th Century endeavors of Fiat Mercedes and Rolls Royce and the present day hopes of Chinese and Indian automakers In the process the text also provides an assessment of the top competing states and sites for any future plants the possible incentives packages governments may offer to attract such facilities and an estimated incentive value for each automaker Overall the goal of this book is to expand the knowledge of policymakers at all tiers of government in the United States and Canada and to help them take a more holistic look at the pros and cons of attracting Automobile Manufacturing FDI It is hoped that this will enable them to make more informed decisions when pursuing a new foreign motor vehicle assembly plant Its findings should also prove informative to urban and regional planning political science sociology economics labor and international development scholars and students in North America and worldwide
