VANCOUVER 2010: THE PARTY'S OVER

A. Vocabulary: 1. b 2. d 3. c 4. a

B. Questions:

1. What is the objective of the federal "Own the Podium" program? Going into the Winter Olympics, the plan was for Canada to win the most medals. (The program was launched in January 2005. It cost $117 million, of which $66 million was tax money.)
2. Who won Canada's first gold medal in the 2010 Games? Alexandre Bilodeau (the 22-year-old from Quebec won the men's moguls competition.)
3. Why was this first gold medal so significant for Canadians? Explain. It was the first gold medal won by a Canadian at an Olympic Games held in Canada. During the 1976 Summer Games in Montreal and Calgary's 1988 Winter Games, not one Canadian won a gold medal. (Mr. Bilodeau is very close to his older brother Frederic, who has cerebral palsy. Mr. Bilodeau called his brother "my inspiration.")
4. Identify four glitches or mishaps that occurred early on during the Games. A tragedy occurred on February 12 when 21-year-old Nodar Kumaritashvili flew off his sled and crashed into a metal pylon at about 140 km an hour during a training run, killing him instantly. His death cast a shadow over the Opening Ceremonies held that evening. (He was the fourth athlete ever to die during Winter Olympics preparations.) Other, less troubling incidents included warmer than usual weather that melted snow, protests, the failure of one of the four 'ice pillars' that make up the Olympic cauldron to rise from the floor during the Opening Ceremonies, a malfunctioning ice surfacing machine, and bus breakdowns.
5. Describe four highlights of the Games for Canada. The Opening Ceremonies, Alex Bilodeau won Canada's first-ever gold medal on Canadian soil, Maclean Ricker became the first Canadian woman to win gold at home, Tessa Virtue and Scott Moir won Canada's first-ever gold medal for ice dance, the Canadian women's hockey team won decisive victories leading up to the final game (both men's and women's hockey and curling finals, as well as other events, had not been held by the publication date).

EDITORIAL CARTOON

1. Answers will vary.
2. The 2010 Winter Olympic Games took place in Vancouver and Whistler, B.C. from February 12 through 28. During the first week, the Games experienced a number of mishaps, from the death of a Georgian luger during his training run to unseasonably warm weather that melted snow, a malfunctioning ice surfacing machine, transit problems, and glitches during the Opening Ceremonies.
3. The label on the shirt of the man in the first frame identifies him as a member of VANOC. He comments that the weather is too wet, then too warm, then too snowy for the Games to occur. In the final frame, he notes that the weather is finally just right – but wonders where all the athletes and spectators are. His companion says they are stuck in the city – the buses broke down.

4. The oversimplified and distorted features of the figures (bulbous eyes, large triangular mouths, round protruding noses, short, squat bodies) add humour to the cartoon.
5. The perspective is that of the cartoonist.
6. The cartoonist may be suggesting that nothing went right during the first week of the Games. First, the weather didn't cooperate; it was too warm and there wasn't enough snow. Then, there were glitches with the transportation system. Buses broke down, and a number of people were delayed or unable to make it to some events as a result.

A. Vocabulary: Answers will vary.

B. Questions:

1. In which country did a large earthquake occur in January? Haiti (It was the worst earthquake to hit the Caribbean in more than 200 years).
2. What is the population of this nation? about nine million
3. List the four basic needs that many quake survivors are still lacking. Food, water, shelter and medical equipment.
4. Describe the progress made so far to bring order to the 'logistical nightmare' in this country. 1) the main airport is now open; 2) the port has also reopened, allowing relief supplies to arrive by sea; 3) the UN established a tent-and-trailer city to coordinate the efforts of 900 aid agencies; 4) camps have been set up for the homeless, and 5) two million people have received food, mainly rice.
5. What are Canadian troops doing to help out in this country? Explain. 1) 2,000 troops were sent to Haiti (the focus is on the cities of Jacmel and Leogane); 2) DART has been feeding 2,500 people daily and treating 300 patients; 3) it has been purifying 26,000 litres of seawater a day; and 4) Canadian soldiers have also reopened the second largest airport in Jacmel.
6. Describe the challenges that many earthquake survivors must still overcome. Many are living in makeshift camps that may be washed away by floods and that may also become breeding grounds for diseases such as malaria, dengue fever, measles and cholera. They have physical and psychological trauma to overcome, and must rebuild much of their country.
