Great Expectations Jonathan Skinner, Dimitrios Theodossopoulos, 2011-10-01 The negotiation of expectations in tourism is a complex and dynamic process one that is central to the imagination of cultural difference Expectations not only affect the lives and experiences of tourists but also their hosts and play an important part in the success or failure of the overall tourism experience It is for this reason the authors argue that special attention should be given to how expectations constitute and sustain tourism The case studies presented here explore what fuels the desires to visit particular places to what degree expectations inform the experience of the place and the frequent disjunctions between tourist expectations and experiences Careful attention is paid to how the imagination of the visitor inspires the imagination of the host and vice versa how tourists and host communities actively imagine re imagine and shape each other's lives This realization has profound consequences not solely for academic analysis but for all those who participate in and work within the tourism industry

A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa Roy Richard Grinker, Stephen C. Lubkemann, Christopher B. Steiner, Euclides Gonçalves, 2019-02-06 An essential collection of scholarly essays on the anthropology of Africa offering a thorough introduction to the most important topics in this evolving and diverse field of study The study of the cultures of Africa has been central to the methodological and theoretical development of anthropology as a discipline since the late 19th century As the anthropology of Africa has emerged as a distinct field of study anthropologists working in this tradition have strived to build a disciplinary conversation that recognizes the diversity and complexity of modern and ancient African cultures while acknowledging the effects of historical anthropology on the present and future of the field of study

A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa is a collection of insightful essays covering the key questions and subjects in the contemporary anthropology of Africa with a key focus on addressing the topics that define the contemporary discipline

Written and edited by a team of leading cultural anthropologists it is an ideal introduction to the most important topics in the field both those that have consistently been a part of the critical dialogue and those that have emerged as the central questions of the discipline's future

Beginning with essays on the enduring topics in the study of African cultures A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa provides a foundation in the contemporary critical approach to subjects of longstanding interest

With these subjects as a groundwork later essays address decolonization the postcolonial experience and questions of modern identity and definition providing representation of the diverse thinking and scholarship in the modern anthropology of Africa

Ethno-erotic Economies George Paul Meiu, 2017-10-10

Ethno-erotic Economies explores a fascinating case of tourism focused on sex and culture in coastal Kenya where young men deploy stereotypes of African warriors to help them establish transactional sexual relationships with European women

In bars and on beaches young men deliberately cultivate their images as sexually potent African men to attract women sometimes for a night in other cases for long term relationships

George Paul Meiu uses his deep familiarity with the communities these men come from to explore the long term effects of markets of ethnic culture and sexuality on a wide range of aspects of life in rural Kenya including kinship ritual gender intimate affection and conceptions of aging

What happens to these communities when young men return with such surprising wealth And how do they use it to improve their social standing locally

By answering these questions Ethno-erotic Economies offers a complex look at how intimacy and ethnicity come together to shape the pathways of global and local trade in the postcolonial world
