Counseling Addicted Families Gerald A. Juhnke, W. Bryce Hagedorn, 2013-08-16 Although one person's addiction almost inevitably affects his or her family members a surprising number of treatment models appear to operate under the assumption that an individual's addiction occurs in a vacuum By not paying sufficient attention to preexisting family dynamics whether dysfunctional supportive or somewhere in between counselors run the risk of not fully understanding the roots of an individual's addictions or the obstacles to his recovery as a result counselors may undermine their own treatment efforts both by neglecting any underlying family problems and by failing to capitalize upon a family's potential assistance in an intervention with the addicted individual In Counseling Addicted Families Gerald A. Juhnke and William Bryce Hagedorn address this problem head on Recognizing that even those treatment providers who understand the importance of the familial context of addiction are often stymied by the variety of family treatment theories and their often imperfect fit for cases of addiction Juhnke and Hagedorn provide a truly integrated model for assessment and treatment Based upon the authors combined 23 years of experience in clinical and treatment supervision the Integrated Family Addictions Model consists of six progressive treatment tiers which organize the relevant family treatment theories into a graduated and coherent sequence beginning with the briefest and least costly forms of therapy If one of the lower tiers allows clients to reach their treatment goals the patient and therapist need not waste time and resources following the full continuum If however their needs are still unmet they can progress in a logical fashion to more advanced and intensive forms of therapy The book is divided into three broad topic areas designed to provide counselors and graduate students with essential information both about addictions and about the practical applications of various treatment theories Part One discusses the prevalence of addictions their negative impact upon families and the primary existing addiction treatment models including their limitations and benefits Part Two outlines methods of assessment for individual cases and Part Three presents the Integrated Family Addictions Model in detail Along the way the authors deal with specific interventions for families dealing with violence and dual diagnosis The book concludes with an epilogue on professional training which includes an overview of the major professional addiction and marriage and family counseling organizations and the ways in which they might benefit individual practices and practitioners Substance Abuse Assessment and Diagnosis Gerald A. Juhnke, 2017-09-29 Substance abuse counseling has gone beyond being viewed as optional training instead it is fast becoming an essential part of the education of helping professionals In this book Dr Gerald Juhnke presents an innovative practical model to be used in the assessment and diagnosing of substance abuse and related co morbid disorders Substance Abuse Assessment and Diagnosis includes practical nuts and bolts direction on how to facilitate a thorough multi tiered substance abuse assessment This book uniquely incorporates detailed examples of how to use individual and significant other clinical interviews including the CAGE SUBSTANCE Q etc standardized specialty instruments drug detection types and personality instruments to accomplish this feat This is the only book of its kind that provides practical detail on how to use and score these varied assessment instruments including the newest cornerstone instruments the MMPI 2 the SASSI 3 and the recently released SASSI A2 Students and practitioners alike will benefit from this comprehensive volume on the assessment and diagnosis of substance abuse Counselor's Guide to Clinical Personality, and Behavioral Assessment Bradley T. Erford, 2006 This combined textbook and reference guide identifies the three major types of psychological assessment clinical personality and behavioral and provides a survey of current theory and an expert review of the most commonly used assessment instruments tests in each area The book concludes with three representative case studies that demonstrate the uses of various assessment instruments in practice The text includes reviews of the seventeen most commonly used clinical personality and behavioral testing instruments how to use them and their application to the assessment process Chapter 3 presents a workable framework to help students assimilate the DSM IV TR system Three case studies in Chapter 7 demonstrate how various instruments are used as a battery to gather diagnostic and assessment information Resources in Education, 2001 Maternal Substance Use Assessment Methods

Reference Manual, 1993 Substance Abuse in Adolescents and Young Adults Donald E. Greydanus, Gabriel Kaplan, Dilip R. Patel, Joav Merrick, 2013-10-14 The abuse of drugs and chemicals has become a problematic public health dilemma for the world's population and one that must be dealt with by parents societies clinicians researchers and even countries in the world This book discusses the complex neurobiology that underlies drug addiction and reveals how these illicit chemicals disrupt central nervous system neurotransmission involving such neurotransmitters as serotonin dopamine and others This manual reviews current understanding in drug interactions with neurotransmitter systems neuroimmune signaling current research on reward circuitry and current medications used to treat drug addiction It also discusses related topics such as drug addiction in females co morbid conditions drug addiction in minority populations prenatal drug exposure and others The book covers new drugs of the 21st century and discusses such controversial topics as legalization of drug use It also provides
