She-Merchants, Buccaneers and Gentlewomen Katie Hickman, 2019-05-02 Sharply observed snappily written and thoroughly researched She Merchants provides a fabulous panorama of a largely ignored area of social history. Katie Hickman successfully challenges the stereotype of the snobbish matron like memsahib by deploying a riveting gallery of powerful and often eccentric women ranging from stowaways and runaways through courtesans and society beauties to Generals' feisty wives and Viceroy's waspish sisters. It is full of surprises and new material and completely engaging from beginning to end. William Dalrymple: The first British women to set foot in India did so in the very early seventeenth century two and a half centuries before the Raj. Women made their way to India for exactly the same reasons men did to carve out a better life for themselves. In the early days India was a place where the slates of blotted pedigrees were wiped clean bankrupts given a chance to make good a taste for adventure satisfied for women. They went and worked as milliners bakers dress makers actresses portrait painters maids shop keepers governesses teachers boarding house proprietors midwives nurses missionaries doctors geologists plant collectors writers travellers and most surprising of all traders. As wives courtesans and she merchants these tough adventuring women were every bit as intrepid as their men the buccaneering sea captains and traders in whose wake they followed their voyages to India were extraordinarily daring leaps into the unknown. The history of the British in India has cast a long shadow over these women. Memsahibs once a word of respect is now more likely to be a byword for snobbery and even racism. And it is true prejudice of every kind racial social imperial religious did cloud many aspects of British involvement in India. But was not invariably the case. In this landmark book celebrated chronicler Katie Hickman uncovers stories until now hidden from history here is Charlotte Barry who in 1783 left London a high class courtesan and arrived in India as Mrs William Hickey a married lady. Poll Puff who sold her apple puffs for upwards of thirty years growing grey in the service. Mrs Hudson who in 1617 was refused as a trader in indigo by the East India Company and instead turned a fine penny in cloth. Julia Inglis a survivor of the siege of Lucknow. Amelia Horne who witnessed the death of her entire family during the Cawnpore massacres of 1857 and Flora Annie Steel novelist and a pioneer in the struggle to bring education to purdah women. For some it was painful exile but for many it was exhilarating. Through diaries letters and memoirs many still in manuscript form this exciting book reveals the extraordinary life and times of hundreds of women who made their way across the sea and changed history.
