Vos, 2018-05-22 This volume sets out the state of the art in the discipline of journalism at a time in which the practice and profession of journalism is in serious flux While journalism is still anchored to its history change is infecting the field The profession and the scholars who study it are reconceptualizing what journalism is in a time when journalists no longer monopolize the means for spreading the news Here journalism is explored as a social practice as an institution and as memory The roles epistemologies and ethics of the field are evolving With this in mind the volume revisits classic theories of journalism such as gatekeeping and agenda setting but also opens up new avenues of theorizing by broadening the scope of inquiry into an expanded journalism ecology which now includes citizen journalism documentaries and lifestyle journalism and by tapping the insights of other disciplines such as geography economics and psychology The volume is a go to map of the field for students and scholars highlighting emerging issues enduring themes revitalized theories and fresh conceptualizations of journalism

Markets without Limits Jason F. Brennan, Peter Jaworski, 2022-06-24 May you sell your spare kidney May gay men pay surrogates to bear them children Should we allow betting markets on terrorist attacks and natural disasters May spouses pay each other to do the dishes watch the kids or have sex Should we allow the rich to genetically engineer gifted beautiful children May you ever sell your vote Most people and many philosophers shudder at these questions To put some goods and services for sale offends human dignity If everything is commodified then nothing is sacred The market corrodes our character In this expanded second edition of Markets without Limits Jason Brennan and Peter M Jaworski say it is now past time to give markets a fair hearing The market does not the authors claim introduce wrongness where there was not any previously Thus the question of what rightfully may be bought and sold has a simple answer if you may do it for free you may do it for money Contrary to the conservative consensus Brennan and Jaworski claim there are no inherent limits to what can be bought and sold but only restrictions on how we buy and sell Key Updates and Revisions to the Second Edition Includes revised introductory chapters to further clarify what s at stake in the commodification debate Provides easier to follow chapters on semiotic objections stronger analyses of these objections and more evidence of these objections widespread pervasiveness Offers cogent responses to several recent papers that have raised counterexamples to the authors thesis Includes new empirical evidence on the ways markets sometimes crowd in virtue and altruism Analyzes the topics of blackmail and associative objections to markets Includes new material on issues surrounding exploitation and coercion selling citizenship residency rights and arguments about dignity as objections to markets
