Four Arguments For The Elimination Of Television:

Four Arguments for the Elimination of Television Jerry Mander, 2013-08-13 Persuasive interesting and unusual Kirkus Reviews A total departure from previous writing about television this book is the first ever to advocate that the medium is not reformable Its problems are inherent in the technology itself and are so dangerous to personal health and sanity to the environment and to democratic processes that TV ought to be eliminated forever Weaving personal experiences with meticulous research the author ranges widely over aspects of television that have rarely been examined and never before joined together allowing an entirely new frightening image to emerge The idea that all technologies are neutral benign instruments that can be used well or badly is thrown open to profound doubt Speaking of TV reform is in the words of the author as absurd as speaking of the reform of a technology such as guns Praise for the work of Jerry Mander Lively provocative Publishers Weekly A skilled writer Kirkus Reviews starred review Schafft das Fernsehen ab! Beautiful TV Greg M. Smith, 2009-03-06 During its five year run from 1997 to 2002 the popular TV show Ally McBeal engaged viewers in debates over what it means to be a woman or a man in the modern workplace how romance factors into the therapeutic understanding of relationships what value eccentricity has and how much oddity society should tolerate and what utility fantasy has in the pragmatic world In addition to these social concerns however Ally McBeal stood out for being well constructed narratively complex and stylistically rich in short beautiful TV Starting from the premise that much of television today is drop dead gorgeous and that TV should be studied for its formal qualities as well as its social impact Greg M Smith analyzes Ally McBeal in terms of its aesthetic principles and narrative construction He explores how Ally's innovative use of music special effects fantasy sequences voiceovers and flashbacks structures a distinctive fictional universe while it also opens up new possibilities for televisual expression Smith also discusses the complex narrative strategies that Ally's creator David E Kelley used to develop a long running storyline and shows how these serial narrative practices can help us understand a wide range of prime time TV serials By taking seriously the art and argument of Ally McBeal Beautiful TV conclusively demonstrates that aesthetic and narrative analysis is an indispensable key for unlocking the richness of contemporary television

Beyond the BBC Tim Madge, 1989-09-01 This critical study examines the current state of broadcasting in Britain and attempts to describe the mood of broadcasters in the 1980s and the mood of the audiences they serve A comparison is made between the operation of the UK's oldest and newest public television broadcasting systems

The American Poet at the Movies Laurence Goldstein, 1995 A timely and engaging exploration of cinema's influence on verse a treat for poetry lovers and film buffs alike

Connecting Social Problems and Popular Culture Karen Sternheimer, 2013-02-19 Is violence on the streets caused by violence in video games Does cyber bullying lead to an increase in suicide rates Are teens promiscuous because of Teen Mom As Karen Sternheimer clearly demonstrates popular culture is an easy scapegoat for many of society's problems but it is almost always the wrong answer Now in its second edition Connecting Social Problems and Popular Culture goes beyond the news grabbing headlines claiming that popular culture is public enemy number one to consider what really causes the social problems we are most concerned about The sobering fact is that a media made them do it explanation fails to illuminate the roots of social problems like poverty violence and environmental degradation Sternheimer's analysis deftly illustrates how welfare reform a two tiered health care system and other difficult systemic issues have far more to do with our contemporary social problems than Grand Theft Auto or Facebook The fully revised new edition features recent moral panics think sexting and cyberbullying and an entirely new chapter exploring social media Expanded discussion of how we understand society's problems as social constructions without disregarding empirical evidence as well as the cultural and structural issues underlying those ills allows students to stretch their sociological imaginations

Media Literacy W. James Potter, 2010-05-27 This book offers a critical approach to studying media influences and shows readers how to operate at a higher level of media literacy Focusing not only on media effects the book provides substantial discussion of media content audiences and the media industries It tackles the key issues related to media ownership invasion of privacy piracy of media messages violence and sports Utilizing a skill building model throughout students will finish the book with a clearer perspective on the borders between the real world and the simulated media world and will have become more informed and literate media consumers

Television in Society Arthur Asa Berger,2017-09-29 Is television a cultural wasteland or a medium that has brought people more great art music dance and drama than any previous media How do we study and interpret television What are the effects of television on individuals and society and how do we measure them What is the role of television in our political and economic life Television in Society explores these issues in considering how television both reflects and affects society The book is divided into two sections The first focuses on programming and deals with commercials ceremonial events important series such as MASH and Lou Grant significant programs a production of Brave New World on television and the images of police on the medium The second part of the book deals with important issues and topics related to the medium the impact of television violence values found on television the impact of television on education the significance of new technological developments and the always thorny issue of freedom of the press The articles are drawn together by a brilliant introductory essay by Arthur Asa Berger who examines television as culture

Legitimizing Television Michael Z Newman,Elana Levine,2012-02-27 Legitimizing Television Media Convergence and Cultural Status explores how and why television is gaining a new level of cultural respectability in the 21st century Once looked down upon as a plug in drug offering little redeeming social or artistic value television is now said to be in a creative renaissance with critics hailing the rise of Quality series such as Mad Men and 30

Rock Likewise DVDs and DVRs web video HDTV and mobile devices have shifted the longstanding conception of television as a household appliance toward a new understanding of TV as a sophisticated high tech gadget Newman and Levine argue that television's growing prestige emerges alongside the convergence of media at technological industrial and experiential levels Television is permitted to rise in respectability once it is connected to more highly valued media and audiences Legitimation works by denigrating ordinary television associated with the past distancing the television of the present from the feminized and mass audiences assumed to be inherent to the old TV It is no coincidence that the most validated programming and technologies of the convergence era are associated with a more privileged viewership The legitimation of television articulates the medium with the masculine over the feminine the elite over the mass reinforcing cultural hierarchies that have long perpetuated inequalities of gender and class Legitimizing Television urges readers to move beyond the question of taste whether TV is good or bad and to focus instead on the cultural political and economic issues at stake in television's transformation in the digital age

Children and Television Norma Pecora, John P. Murray, Ellen Ann Wartella, 2009-03-04

This seminal volume is a comprehensive review of the literature on children's television covering fifty years of academic research on children and television The work includes studies of content effects and policy and offers research conducted by social scientists and cultural studies scholars The research questions represented here consider the content of programming children's responses to television regulation concerning children's television policies issues of advertising and concerns about sex and race stereotyping often voicing concerns that children's entertainment be held to a higher standard The volume also offers essays by scholars who have been seeking answers to some of the most critical questions addressed by this research It represents the interdisciplinary nature of research on children and television and draws on many academic traditions including communication studies psychology sociology education economics and medicine The full bibliography is included on CD Arguably the most comprehensive bibliography of research on children and television this work illustrates the ongoing evolution of scholarship in this area and establishes how it informs or changes public policy as well as defining its role in shaping a future agenda The volume will be a required resource for scholars researchers and policy makers concerned with issues of children and television media policy media literacy and education and family studies

Principles and Practices of Christian Education Robert W. Pazmino, 2002-04-29 Principles and Practices of Christian Education shows teachers how they can use two important principles that stand behind all evangelical practices to make their education program stand out from all the others in its nurture of students First evangelical Christian education recognizes the need for conversion personal and corporate transformation that reconnects people to their Creator Second evangelical Christian education strives for connection making contact with people as unique individuals who live in a particular society and who need to know more about scripture In this book Christian education students learn that the work for which they prepare is a partnership with God to transform people Their central task is worship but through it and other activities they lead others to
