Encyclopedia of Business Ethics and

Society Robert W. Kolb,2008 This encyclopedia spans the relationships among business ethics and society with an emphasis on business ethics and the role of business in society Duties Regarding Nature Toby Svoboda,2015-06-26 In this book Toby Svoboda develops and defends a Kantian environmental virtue ethic challenging the widely held view that Kant's moral philosophy has little to offer environmental ethics On the contrary Svoboda contends that on Kantian grounds there is good moral reason to care about non-human organisms in their own right and to value their flourishing independently of human interests since doing so is constitutive of certain environmental virtues Svoboda argues that Kant's account of indirect duties regarding nature can ground a compelling environmental ethic the Kantian duty to develop morally virtuous dispositions strictly proscribes unnecessarily harming organisms and it also gives us moral reason to act in ways that benefit such organisms Svoboda's account engages the recent literature on environmental virtue including Rosalind Hursthouse Philip Cafaro Ronald Sandler Thomas Hill and Louke van Wensveen and provides an original argument for an environmental ethic firmly rooted in Kant's moral philosophy Global Epistemologies and Philosophies of Science David Ludwig,Inkeri Koskinen,Zinhle Mncube,Luana Poliseli,Luis Reyes-Galindo,2021-07-29 In bringing together a global community of philosophers Global Epistemologies and Philosophies of Science develops novel perspectives on epistemology and philosophy of science by demonstrating how frameworks from academic philosophy e.g. standpoint theory social epistemology feminist philosophy of science and related fields e.g. decolonial studies transdisciplinarity global history of science can contribute to critical engagement with global dimensions of knowledge and science Global challenges such as climate change food production and infectious diseases raise complex questions about scientific knowledge production and its interactions with local knowledge systems and social realities As academic philosophy provides relatively little reflection on global negotiations of knowledge many pressing scientific and societal issues remain disconnected from core debates in epistemology and philosophy of science This book is an invitation to broaden agendas of academic philosophy by presenting epistemology and philosophy of science as globally engaged fields that address heterogeneous forms of knowledge production and their interactions with local livelihoods practices and worldviews This integrative ambition makes the book equally relevant for philosophers and interdisciplinary scholars who are concerned with methodological and political challenges at the intersection of science and society African Democracy Jonathan O. Negedu,2023-09-21 There are numerous different democratic systems in Africa from the Igbo institutions that date back to the 15th century to Western style democracy introduced by colonial powers But what does democracy really mean for African nations And what effect does it have on the lives of their people This is the first comprehensive examination of the social and political consequences of democracy in Africa Written from an African philosophical perspective leading and emerging scholars explore the impact of democracy in a continent dealing not only with the perennial issues of leadership failure poverty and corruption but also with contemporary global concerns such as immigration digital media and COVID 19 With a focus first and foremost on the
