Tolerance Discourse and Young Adult Holocaust Literature Rachel Dean-Ruzicka, 2016-11-25 What exactly does one mean when idealizing tolerance as a solution to cultural conflict This book examines a wide range of young adult texts both fiction and memoir representing the experiences of young adults during WWII and the Holocaust Author Rachel Dean Ruzicka argues for a progressive reading of this literature Tolerance Discourse and Young Adult Holocaust Literature contests the modern discourse of tolerance encouraging educators and readers to more deeply engage with difference and identity when studying Holocaust texts Young adult Holocaust literature is an important nexus for examining issues of identity and difference because it directly confronts systems of power privilege and personhood The text delves into the wealth of material available and examines over forty books written for young readers on the Holocaust and in the last chapter neo Nazism The book also looks at representations of non Jewish victims such as the Romani the disabled and homosexuals In addition to critical analysis of the texts each chapter reads the discourses of tolerance and cosmopolitanism against present day cultural contexts ongoing debates regarding multicultural education gay and lesbian rights and neo Nazi activities The book addresses essential questions of tolerance and toleration that have not been otherwise considered in Holocaust studies or cultural studies of children's literature

Writing the Polish American Woman in Postwar Ethnic Fiction Grażyna J. Kozaczka, 2019-02-26 Though often unnoticed by scholars of literature and history Polish American women have for decades been fighting back against the patriarchy they encountered in America and the patriarchy that followed them from Poland Through close readings of several Polish American and Polish Canadian novels and short stories published over the last seven decades Writing the Polish American Woman in Postwar Ethnic Fiction traces the evolution of this struggle and women's efforts to construct gendered and classed ethnicity Focusing predominantly on work by North American born and immigrant authors that represents the Polish American Catholic tradition Grażyna J Kozaczka puts texts in conversation with other American ethnic literatures She positions ethnic gender construction and performance at an intersection of social class race and sex She explores the marginalization of ethnic female characters in terms of migration studies theories of whiteness and the history of feminist discourse Writing the Polish American Woman in Postwar Ethnic Fiction tells the complex story of how Polish American women writers have shown a strong awareness of their oppression and sought empowerment through resistive and transgressive behaviors

Opening Hearts by Opening Minds Connie Wineland, 2007-06-01 This book is for Christian readers of fiction who might experience difficulty trying to make an informed choice beyond what is being published by evangelical presses Marketed to a specific target audience evangelical fiction oftentimes leaves a reader with a strong emotional response but lacks the literary depth or the breadth of subject that could inspire life changing spiritual growth With this premise at the heart of her book Connie Wineland includes her own story of conversion to Christianity by way of reading fiction During her late twenties and early thirties particularly while in graduate school Wineland became immersed in literary and rhetorical studies while also practicing an Eastern form of religion as well as Native American spirituality However despite all her training in literary theory her readings in Romantic Victorian modern and postmodern literature which she explains as well as her personal interest in mythology and world religions kept her questioning the existence of God and the possible nature of God Then as a relatively new convert to Christianity she faced several challenges at a small Christian college where she taught literature and writing courses Eventually wanting to reach beyond the academic community Wineland began a local Christian readers group which she ran for four years She includes in this book resources and materials such as sample syllabi and study guide questions useful Web addresses and plenty of how to information for starting and running your own book club Also included is an extensive list of annotated titles of recommended reading to get anyone started
