Gendered Peace Womens Struggles For Post War Justice And Reconciliation Routledgeunrisd Research In Gender And Development:

Gendered Peace Donna Pankhurst, 2008 This volume contributes to the growing literature on women conflict and peacebuilding by focusing on the moments after a peace accord or some other official ending of a conflict often denoted as a post conflict era or the post war era Such moments often herald great hope for holding to account those who committed grave wrongs during the conflict and for a better life in the future For many women both of these hopes are often very quickly shattered in starkly different ways to the hopes of men Such periods are often characterized by violence and insecurities and the official ending of a war often fails to bring freedom from sexual violence for many women Within such a context efforts on the part of women and those made on their behalf to hold to account those who commit crimes against them and to access their rights are difficult to make and are often dangerous and are also often deployed with little effect Gendered Peace explores international contexts and a variety of local ones in which such struggles take place and evaluates their progress The volume highlights the surprising success in the development of international legal advances for women but contrasts this with the actual experience of women in cases from Sierra Leone Rwanda South Africa Afghanistan Bangladesh East Timor Peru Central America and the Balkans

The Gendered Impacts of Liberalization Shahra Razavi, 2009-01-13 This volume addresses key issues and questions surrounding the debates about globalization and liberalization policies including whether states have the capacity to remedy the social distress unleashed by liberalization and whether the proposed social policy reforms can redress gender based inequalities in access to resources and power

Social Justice and Gender Equality Günseli Berik, Yana van der Meulen Rodgers, Ann Zammit, 2012-10-12 The contributors to this edited volume explore the effects of various development strategies and associated macroeconomic policies on women's well being and progress towards gender equality Detailed analyses of major UN reports on gender reveal the different approaches to assessing absolute and relative progress for women and the need to take into account the specifics of policy regimes when making such assessments The book argues that neoliberal policies especially the liberalization of trade and investment make it difficult to close gender wage and earnings gaps and new gender sensitive policies need to be devised These and other issues are all examined in more detail in several gendered development histories of countries from Latin America and Asia

Global Perspectives on Gender Equality Naila Kabeer, Agneta Stark, Edda Magnus, 2008-01-07 The Nordic countries have long been seen as pioneers in promoting gender equality The book brings together scholars from the global South and post socialist economies to reflect on Nordic approaches to gender equality The contributors to the book seek to explore from a comparative perspective the vision values policies mechanisms coalitions of interests and political processes that help to explain Nordic achievements on gender equality While some contributors explore the Nordic experience through the prism of their own realities others explore their own realities through the Nordic prism By cutting across normal geographical boundaries disciplinary boundaries and the boundaries between theory and policy this book will be of interest to all readers with an interest in furthering gender equality Time Use Studies and Unpaid Care Work Debbie Budlender, 2010-09-13 Across the world unpaid care work unpaid housework care of persons and volunteer work is done predominantly by women This book presents and compares unpaid care work patterns in seven different countries It analyzes data drawn from large scale time use surveys carried out under the auspices of the United Nations Research Institute for Social Development UNRISD With its in depth concentration on time use patterns in developing nations this book will offer many new insights for scholars of gender and care Governing Women Anne Marie Goetz, 2009-01-13 Using case studies from around the world this volume argues that good governance from a gender perspective requires more than just additional women in politics it requires fundamental incentive changes to orient public action and policy to support gender equality Neue Bücher und Aufsätze in der Bibliothek Germany. Bundestag. Bibliothek, 2008

The Peacebuilding Process in Postwar Liberia Alžběta Šváblová, 2021 Who are the most important actors in the peacebuilding process in post war Liberia How do they interact in specific institutions on the ground and what are the factors behind the slow pace of the post war reform process This book designed as a qualitative case study with a strong descriptive component provides answers to these questions It highlights the importance of the domestic political landscape for the ultimate fate of the reforms and the role of influential individuals in the process Its findings indicate that despite a rich critical academic debate the current practice of peacebuilding remains shaped by the neo liberal paradigm and remains rather disconnected from the post conflict realities and individuals on the ground Global Variations in the Political and Social Economy of Care Shahra Razavi, Silke Staab, 2012

Gender and Peacebuilding Maureen P. Flaherty, Thomas G. Matyók, Sean Byrne, Hamdesa Tusso, 2015-10-16 The twenty first century has brought with it a shift from the notion of human security being located in secure national borders to the need to secure the safety freedom and dignity of all Despite efforts to equalize women's status in the world evidenced by changes in many international projects requiring a gender focus women and men experience most of the world in very different ways according to gender Further the reality is that humans who do not all fall neatly into one of these categories male or female often find their lives further challenged In the 1980s Peace and Conflict Studies first began to acknowledge and study the different experiences males and females have during war and peace Since then there have been books about women and war women working at grassroots levels to build peace women and transitional justice women and peace education and women s views of human security All of these works have contributed to the discourse of our changing world This book brings together some of those themes and voices and adds more with the final product being more than the sum of its parts We add to the conversation a book that considers foundational fundamental issues that span from the interpersonal to the global Many of the chapters describe empirical research completed with author and community shared here for the first time Part One is a collection of case studies documenting challenges and responses to peacebuilding by women from various parts of the world Part Two focuses on Peace and Conflict Studies PACS as a discipline examining not only what is but also what should be taught This section critiques today s efforts at teaching Peace and Conflict Studies and provides suggestions of how this important work might be shared in more open and equitable ways Part Three enters territory found even less in the PACS literature In this section our authors confront patriarchy engage in a discussion about the contribution queer theory makes to PACS and tussle with the notion of inclusivity with considerations of both gender and disability It then ends with a discussion about the contribution feminist methodologies make to PACS

Gendered Agency in War and Peace Maria O'Reilly, 2017-11-03 This book examines how gendered agency emerges in peacebuilding contexts It develops a feminist critique of the international peacebuilding interventions through a study of transitional justice policies and practices implemented in Bosnia Herzegovina and local activists responses to official discourses surrounding them Extending Nancy Fraser s tripartite model of justice to peacebuilding contexts the book also advances notions of recognition redistribution and representation as crucial components of gender just peace It argues that recognising women as victims and survivors of conflict achieving a gender equitable distribution of material and symbolic resources and enabling women to participate as agents of transitional justice processes are all essential for transforming the structural inequalities that enable gender violence and discrimination to materialise before during and after conflict This study establishes a new avenue of analysis for understanding responses and resistances to international peacebuilding by offering a sustained engagement with feminist social and political theory

Peacebuilding Elisabeth Porter, 2007-09-18 This volume elucidates some key ideas and practices underlying women s peacebuilding highlighting positive examples of their contribution to peacebuilding in conflict zones and in societies pursuing transitional justice

Gendering Peace Sarah Smith, 2018-09-26 In 1999 after 24 years of violent military occupation by Indonesian forces the small country of Timor Leste became host to one of the largest UN peace operations The operation rested on a liberal paradigm of statehood including nascent ideas on gender in peacebuilding processes This book provides a critical feminist examination of the form and function of a gendered peace in

Timor Leste Drawing on policy documents and field research in Timor Leste with national organisations international agencies and UN staff the book examines gender policy with a feminist lens exploring and developing a more complex account of gender and women in peace operations It argues that gendered ideologies and power delimit the possibilities of building a gender just peace and contributes deep insight into how gendered logics inform peacebuilding processes and specifically how these play out through the implementation of policy that explicitly seeks to reorder gender relations at sites in which peace operations deploy By utilising a single case study the book provides space to examine both international and national discourses and contextualises its analysis of Women Peace and Security within local histories and contexts This book will be of interest to scholars and students of gender studies global governance International Relations and security studies
