Developing Successful Strategic Partnerships With Universities:

Developing Successful Strategic Partnerships with Universities Fiona E. S. Murray, Lars Frølund, Max Riedel, 2017

Collaborations between companies and universities are critical drivers of the innovation economy. These relationships have long been a mainstay of corporate R D from creating the knowledge foundations for the next generation of solutions to serving as an extended workbench to solve short term incremental problems to providing a flow of newly minted talent. As corporations look to open innovation to augment their internal R D efforts many of them are turning to universities to anchor an increasingly broad set of activities especially those grounded in engaging with regional innovation ecosystems such as Silicon Valley Kendall Square in Cambridge Massachusetts and Block 71 in Singapore. Universities are essential stakeholders in innovation communities that also include corporations government entities venture investors and entrepreneurs. In addition to being sources of people and ideas for corporations university collaborations assist corporations in opening up new avenues of engagement with a broader innovation ecosystem. While the aspirations of university industry partnerships can be easily described many companies are finding that establishing and running partnerships effectively can be difficult even when key financial resources and human capital are available. A core reason for the difficulty the authors write is that university culture characterized by high autonomy and distributed governance maps poorly to corporate culture. The authors provide a set of six questions for managers which make up the basis of a form they call the university partnership canvas. They designed a form which is downloadable from the digital version of the article to help corporations assess and develop strategic approaches to their university partnerships. By working through the six questions companies can develop a strategic perspective on what types of partnerships are best suited to their needs. The spectrum goes from what might be seen as an ad hoc approach to a strategic and broader engagement with an innovation ecosystem.

Strategic Industry-University Partnerships Lars Frølund, Max Riedel, 2018-06-08

Strategic Industry University Partnerships Success Factors from Innovative Companies unveils insights of experts from leading companies on managing partnerships with universities. Industry university partnerships have proved vital to innovation and although these partnerships can be challenging careful choices and wise management around five success factors leads to a systematic approach that unlocks value for both parties. University assessments of these partnerships have been widely described but industry perspectives are less well understood. This volume captures observations of leading international corporations without omitting university views. It can serve all partners in alliances as a guide to strengthening their organizations. Unveils insights of experts from BMW DuPont Ferroviaria IBM Novo Nordisk Rolls Royce Schlumberger and Siemens. Presents the key challenges of university industry collaboration and how world leading companies tackle them. Describes the success factors for working with universities such as selecting focus areas university partners and collaboration formats in a systematic way and having the right organizational support and evaluation criteria.

Eddy, 2023-07-03 What are the characteristics and conditions that lead to successful educational partnerships What can we learn from partnerships that fail cannot be sustained over time or cease to benefit their partners This book serves as a guide to the successful implementation of partnerships It provides the context and tools for readers who are responding to the increasing demands of policy makers funders and institutional leaders to use partnerships to address local state and federal issues achieve external mandates meet public or internal agendas or pursue international collaborations This guide provides an evidence based framework for institutional and organizational leaders to develop the vision shared values and norms to achieve the partnership capital that will sustain an enduring relationship It offers a three phase model of the development process of collaboration together with a tool box for those charged with partnering and leading organizational change and includes a template for both creating new partnerships and sustaining existing ones The authors start by differentiating between traditional often ad hoc partnerships and strategic partnerships that align organizational strategy with partnership actions and by identifying the importance of moving beyond incremental or surface first order change to develop deep second order change through which underlying structures and operations are questioned and new processes emerge due to the partnership They offer analyses and understandings of seven key components for success exploring motivations developing partner relationships communicating and framing purpose creating collaborative structures and resources leading various partnership stages generating partnership capital and implementing strategies for sustaining partnerships Each chapter concludes with a case study to provide more understanding of the ideas presented and for use in training or classes This guide is addressed to policy makers and educational leaders college administrators and their non profit and business partners to enable them to lead and create strategic partnerships and facilitate organizational change Partnerships for Leadership Preparation and Development Frances K. Kochan, Ellen H. Reames, Dana M. Griggs, 2021-01-01 There is a large body of research that supports the reality that school leaders make a significant contribution to the success of schools and the students in them Additionally there is strong agreement among and between researchers and state and national educational leadership associations that educational leadership preparation and development should be created and implemented within university school partnerships Although institutions engage in forming university school partnerships for varied reasons research on the extent to which these partnerships exist their organizational structures and processes their implementation and effectiveness and elements that foster and hinder their success is limited Perhaps more importantly there is not a widely accepted research based model of such partnerships that practitioners and researchers can use to guide the development and assessment of these partnership endeavors and upon which they can conduct effective research This book seeks to fill these gaps It presents the purposes processes practices and outcomes of eleven university school partnerships focused on school leadership preparation and or development Each chapter presents an overview of the partnership elements that fostered and hindered partnership success and lessons learned The book concludes with a chapter that summarizes findings across all chapters and presents a school university partnership model that can be used by those interested in forming improving or researching similar partnership endeavors There are no similar resources available in the field Thus this book makes an important contribution to the literature and to the world of practice and research Praise for Partnerships for Leadership Preparation and Development Facilitators Barriers and Models for Change Kochan Reames and Griggs bring together the latest research and eleven case examples of university practice partnerships for school leadership preparation and development The volume provides keen insights into practices that can make or break an effective partnership making it a valuable resource for those seeking to develop new partnerships to enhance existing ones and to engage in research on this topic For those in the throes of redesign or leadership program improvement it is an essential read Michelle D Young Professor and Dean Loyola Marymount University UCEA Executive Director Emeritus Partnerships for Leadership Preparation and Development is destined to become an indispensable go to resource for educators who are contemplating or already engaged in school university partnerships Rich details are provided about a variety of partnerships operating for aspiring and practicing schools administrators with special attention to preparing and developing underserved populations for educational leadership roles The book not only captures the realities of these collaborative efforts but also provides a roadmap for anticipating the important relational organizational and operational processes required for partnership success Bruce Barnett Professor Educational Leadership and Policy Studies University of Texas at San Antonio
