This trend continues despite significant legal obligations, notably the European regulatory regime giving effect to the Machinery Directive among others, and a substantial body of specialist knowledge originating in the disciplines of human factors and safety engineering. Grounded in empirical research with machinery manufacturers, this book aims to elucidate the factors and processes shaping firms' performance for machinery safety and considers their compatibility with legal obligations. Through a unique blending of rich empirical data coupled with safety, human factors, socio-legal, and learning scholarship, the book provides both a nuanced account of firms' performance for machinery safety and makes conceptual and theoretical contributions to understanding and explaining their performance. Specifically, the book elucidates the role of knowledge and motivational factors and how these are constituted in shaping firms' performance. It reveals the multiple state and non-state influences that create plural responses among manufacturing firms which typically operate in supply chains and networks and often globally. These insights provide the foundations to enhance regulatory design, and the book's conclusion recommends some innovative directions for regulatory interventions to sustain the safe design and construction of machinery. Books in Series, 1985 Vols for 1980 issued in three parts. Series Authors and Titles Materials Performance, 1999-07 Advances in Ergonomics in Design Francisco Rebelo, Marcelo M. Soares, 2019-06-03 This book provides readers with a timely snapshot of ergonomics research and methods applied to the design, development, and prototyping, as well as the evaluation, training, and manufacturing of products, systems, and services. Combining theoretical contributions, case studies, and reports on technical interventions, it covers a wide range of topics in ergonomic design, including ecological design, cultural and ethical aspects in design, interface design, user involvement, and human-computer interaction in design, as well as design for accessibility and many others. The book particularly focuses on new technologies such as virtual reality, state-of-the-art methodologies in information design, and human-computer interfaces. Based on the AHFE 2019 International Conference on Ergonomics in Design held on July 24-28, 2019, Washington D.C., USA, the book offers a timely guide for both researchers and design practitioners, including industrial
