Disabled Village Children By David Werner :

Disabled Village Children David Werner, 1987 A book of information and ideas for all who are concerned about the well being of disabled children It is especially for those who live in rural areas where resources are limited Written by the author with the help of disabled persons and pioneers in rehabilitation in many countries this book gives a wealth of clear simple but detailed information concerning most common disabilities of children many different physical disabilities blindness deafness fits behavior problems and developmental delay It gives suggestions for simplified rehabilitation low cost aids and ways to help disabled children find a role and be accepted in the community Above all the book helps us to realize that most of the answers for meeting these children s needs can be found within the community the family and in the children themselves It discusses ways of starting small community rehabilitation centers and workshops run by disabled persons or the families of disabled children Back cover

Handbook of Disability Studies Gary L. Albrecht, Katherine D. Seelman, Michael Bury, 2001 This path breaking international handbook of disability studies signals the emergence of a vital new area of scholarship social policy and activism Drawing on the insights of disability scholars around the world and the creative advice of an international editorial board the book engages the reader in the critical issues and debates framing disability studies and places them in an historical and cultural context Five years in the making this one volume summarizes the ongoing discourse ranging across continents and traditional academic disciplines To provide insight and perspective the volume is divided into three sections The shaping of disability studies as a field experiencing disability and disability in context Each section written by world class figures consists of original chapters designed to map the field and explore the key conceptual theoretical methodological practice and policy issues that constitute the field Each chapter provides a critical review of an area positions and literature and an agenda for future research and practice The handbook answers the need expressed by the disability community for a thought provoking interdisciplinary international examination of the vibrant field of disability studies The book will be of interest to disabled people scholars policy makers and activists alike The book aims to define the existing field stimulate future debate encourage respectful discourse between different interest groups and move the field a step forward

Disability and Rehabilitation in Rural Jamaica Ronnie Linda Leavitt, 1992 Although negative conditions exist it appears that disabled children are not particularly stigmatized at the household level Nevertheless societal stigmatization and apathy do exist As a result disabled children are not being prepared to fully integrate into Jamaican society 2 There is a range of variation of beliefs and behaviors with regard to disability and rehabilitation The concept of intracultural diversity is supported 3 This population has adapted their cultural belief systems and actual behaviors to match their material realities That is it would appear that people who have a disability and their caretakers have demonstrated contextual accommodation 4 Community based rehabilitation programs based on the primary health care and community participation principles enumerated by the WHO are theoretically sound and practically attainable in Jamaica

A Matter of Dignity Andrew Potok,2008-12-10 From A Matter of Dignity I realized that I needed to learn about the legislative and legal aspects of disability as much as I did about our feelings regarding wholeness beauty and ugliness about the state called normalcy about liberating technologies and therapies about the role of the disabled in history and literature And what could better inform and enlighten me than contact with people who help create access who elicit change via care support teaching and study as their life s work As it turned out I have learned from them that in spite of the American addiction to youthfulness normalcy virility activity and physical beauty diversity in all its forms provides not only fascination but strength Diversity tends toward higher forms uniformity toward dullness and extinction What could make more sense than to value all that is diverse unexpected and exuberantly impure

Disability, Liberation, and Development Peter Coleridge,1993-01-01 Disabled people are marginalized in every country of the world both North and South By probing these prejudices and studying cases where they have been overcome this book provides an insight into the processes of liberation and empowerment

Empowering Children Ravi Jayakaran,2025-06-25 Helping Children Serve as Agents of Change Children s voices are often overlooked in development efforts yet their insights are vital for shaping their futures In Empowering Children Dr Ravi Jayakaran presents a practical framework for child participation drawing from decades of fieldwork Through real world case studies engaging exercises and step by step methods this book equips leaders to involve children in community development Discussions on self esteem problem analysis and child protection empower children to recognize their worth and serve as agents of change Written for field practitioners this book offers actionable strategies to engage young people particularly the marginalized in meaningful development efforts From a Christian perspective it affirms that every child is created in God s image with dignity and a role in his mission Empowering Children helps leaders create environments where children are heard valued and empowered to contribute to lasting transformation

Where There is No Psychiatrist Vikram Patel,2003 Even though mental illnesses are common and cause great suffering in every part of the world many health workers have a limited understanding about mental health and are less comfortable dealing with mental illness This book is a practical manual for mental health care for the community health worker the primary care nurse the social worker and the primary care doctor particularly in developing countries After giving the reader a basic understanding of mental illness the book goes on to describe more than 30 clinical problems associated with mental illness and uses a problem solving approach to guide the reader through their assessment and management Mental health issues as they arise in specific health care contexts are described for example in a refugee camp a school health programme or with people suffering from AIDS as well as in mental health promotion The final section combines quick reference information for common problems and it also includes chapters for the reader to personalise the manual for a particular location for example by entering local information on voluntary agencies the names and costs of medicines and words in the local language for emotional symptoms Resources in Education ,1988 Gandhian Model of Development and World Peace R. P. Misra,1989 Inclusive Education in Low-Income Countries McConkey, Roy,2014-04-03 The history of people with disabilities has been dominated by their isolation and exclusion The long fight towards inclusion and inclusive education in particular started not many years ago Most were powerless to control their own destiny Their participation in society has been the object of others actions In many countries their disability policies have a substantial element of protection and charity but not the right to equalisation of opportunities This book highlights the process of change that is underway internationally The equalisation of opportunities requires new processes through which the various systems of society such as health services and education are delivered It means the right for people with disabilities to remain in their communities and to receive the schooling and social supports they need within the ordinary structures available in local communities Strong advocacy is needed for this to happen In particular parents need to be empowered communities mobilised and professionals trained in new ways of working hence this book Drawing on experiences in Africa the book describes the issues to be considered when it comes to implementing inclusive strategies the processes to be followed and the roles of different sectors such as people with disabilities parents policy makers educationalists health and community development professionals and crucially society at large Neuropsychotherapy and Community Integration Tedd Judd,2012-12-06 The first time I walked onto a neurology ward during my graduate training I was shocked much as family members of people with brain illnesses probably are I had learned a great deal in class about aphasia amnesia agnosia apraxia and other cognitive disorders but I had not been prepared for the behavioral disorders I was to encounter for the severe physical disabilities for the indignities of the patient role Bit by bit I overcame this shock I learned to look people in the eye who seemed to have more tubes than the New York subway system people whose faces had been scraped off the pavement and who were drooling incontinent and severely dysarthric I learned to see beyond what frightened and repulsed me to the human beings within I wish I could say that I saw in each person a deep human soul yearning to breathe free and to love an essence an intrinsic goodness a wholeness I did not Rather it seems like each and every unique element of human behavior one s abilities and one s desires can be destroyed by some brain lesion while leaving a uniquely human person behind Not only are there losses but behaviors emerge at times that are not seen in people with intact brains but which still reveal a human attempting to cope I do feel that I saw and still see in each such person something intrinsically human but not the same thing in each      Global Infections and Child Health, An Issue of Pediatric Clinics of North America James P. Nataro, 2017-08-01 Children in developing countries continue to be susceptible to infectious and non infectious disorders that lead to growth retardation cognitive impairment and high infant and childhood mortality Clinical epidemiologic and pathogenetic studies are providing opportunities to intervene against these disorders as never before In this issue international experts in child health offer their perspectives on the problems of greatest import to the health of children growing up in impoverished environments Opportunities for research and intervention are particularly emphasized Articles are specifically devoted to the following topics Child Health and Survival in a Changing World Childhood Nutrition and Growth Children with Disabilities in the Developing Nations The Burden of Enteropathy and Subclinical Infections Malaria in Children The Unholy Trinity Nematode Infections in Developing Countries The Burden and Etiology of Diarrheal Illness in Developing Countries Intestinal Protozoal Infections Pneumonia and Respiratory Infections Primary Bacteremia and Meningitis in Developing Countries Neonatal and Perinatal Infections HIV in Developing Countries and Tuberculosis in Children
