Postcolonial Criticism History Theory And The Work Of Fiction:

Postcolonial Criticism Nicholas Harrison, 2003-04-11 In the field of postcolonial studies the full richness and complexity of the connections between literature history and ideology are often overlooked by critics hurrying to stake out their political positions As a result many arguments are built on unjustified assumptions about the sort of work that literature and criticism can and cannot do In this important and timely book Harrison sheds new light on what is actually at issue in postcolonial criticism Focusing on a series of major works from Conrad's Heart of Darkness to Djébar's autobiography via Camus's The Outsider and Fanon's polemics the book draws on and elucidates a wide range of theoretical and critical work To students unfamiliar with postcolonial criticism it offers a way into the field via key issues and specific examples rather than abstract theoretical summary while for those already working in the area it raises crucial questions about the very basis of postcolonial critical practice Postcolonial Criticism is a major intervention in the field of postcolonial studies which re-examines critical suppositions about reading and representation and which calls into question established notions about the relations between literature and colonialism

An Introduction to Literature, Criticism and Theory Andrew Bennett, Nicholas Royle, 2014-07-10 Fresh original and compelling An Introduction to Literature Criticism and Theory is the essential guide to literary studies Starting at the beginning and concluding with the end the book covers topics that range from the familiar character narrative the author to the more unusual secrets pleasure ghosts Eschewing abstract isms Bennett and Royle successfully illuminate complex ideas by engaging directly with literary works so that a reading of Jane Eyre opens up ways of thinking about racial difference whilst Chaucer Raymond Chandler and Monty Python are all invoked in a discussion of literary laughter Each chapter ends with a narrative guide to further reading and the book also includes a glossary and bibliography The fourth edition has been revised to incorporate two timely new chapters on animals and the environment A breath of fresh air in a field that can often seem dry and dauntingly theoretical this book will open the reader's eyes to the exhilarating possibilities of both reading and studying literature

Postcolonial Studies and the Literary E. Sorensen, 2010-04-21 Critics have argued that the field of postcolonial studies has become melancholic due to its institutionalization in recent years This book identifies some limits of postcolonial studies and suggests ways of coming to terms with this issue via a renewed engagement with the literary dimension in the postcolonial text

The Oxford Handbook of Postcolonial Studies Graham Huggan, 2013-09-12 The Oxford Handbook of Postcolonial Studies provides a comprehensive overview of the latest scholarship in postcolonial studies while also considering possible future developments in the field Original chapters written by a worldwide team of contributors are organised into five cross-referenced sections The Imperial Past The Colonial Present Theory and Practice Across the Disciplines and Across the World The chapters offer both country-specific and comparative approaches to current issues offering a wide range of new and interesting perspectives The Handbook reflects the increasingly multidisciplinary nature of postcolonial studies and reiterates its continuing relevance to the study of both the colonial past in its multiple manifestations and the contemporary globalized world Taken together these essays the dialogues they pursue and the editorial comments that surround them constitute nothing less than a blueprint for the future of a much contested but intellectually vibrant and politically engaged field

The Short Story after Apartheid Graham K. Riach, 2023-10-15 Honourable Mention in the 2023 British Association for Contemporary Literary Studies Monograph Prize The Short Story after Apartheid offers the first major study of the anglophone short story in South Africa since apartheid's end By focusing on the short story this book complicates models of South African literature dominated by the novel and contributes to a much needed generic and formalist turn in postcolonial studies Literary texts are sites of productive struggle between formal and extra formal concerns and these brief fragmentary elliptical formally innovative stories offer perspectives that reframe or revise important concerns of post apartheid literature the aesthetics of engaged writing the politics of the past class and race the legacies of violence and the struggle over the land Through an analysis of key texts from the period by Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavi Zo Wicomb Phaswane Mpe and Henrietta Rose Innes this book assesses the place of the short story in post apartheid writing and develops a fuller model of how artworks allow and disallow forms of social thought

A Postcolonial Commentary on the New Testament Writings Fernando F. Segovia, R. S. Sugirtharajah, 2009-10-10 A comprehensive analysis of the New Testament from the perspective of postcolonial criticism this title enables readers to relate biblical texts more sharply to the perennial geopolitical issues of imperialism and colonialism

Postcolonial Poetics Patrick Crowley, Jane Hiddleston, 2011-01-01 Responding to calls to focus on postcolonial literature's literary qualities instead of merely its political content this volume investigates the idiosyncrasies of postcolonial poetics However rather than privileging the literary at the expense of the political the essays collected here analyze how texts use genre and form to offer multiple and distinct ways of responding to political and historical questions By probing how different kinds of literary writing can blur with other discourses the contributors offer key insights into postcolonial literature's power to imagine alternative identities and societies

Assia Djebar Jane Hiddleston, 2006-10-01 For more than fifty years Assia Djebar former Silver Chair of French at New York University and winner of the Neustadt Prize for Contribution to World Literature used the tools of poetry fiction drama and film to vividly portray the world of Muslim women in all its complexity In the process she became one of the most important figures in North African literature In Assia Djebar Jane Hiddleston traces Djebar's development as a writer against the backdrop of North Africa's tumultuous history Whereas Djebar's early writings were largely an attempt to delineate clearly the experience of being a woman an intellectual and an Algerian embedded in that often violent history she had in her more recent work evinced a growing sense that the influence of French culture on Algerian letters may make such a project impossible The first book length study of this significant writer Assia Djebar will be of tremendous interest to anyone studying post colonial literature women's studies or Francophone culture in general

Beginning postcolonialism John

McLeod,2013-01-18 Postcolonialism has become one of the most exciting popular and stimulating fields of literary and cultural studies in recent years Yet the variety of approaches the range of debate and the critical vocabularies often used may make it challenging for new students to establish a firm foothold in this area Beginning Postcolonialism is a vital resource for those taking undergraduate courses in postcolonial studies for the first time and has become an established international best seller in the field In this fully revised and updated second edition John McLeod introduces the major areas of concern in a clear accessible and organised fashion He provides an overview of the emergence of postcolonialism as a discipline and closely examines its many established critical approaches while also exploring important recent initiatives in the field In particular Beginning Postcolonialism demonstrates how many key postcolonial ideas and concepts can be effectively applied when reading texts and enables students to develop their own independent thinking about the possibilities and pitfalls of postcolonial critique

Rethinking Postcolonialism A. Acheraïou,2015-12-04 Acheraïou challenges postcolonial discourse analysis and proposes a new model of interpretation that resituates the historical ideological and conceptual denseness of the Colonial idea He questions key issues including hybridity Otherness and territoriality and expands the postcolonial field by introducing ground breaking theoretical concepts

Translingual Francophonie and the Limits of Translation Ioanna Chatzidimitriou,2020-09-02 Translingual Francophonie and the Limits of Translation proposes a novel theoretical lens for the study of translation as theme and practice in works by four translingual francophone authors Vassilis Alexakis Chahdortt Djavann Nancy Huston and Andre Makine In particular it argues that translation allows for the most productive encounter with otherness when it is practiced in its estuarine dimension When two foreign bodies of water come into contact in an estuary often a new environment is created at their shared border that does not however invalidate the distinctiveness chemical biological geological etc of either fresh or sea water Similarly texts translated from one language to another should ideally not transform into but rather relate to their new host s linguistic and cultural codes in ways that account both for their undiluted strangeness and the missteps gaps and discontinuities the challenging yet novel and productive articulations of relationality that proliferate at the border of the encounter

Heart of Darkness (Fifth International Student Edition) (Norton Critical Editions) Joseph Conrad,2016-08-29 This is the best Norton Critical Edition yet All my students have become intensely interested in reading Conrad largely because of this excellent work Elise F Knapp Western Connecticut State University This Norton Critical Edition includes A newly edited text based on the first English book edition 1902 the last version to which Conrad is known to have actively contributed Textual History and Editing Principles provides an overview of the textual controversies and ambiguities perpetually surrounding Heart of Darkness Background and source materials on colonialism and the Congo nineteenth century attitudes toward race Conrad in the Congo and Conrad on art and literature Fifteen illustrations Seven contemporary responses to the novella along with eighteen essays in criticism ten of them new to the Fifth Edition including an entirely new subsection on film adaptations of

Heart of Darkness A Chronology and an updated Selected Bibliography World Writing Mary Gallagher, 2008-08-16 Much has been said about the relationship between globalization and culture and the political implications of that relationship. There has been little effort made however to investigate the effect of globalization on poetics or on the ethical moment of literature. World Writing is therefore concerned with studying the intersection of contemporary ethics, poetics and globalization through historical and critical readings of writing from various parts of the world. Following an introductory chapter by Mary Gallagher which maps this conceptual terrain, the contributors investigate how globalization inflects the necessary relationship between poetics, culture, ethics and politics. Among the essays are Celia Britton's reading of Édouard Glissant on languages in the globalized world; Mary Gallagher's comparison of Glissant's poetics of cultural diversity with the ethics of Emmanuel Levinas; David Palumbo Liu's exploration of the ethics of postcolonial fiction in J. M. Coetzee's work; Mary Louise Pratt's critique based on recent Latin American writing of the prematurely celebratory nature of globalization; and Julia Kristeva's argument for the value of poetics and the ethics of hospitality. What emerges is an intricate discussion of the elusive relationship between the realms of ethics, poetics and politics as they intersect in our changing world. Handbook of Pragmatics Jan-Ola Östman, Jef Verschueren, 2022-04-15 This encyclopaedia of one of the major fields of language studies is a continuously updated source of state of the art information for anyone interested in language use. The IPrA Handbook of Pragmatics provides easy access for scholars with widely divergent backgrounds but with convergent interests in the use and functioning of language to the different topics, traditions and methods which together make up the field of pragmatics, broadly conceived as the cognitive, social and cultural study of language and communication, i.e. the science of language use. The Handbook of Pragmatics is a unique reference work for researchers which has been expanded and updated continuously with annual installments since 1995. Also available as Online Resource: <https://benjamins.com/online/hop> Against Autobiography Lia Nicole Brozgal, 2018-08-01 The work of Tunisian Jewish intellectual Albert Memmi, like that of many francophone Maghrebian writers, is often read as thinly veiled autobiography. Questioning the prevailing body of criticism which continues this interpretation of most fiction produced by francophone North African writers, Lia Nicole Brozgal shows how such interpretations of Memmi's texts obscure their not inconsiderable theoretical possibilities. Calling attention to the ambiguous status of autobiographical discursive and textual elements in Memmi's work, Brozgal shifts the focus from the author to theoretical questions. Against Autobiography places Memmi's writing and thought in dialogue with several major critical shifts in the late twentieth-century literary and cultural landscape. These shifts include the crisis of the authorial subject, the interrogation of the form of the novel, the resistance to the hegemony of vision and the critique of colonialism. Showing how Memmi's novels and essays produce theories that resonate both within and beyond their original contexts, Brozgal argues for allowing works of francophone Maghrebi literature to be read as complex literary objects that is not simply as ethnographic curios but as generating elements of literary theory on their own terms. Jane Hiddlestone,2017-12-02 During recent years critics have increasingly expressed their loss of faith in existing cultural and political collective frameworks drawing attention instead to irreducible singularity and to radical incommensurability between diverse positions or groups Hiddleston analyses and challenges this trend bringing together political theoretical and literary analysis and juxtaposing the works of critical theorists such as Derrida Lyotard and Nancy with literature by writers of North African immigrant origin She presents a critique of those writers who underline the absence of communal identification proposes a new emphasis on relational networks interconnecting diverse cultural groups and argues for a more subtle understanding of the complex interplay of the singular and the collective in contemporary French writing The Routledge Companion To Postcolonial Studies John McLeod,2007-10-09 With an A Z of the key writers and thinkers central to contemporary postcolonial study and featuring historical maps and full cross referencing throughout this is a comprehensive introduction to the history of the great European empires and the cultural legacies they left in their wake Michael Ondaatje: Haptic Aesthetics and Micropolitical Writing Milena Marinkova,2011-07-14 This study of selected literary and cinematic works by Michael Ondaatje investigates the political potential of the Canadian author s aesthetics Contributing to current debates about affect and representation ideology critique and the artwork trauma and testimony this book uses the concept of the haptic to demonstrate how Ondaatje s multisensory fluid and historically inflected writing can forge an enabling relationship between audience author and text This is where Ondaatje s micropolitics often misconstrued as ideologically suspect aestheticism emerges a praxis that intimates how one can write and read politically with a difference

Maryse Conde and the Space of Literature Eva Sansavior,2017-12-02 The Guadeloupean writer and critic Maryse Conde has for the last twenty five years divided her time between her native Guadeloupe and the United States If the author s work has attracted much critical attention in the United States it is the fictional works that have been the focus of this attention with these predominantly read in the light of political themes such as identity and resistance In these intelligent and sensitive readings Eva Sansavior argues in favour of adopting a broader thematic and generic approach to the author s work Sansavior accounts for the multiple and oblique uses of literature in the Conde s literary and critical work tracking its complex interactions with tradition reception politics and autobiography and also the singular possibilities that these interactions present for re imagining the ideas of politics literature identity and ultimately the nature of critical practice itself

Avant-garde Orientalism David LeHardy Sweet,2017-01-20 This study explores the work of Western avant garde writers who traveled to and wrote about Asia and North Africa Though exoticist in outlook many of these writers were also anti colonialist and thus avoided some of the pitfalls of academic orientalism by assuming an aesthetics of diversity while employing strategies of provocation and reciprocity As a survey of works on travel including essays novels poems and plays the book challenges or modifies many postcolonial assumptions about Western writers on the Orient from the French Surrealists to the American Beats and even transnational authors of the new millennium Through a synthesis of avant garde postcolonial and travel literature theories Avant garde Orientalism works in the best tradition of comparative literary study to identify and analyze a distinct category of world literature
