Discussion Notes on Alice Walker's Possessing the Secret of Joy Adele Murdolo, 1995 Alice Walker's Womanist Fiction Iman Hami, 2023-04-26 A theory formulated by Alice Walker womanism focuses on the unification of men and women with Nature and Earth This book explores womanism with regards to its specific concerns with African American women's rights identities and self actualisation and points towards its more overarching concerns with human relations and sexual freedom as expressed in each of Walker's seven novels. Although Walker introduced the term womanism in 1983, this book traces the development of the concept across her canon of fictional works. By analysing the novels written in the 1970s, this book establishes how the term came to be coined and demonstrates how womanism went on to be further developed and complexly wrought throughout Walker's literary career.

Woman, who owns you-? Sathupati Prasanna Sree, 2008. Papers presented at the International Seminar on Psycho Dynamics of Women in the Postmodern Literature of the East and West held at Visakhapatnam during 25-26 February 2006.

Reading and Interpreting the Works of Alice Walker Lisa A. Crayton, 2016-12-15. Growing up poor in a small town in Georgia, Alice Walker became aware of the effects of prejudice and segregation at a young age. She would later call on these early experiences when writing her most famous novel, The Color Purple. But the themes of Walker's prose and poetry extend far beyond race, including women's issues, religion, relationships, and culture. This text explores the many themes of her work as well as her use of characterization, literary devices, and plot. Through biographical information, quotes from the author, excerpts from texts, and critical analysis, readers will obtain a strong appreciation for the life and works of this controversial and esteemed author.

Pleasure Erased Catherine Malabou, 2022-06-24. The clitoris was absent in anatomy books, in paintings, and in sculptures, absent in spirit and even in the body. It has long been the organ of erased pleasure. We assume that this oversight has been repaired in our times; today the clitoris is not forgotten but honoured. Conferences, books, manifestos, works of art are all devoted to it. The autonomy of clitoral jouissance is recognized. The boundaries of feminism have also moved: queer, intersex, and trans approaches claim that the clitoris is perhaps no longer the exclusive preserve of the woman. And yet there remains a wounded space. Because genital mutilation is still common practice, because millions of women are still denied pleasure, the clitoris continues to mark the enigmatic space of the feminine. Constrained by the extreme difficulty and the extreme urgency of returning to this scorched earth, it is time to give voice to an organ of pleasure which has still not become an organ of thought.

African Identities Kadiatu Kanneh, 2002-01-04. This fascinating and well-researched study explores the meaning generated by Africa and Blackness throughout the century. Using literary texts, autobiography, ethnography, and historical documents, African Identities discusses how ideas of Africa as an origin, as a cultural whole, or as a complicated political problematic emerge as signifiers for analysis of modernity, nationhood, and racial difference. Kanneh provides detailed readings of a range of literary texts, including novels by Toni Morrison, Alice Walker, Gloria Naylor, Ngugi Wa Thiong'o, Chinua Achebe, and V.S. Naipaul. For anyone interested in literature, history, anthropology, political writing, feminist or cultural analysis, this book opens up new areas of thought across disciplines.

Sexuality Veronique Mottier, 2008-04-24. What shapes our sexuality? Is it a product of our genes or of society, culture, and politics? How have concepts of sexuality and sexual norms changed over time? How have feminist theories, religion, and HIV/AIDS affected our attitudes to sex? Focusing on the social, political, and psychological aspects of sexuality, this Very Short Introduction examines these questions and many more, exploring what shapes our sexuality and how our attitudes to sex have in turn shaped the wider world Revealing how our assumptions about what is normal in sexuality have in reality varied widely across time and place this book tackles the major topics and controversies that still confront us when issues of sex and sexuality are discussed from sex education HIV AIDS and eugenics to religious doctrine gay rights and feminism ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

Female Circumcision and the Politics of Knowledge Obioma Nnaemeka, 2005-07-30 Heated debates about and insurgencies against female circumcision are symptoms of a disease emanating from a mindset that produced hierarchies of humans conquered colonies and built empires The loss of colonies and empires does not in any way mitigate the ideological underpinnings of empire building and the knowledge construction that subtends it The mindset finds its articulation at points of coalescence Female circumcision provided a point of coalescence and impetus for this articulation Insisting that the hierarchy on which the imperialist project rests is not bipolar but multi layered and more complex the contributions in this volume demonstrate how imperialist discourses complicate issues of gender race and history Nnaemeka gives voice to the silenced and marginalized and creates space for them to participate in knowledge construction and theory making The authors in this volume trace the travels of imperial and colonial discourses from antecedents in anthropology travel writings and missionary discourse to modern configurations in films literature and popular culture The contributors interrogate foreign or Western modus operandi and interventions in the so called Third World and show how the resistance they generate can impede development work and undermine the true collaboration and partnership necessary to promote a transnational feminist agenda With great clarity and in simple accessible language the contributors present complex ideas and arguments which hold significant implications for transnational feminism and development A Career and Life

Studying postcolonial literatures in English can and indeed should make a human rights activist of the reader there is after all any amount of evidence to show the injustices and inhumanity thrown up by processes of decolonization and the struggle with past legacies and present corruptions Yet the human rights aspect of postcolonial literary studies has been somewhat marginalized by scholars preoccupied with more fashionable questions of theory The present collection seeks to redress this neglect whereby the definition of human rights adopted is intentionally broad The volume reflects the human rights situation in many countries from Mauritius to New Zealand from the Cameroon to Canada It includes a focus on the Malawian writer Jack Mapanje The contributors concerns embrace topics as varied as denotified tribes in India female genital mutilation in Africa native residential schools in Canada political violence in Northern Ireland the South African Truth and Reconciliation

Commission and the discourse of the Treaty of Waitangi The editors hope that the very variety of responses to the invitation to reflect on questions of Literature and Human Rights will both stimulate further discussion and prompt action Contributors are Edward O Ako Hilarious N Ambe Ken Arvidson Jogamaya Bayer Maggie Ann Bowers Chandra Chatterjee Lindsey Collen G N Devy James Gibbs J U Jacobs Karen King Aribisala Sindiwe Magona Lee Maracle Stuart Marlow Don Mattera Wumi Raji Lesego Rampolokeng Dieter Riemenschneider Ahmed Saleh Jamie S Scott Mark Shackleton Johannes A Smit Peter O Stummer Robert Sullivan Rajiva Wijesinha Chantal Zabus
