Conflict Resolution and Status Céline Francis, 2011 The dispute between Georgia and Abkhazia is not a conflict of equals In international conflicts adversaries may differ de facto on the ground in terms of population territory and capability among other things As internationally recognized states however they have equal de jure status and fears that inviting the other side to the negotiating table might be construed as recognition for example rarely intrude The question of status does pose problems however when a conflict is being fought between a recognized state and an unrecognized entity and these problems may contribute to increase the intractability of such conflicts This study explores how and to what extent the difference in status between a sovereign state and an unrecognized entity hinders conflict resolution activities Based on intensive fieldwork and unedited negotiation material the book provides an in depth analysis of the negotiations informal dialogues and grassroots activities that took place in Abkhazia and Georgia between 1989 and 2008 Beginning to End Marcia Hebert, 2020-12-08 Beginning to End is the book I needed when I accepted the Director position of my first child care center I could have used a roadmap to navigate the ins and outs of being a leader and of building an education organization at the same time I could have used a book that was clearly written with details and specifics guidelines and know how to help me create a vision for this new program to build my team to add the parent component to set the stage for the children to design environments and program for them to create and fit the many parts of the organization together to make changes when they were needed to think strategically and execute those plans to close the center if that decision was made This is that book And it is my story inspired by the largest child care center that I opened during my career I served as Director there for twenty years and ultimately closed the door I experienced first hand the entire life cycle of a child care center and I have a unique perspective to share what I have learned What I bring to this book is a wealth of hands on real life experience and expertise humor and common sense I know the life of the education business director I have lived it I know the joys and satisfactions I know the problems and pitfalls and the solutions and strategies to avoid them I've learned a lot because I have built four early childhood programs Beginning to End is a how to and memoir combined It was specifically written as a resource for early childhood educators at all levels but it has appeal and merit for other people centered businesses as well Take the ideas and approaches use them They work Marcia L Hebert I.C.S.E.
