disciplinary enculturation through a series of ethnographic case studies These case studies provide the most thorough descriptions available today of the lived experience of graduate seminars combining analysis of classroom talk students texts and professor s written responses institutional contexts students representations of their writing and its contexts and professors representations of their tasks and their students Given the complexities that the ethnographic data displayed the author found that conventional notions of writing as a process of transcription and of disciplines as unified discourse communities were inadequate As such this book also offers an in depth exploration of sociohistoric theory in relation to writing and disciplinary enculturation Specific case studies introduce apply and further elaborate notions of writing as literate activity authorship as mediated by other people and artifacts classroom tasks as speech genres enculturation as the interplay of authoritative and internally persuasive discourses and disciplinarity as a deeply heterogeneous laminated and dialogic process This blend of research and theory should be of interest to scholars and students in such fields as writing studies rhetoric writing across the curriculum applied linguistics English for academic purposes science and technology studies higher education and the ethnography of communication PHARMACOLOGY-I Mr. Abhay Kumar Mishra , Dr. RAVINDRA CHANDRAKANT SUTAR , Mr. SAURABH SHEKHAR , Dr. Tabrej Mujawar , Mr. Shriram D Virkar,2024-02-16 INTRODUCTION The foundation of the medical field is the medical science of pharmacology since medications are the mainstay of treatment for human ailments Therefore in order to optimize the advantages and reduce the hazards of pharmaceuticals to receivers it is crucial to describe the pharmacological basis of therapies The primary audience for this pharmacology lecture note is undergraduate students studying health sciences including nursing midwifery health officers and laboratory technology However a lot of the information should also be applicable to other medical practitioners whose line of work includes medication therapy or similar topics By comprehending the basic scientific tenets of pharmacology the practitioner is intended to be empowered To advance comprehension the effects of archetypal medications on physiological and pathological systems are elucidated in detail We briefly discuss some similar medications The national drug list for Ethiopia and the wealth of knowledge gained by instructing numerous health profession students in pharmacology are the two main factors used in the drug selection process The majority of the chapters conclude with questions that test the reader s comprehension of the ideas presented in the chapter The chapters begin with a list of objectives to help the reader The introduction of most sections gives a summary of the topics that will be covered We hope that this material will be a useful companion in our search of a fundamental understanding in pharmacology a most intriguing field of therapeutic knowledge Readers are welcome to consult the references listed for more information
