decisions concerning each of the topics highlighted supplemental papers on certain areas that address the influence and status of the law in countries other than the United States Covering traditional topics in bioethics such as determinations of death and health care decisions for vulnerable groups this study also explores emerging areas such as conflicts of interest in research genetics and privacy and confidentiality in the electronic age Incisive and thought provoking this volume provides readers with a rich context for understanding the intersection between the law on bioethics and the central issues in bioethics

Care and Respect in Bioethics Darlei Dall'Agnol, 2016-09-23 This book discusses the philosophical foundations of bioethics with a particular focus on the tensions and potential dilemmas generated by the intuitionist meta ethical commitments of the predominant normative theory namely the four principles approach This view is based on the prima facie norms of respect for autonomy one ought to respect the autonomous choices of subjects of scientific research patients non maleficence one ought to refrain from inflicting harm beneficence one ought to do good and prevent or remove harm and justice one ought to treat people fairly The tensions in applying these basic principles may lead to inaction in scientific experiments involving human subjects or to arbitrary applications of the norms in the art of caring The problem can be made explicit in these terms on the one hand caring without respecting seems blind degenerating into forms of paternalism when for instance the carer imposes her conception of the good life or a particular procedure on the cared for on the other hand respecting without caring amounts to indifference or individualism when for example a person does not look after a vulnerable being properly The initial hypothesis of this book then is that the concept of respectful care can be built up working from an ethico philosophical perspective to be a leading notion capable of guiding our daily actions and bioethical practices
