

How to approach an IGCSE text analysis / text commentary / passage-based commentary

Read the following passage from Ethan Frome by Edith Wharton. Make you sure you think about the question being asked. In the exam you will always be asked to focus on particular elements of the passage.

Passage from Ethan Frome

Read from page 27, "Then the door opened and he saw his wife..." to page 29, the end of the chapter.

Explore how Wharton brings to life the three different characters in this passage and what does the passage reveal about their relationship with each other?

1. Read the question carefully and underline the key points. The examiners will mark you down if you do not focus on the question. No credit will be given for comments which are not focused on the question.

Q. (In your own words) what are you being asked to do in the question?

2. Personal Response. Re-read the extract given. You cannot underline or write in your book but you should have a piece of rough paper ready to write notes as you re-read. Spend 5 minutes reading and writing down your first responses. What can you picture in your mind as you read? What were your feelings about what you read? What literary techniques have you noticed as you read the extract?

Don't worry about making correct sentences, just note down ideas.

Q. Allow students 10 minutes to note down their first ideas before feeding back to the whole class. Focus on the relationship between the three characters.

3. Developing your response. Now go back and look at the extract and make more detailed notes. Here are some things that you could look out for:

a. The use of dialogue – what does it reveal about the characters? How do they speak to each other? What words do they use?

Q. "'You might'a' shook off that snow outside," she [Zeena] said to her husband.' What does this reveal about her character and her relationship with Ethan?

b. The use of narrative voice and viewpoint – who is telling the story here and whose viewpoint is it? Think about the effect of this on the story and on our opinion of the characters.

c. Use of descriptive vocabulary – look at the vocabulary used to describe the characters. Pick out adjectives and comment on why the writer has chosen these words.

Q. Look in particular at how Zeena is described. Find two adjectives and say what effect these adjectives have on the reader. How is Mattie described? Is it similar or different?

d. Use of images such as metaphors and similes.
