Mutual respect goes a long way toward a successful performance appraisal meeting. Employees might be nervous about the future of a small business and whether they're getting a pay raise. The boss might be nervous, too, for any number of reasons, ranging from the fact that she simply hates doing reviews to the fact that the business might be in trouble. Whatever the situation may be, the small business owner should focus on the employee's role and behaviors, not on the employee himself.

Boss to Employee: What Are Your Goals?

By asking an employee about his goals, a boss is likely looking for a number of things. For example, the supervisor may want information on goals the employee already reached, including how he accomplished those goals. The boss may also be trying to determine what areas of interest the employee and how his expertise has developed since the last performance appraisal. An employee can answer these questions by explaining the goals that he has reached; how he succeeded; and how he can expand on this success with new goals.

Boss to Employee: Can You Take on More Duties?

A small business, especially at the beginning of its life, might be having trouble meeting certain projections. If a boss would like an employee to take on more duties, she should explain the rationale behind this question. For example, if the boss has recognized the need for an employee to do sales for an hour or two every day, she should explain this need and how the experience

Maltby, 2009-04-27 Wetlands perform functions that deliver benefits to society often referred to as ecosystem services These ecosystem services include water supply flood regulation water purification climate regulation biodiversity agriculture e g grazing land and amenity A functional approach to wetland assessment enables a holistic view to be taken of the wide range of services wetlands can provide The functional assessment procedures FAPs in this volume translate best available scientific knowledge into reasonable predictions of how component parts of wetlands function in different landscape contexts They can be used to indicate the potential and priorities for management options in such areas as flood control pollution reduction and biodiversity conservation Functional assessment enables the user to predict the functioning of a wetland area without the need for comprehensive and expensive empirical research The FAPs therefore provide a methodology that can be used by both experts and non experts to assess wetland functioning relatively rapidly The volume includes an electronic version of the FAPs on CD which automates aspects of the assessment once the initial recording stage is completed It is anticipated that the FAPs will be used by a range of individuals or organisations concerned with wetland management who wish to gain a better understanding of the processes functions services or benefits and potential of the wetlands for which they have responsibility Provides a systematic methodology to evaluate how wetlands function Allows non experts to assess wetland functioning rapidly and cost effectively Automates aspects of the functional assessment through the accompanying CD ROM Utility Corporations United States.
