Argumentation And Critical Decision Making:

Argumentation and Critical Decision Making Richard D. Rieke, Malcolm Osgood Sillars, 1997 The principles of practical reasoning integrated into real world applications is the basic premise behind Professors Richard D Rieke and Malcolm O Sillars fourth edition of Argumentation and Critical Decision Making The most current theories and research are combined with classic rhetoric to effectively explain the necessary functions of decision making in any given situation With an increased emphasis on critical thinking Rieke and Sillars help connect critical decisions with audience values and conventions Real life examples are used to illuminate the principles of argumentation ranging from interpersonal discussions to formalized conventions of science and law A new discussion of language and argumentation highlights language practices that have had the most impact on effective argumentation

Argument and Audience Kenneth T. Broda-Bahm, Daniela Kempf, William J. Driscoll, 2004 This book is a complete guide for the public debater debate organizer coach or consultant

The Decision-Making Process of Investor-State

Arbitration Tribunals Mary Mitsi, 2018-12-28 In the course of a single investor state dispute an arbitrator may make numerous decisions from interpreting the treaty or national laws to taking into account case law customs and policies In practice this process raises important issues regarding the consistency of decisions and the predictability and legitimacy of the decision making process in general Investment arbitration tribunals have developed a specialised process of legal decision making adapted to the interpretational needs that arise in the context of an investor state dispute and to the transnational characteristics of the investment arbitration framework This is the first book to offer an in depth analysis of the transnational characteristics of investment arbitration and to analyse the interpretive arguments of investment tribunals and the way they use treaties precedent policies general principles of law and customary law in their decision making process Drawing on publicly available arbitral case law supplemented with personal interviews with investment arbitrators the author touches on such concepts and practices as the following an overview of various decision making genres of arbitral tribunals attitudinal economic strategic and legal the legal argumentation triptych of language rhetoric dialogue the specific language arbitrators have developed when interpreting the law how arbitrators use the concepts standards rules principles and rights the importance of the legal reasoning of arbitral awards and the role of rhetoric therein concepts of acceptability audience and legitimacy limitations of the public international law interpretive methodology enshrined in the Vienna Convention interpretation of precedents customary law general principles of law and policies the way national and international legal orders interact in the context of interpretation and how decision making is connected to the issues of predictability consistency and the rule of law The core of the book proposes a novel full edged dialogical network theory for analysing the interpretation process As an exemplary demonstration of developing theory to keep up with practice this unique book provides a deeply engaged means for enhancing the practice of international arbitration Its introduction of a new field of interdisciplinary analysis employing legal argumentation theories is sure to provide inestimable guidance for institutions and policymakers especially in light of recent proposals for the creation of a permanent investment arbitration court Given that unveiling the legal decision making process is critical for the well being of the whole dispute resolution procedure and that being aware of how arbitrators interpret the law can constitute a roadmap for counsel s arguments and approaches when dealing with cross border disputes the topic of this book is relevant for both academics and practitioners and its significance can only grow as recourse to investor state arbitration continues to expand

Philosophy and Rhetoric in Dialogue Gerard A. Hauser, 2010-11-01 Argumentation Lapakko Ph. D. David Lapakko Ph. D., David Lapakko, 2009-10

Argumentation Critical Thinking in Action 2nd ed explores a wide variety of issues and concepts connected to making arguments responding to the arguments of others and using good critical thinking skills to analyze persuasive communication Key topics include the nature of claims evidence and reasoning common fallacies in reasoning traits associated with good critical thinking how language is used strategically in argument ways to organize an argumentative case how to refute an opposing argument or case cultural dimensions of argument and ways to make a better impression either orally or in writing

Foundations of Evidence-Based Medicine Milos Jenicek, 2019-09-19 This comprehensive text focuses on reasoning critical thinking and pragmatic decision making in medicine Based on the author s extensive experience and filled with definitions formulae flowcharts and checklists this fully revised second edition continues to provide invaluable guidance to the crucial role that clinical epidemiology plays in the expanding field of evidence based medicine Key Features Considers evidence based medicine as a universal initiative common to all health sciences and professions and all specialties within those disciplines Demonstrates how effective practice is reliant on proper foundations such as clinical and fundamental epidemiology and biostatistics Introduces the reader to basic epidemiological methods meta analysis and decision analysis Shows that structured modern argumentative reasoning is required to build the best possible evidence and use it in practice and research Outlines how to make the most appropriate decisions in clinical care disease prevention and health promotion Presenting a range of topics seldom seen in a single resource the innovative blend of informal logic and structured evidence based reasoning makes this book invaluable for anyone seeking broad in depth and readable coverage of this complex and sometimes controversial field

How to Think in Medicine Milos Jenicek, 2018-08-06 Mastery of quality health care and patient safety begins as soon as we open the hospital doors for the first time and start acquiring practical experience The acquisition of such experience includes much more than the development of sensorimotor skills and basic knowledge of sciences It relies on effective reason decision making and communication shared by all health professionals including physicians nurses dentists pharmacists and administrators How to Think in Medicine Reasoning Decision Making and Communications in Health Sciences is about these essential skills It describes how physicians and health professionals reason make decision and practice medicine Covering the basic considerations related to clinical and caregiver reasoning it lays out a roadmap to help those new to health care as well as seasoned veterans overcome the complexities of working for the well being of those who trust us with their physical and mental health This book provides a step by step breakdown of the reasoning process for clinical work and clinical care It examines both the general and medical ways of thinking reasoning argumentation fact finding and using evidence It explores the principles of formal logic as applied to clinical problems and the use of evidence in logical reasoning In addition to outline the fundamentals of decision making it integrates coverage of clinical reasoning risk assessment diagnosis treatment and prognosis in evidence based medicine Presented in four sections this book discusses the history and position of the problem and the challenge of medical thinking provides the philosophy interfacing topics of interest for health sciences professionals including the probabilities uncertainties risks and other quantifications in health by steps of clinical work decision making in clinical and community health care research and practice Communication in clinical and community care including how to write medical articles clinical case studies and case reporting and oral and written communication in clinical and community practice and care

Rhetoric and Discourse in Supreme Court Oral Arguments Ryan A. Malphurs, 2013 While legal scholars psychologists and political scientists commonly voice their skepticism over the influence oral arguments have on the Court s voting pattern this book offers a contrarian position focused on close scrutiny of the justices communication within oral arguments Malphurs examines the rhetoric discourse and subsequent decision making within the oral arguments for significant Supreme Court cases visiting their potential power and danger and revealing the rich dynamic nature of the justices interactions among themselves and the advocates In addition to offering advancements in scholars understanding of oral arguments this study introduces Sensemaking as an alternative to rational decision making in Supreme Court arguments suggesting a new model of judicial decision making to account for the communication within oral arguments that underscores a glaring irony surrounding the bulk of related research the willingness of scholars to criticize oral arguments but their unwillingness to study this communication With the growing accessibility of the Court's oral arguments and the inevitable introduction of television cameras in the courtroom this book offers new theoretical and methodological perspectives at a time when scholars across the fields of communication law psychology and political science will direct even greater attention and scrutiny toward the Supreme Court

Inference in Argumentation Eddo Rigotti, Sara Greco, 2018-12-10 This book investigates the role of inference in argumentation considering how arguments support standpoints on the basis of different loci The authors propose and illustrate a model for the analysis of the standpoint argument connection called Argumentum Model of Topics AMT A prominent feature of the AMT is that it distinguishes within each and every single argumentation between an inferential procedural component on which the reasoning process is based and a material contextual component which anchors the argument in the interlocutors cultural and factual common ground The AMT explains how these components differ and how they are intertwined within each single argument This model is introduced in Part II of the book following a careful reconstruction of the enormously rich tradition of studies on inference in argumentation from the antiquity to contemporary authors without neglecting medieval and post medieval contributions The AMT is a contemporary model grounded in a dialogue with such tradition whose crucial aspects are illuminated in this book

Information and Communication Technologies in Tourism 2013 Lorenzo Cantoni, Zheng (Phil) Xiang, 2013-11-18 The papers presented in this volume advance the state of the art in social media and Web 2.0 electronic tourism marketing web site and search engine optimization technology adoption and diffusion online communities tourism management and decision support eLearning mobile technologies and applications in tourism recommender systems e intermediaries and networks in tourism customer research in e tourism and user generated content The volume collects research papers of prominent scholars from around the world with a disciplinary background in the fields of social or computer sciences The book covers the most significant topics within the study field of electronic tourism and addresses both academics and practitioners interested in the latest advances in the electronic travel and tourism domain

Corporate Argumentation in Takeover Bids Rudi Palmieri, 2014-11-15 This volume systematically investigates the role of argumentation in takeover bids The announcement of these financial proposals triggers an argumentative situation in which both the economic desirability and the social acceptability of the deal become argumentative issues for different classes of stakeholders shareholders employees customers etc The study focuses on the strategic maneuvers that corporate directors deploy in order to persuade their audiences while complying with precise regulatory requirements designed to allow shareholders to make reasonable decisions A conceptual reframing of takeovers as an argumentative context brings to light the different argumentative situations of friendly and hostile bids The argumentative strategies that corporate directors adopt in the two situations are identified and analyzed on the basis of a corpus of takeover documents referring to offers launched in the UK market between 2006 and 2010 The argumentative reconstruction focuses in particular on the inferential configuration of arguments which is accomplished by means of the Argumentum Model of Topics AMT This kind of analysis enables capturing the inherently argumentative processes through which information becomes a relevant starting point for investment decisions

Argumentation Theory and the Rhetoric of Assent David Williams, Michael David Hazen, 2006-02-05 The themes of the essays in Argumentation Theory and the Rhetoric of Assent all coalesce around the general question When if ever is assent justified The question immediately triggers complex and multifaceted considerations of argument and ultimately power In parsing out the nature of assent the essays take diverse approaches aesthetic and symbolist rationalistic and formalistic field theory various conceptualizations of a public sphere etc Together they offer an insightful exploration of an exciting new terrain argumentation studies

The Routledge Handbook of Language in the Workplace Bernadette Vine, 2017-08-09 The Routledge Handbook of Language in the Workplace provides a comprehensive survey of linguistic research on language in the workplace written by top scholars in the field from around the world The Handbook covers theoretical and methodological approaches explores research in different types of workplace settings and examines some key areas of workplace talk that have been investigated by workplace researchers Issues of identity have become a major focus in recent workplace research and the Handbook highlights some core issues of relevance in this area such as gender leadership and intercultural communication As the field has developed applications of workplace research for both native and non native speakers have emerged Insights can inform and improve input from practitioners training workers in a range of fields and across a variety of contexts and the Handbook foregrounds some of the ways workplace research can do this This is an invaluable resource for researchers and graduate students interested in learning more about workplace discourse

Local Theories of Argument Dale Hample, 2021-03-26 Argumentation is often understood as a coherent set of Western theories birthed in Athens and developing throughout the Roman period the Middle Ages the Enlightenment and Renaissance and into the present century Ideas have been nuanced developed and revised but still the outline of argumentation theory has been recognizable for centuries or so it has seemed to Western scholars The 2019 Alta Conference on Argumentation co sponsored by the National Communication Association and the American Forensic Association aimed to question the generality of these intellectual traditions This resulting collection of essays deals with the possibility of having local theories of argument local to a particular time a particular kind of issue a particular place or a particular culture Many of the papers argue for reconsidering basic ideas about arguing to represent the uniqueness of some moment or location of discourse Other scholars are more comfortable with the Western traditions and find them congenial to the analysis of arguments that originate in discernibly distinct circumstances The papers represent different methodologies cover the experiences of different nations at different times examine varying sorts of argumentative events speeches court decisions food choices and sound explore particular personal identities and the issues highlighted by them and have different overall orientations to doing argumentation scholarship Considered together the essays do not generate one simple conclusion but they stimulate reflection about the particularity or generality of the experience of arguing and therefore the scope of our theories
