Developed by Rebecca Cling

STUDENT VERSION

MODULE 4: VALUE OF LIFE

Verbs in Expository Writing

Activity 1

Guided Composition

This activity is based on Chris Jones, "Roger Ebert: The Essential Man."

The purpose of this activity is for you to write a paragraph on the topic of this module. Your teacher will read a paragraph while you listen, and then read it again while you take notes. You will then write your own paragraph based on what you heard using your notes.

Noticing Language

What is wrong with these sentences? How do you know?

1. In 2010 Roger Ebert is sitting down to watch a movie with other movie critics.
2. He came to this screening room since 1978.
3. Today Ebert has decided to watch only one film. He did not have the time or energy for more.

Identifying Complete Verb Phrases

Complete Verb Phrases

- + Have a grammatical subject (I, you, it, ...)
Example: Ebert <sup>was</sup> has thyroid cancer.
- + Express a time (tense), completion (aspect), or duration
Example: He <sup>was</sup> lost (past tense) the ability to talk after one of his surgeries.

Rhetorical Grammar Concepts

The worksheet includes Rhetorical Grammar Concepts and for your reference as you do the activities in this unit.

Rhetorical Grammar For Expository Reading And Writing:

Writing Rhetorically Jennifer Fletcher, 2023-10-10 In Writing Rhetorically Fostering Responsive Thinkers and Communicators author Jennifer Fletcher aims to cultivate independent learners through rhetorical thinking She provides teachers with strategies and frameworks for writing instruction that can be applied across multiple subjects and lesson plans Students learn to discover their own questions design their own inquiry process develop their own positions and purposes make their own choices about content and form and contribute to conversations that matter to them Inside this book Fletcher helps remove some of the scaffolding and explains how to put in practice some methods which can successfully foster Inquiry Invention and Rhetorical Thinking Writing for Transfer Paraphrasing Summary Synthesis and Citation Skills Research Skills and Processes Evidence Based Reasoning Rhetorical Decision Making Rhetorical decision making helps students develop the skills knowledge and mindsets needed for transfer of learning the ability to adapt and apply learning in new settings The more choices students make as writers the better prepared they are to analyze and respond to diverse rhetorical situations Writing Rhetorically shows teachers what it looks like to dig into real texts with students and novice writers and how it develops them for lifelong learning

Theoretical Models and Processes of Literacy Donna E. Alvermann, Norman J. Unrau, Misty Sailors, Robert B. Ruddell, 2018-10-03 The Seventh Edition of this foundational text represents the most comprehensive source available for connecting multiple and diverse theories to literacy research broadly defined and features both cutting edge and classic contributions from top scholars Two decades into the 21st century the Seventh Edition finds itself at a crossroads and differs from its predecessors in three major ways the more encompassing term literacy replaces reading in the title to reflect sweeping changes in how readers and writers communicate in a digital era the focus is on conceptual essays rather than a mix of essays and research reports in earlier volumes and most notably contemporary literacy models and processes enhance and extend earlier theories of reading and writing Providing a tapestry of models and theories that have informed literacy research and instruction over the years this volume's strong historical grounding serves as a springboard from which new perspectives are presented The chapters in this volume have been selected to inspire the interrogation of literacy theory and to foster its further evolution This edition is a landmark volume in which dynamic dialogic and generative relations of power speak directly to the present generation of literacy theorists and researchers without losing the historical contexts that preceded them Some additional archival essays from previous editions are available on the book's eResource New to the Seventh Edition Features chapters on emerging and contemporary theories that connect directly to issues of power and contrasts new models against more established counterparts New chapters reflect sweeping changes in how readers and writers communicate in a digital era Slimmer volume is complemented by some chapters from previous editions available online

Teaching Literature Rhetorically Jennifer Fletcher, 2023-10-10 English language arts teachers often find themselves defending their discipline and the practical values it has When will I read this again is an all too common question heard in classrooms Author Jennifer Fletcher faced the same questions and more In Teaching Literature Rhetorically Transferable Literacy Skills for 21st Century Students she shows you how to help your students develop transferable literacy skills that allow them to succeed not just in their English language arts classes but in their future lives and careers The book is built around eight high utility literacy skills and practices that will help students communicate effectively and with confidence as they navigate important transitions in their lives Integrating skills and knowledge from texts Reading closely and critically Assessing rhetorical situations Negotiating different perspectives Developing and supporting a line of reasoning Analyzing genres Communicating with self and others in mind Reading and writing with passion Teaching Literature Rhetorically offers readers writing prompts readings discussion questions graphic organizers as well as examples of student work and activities for helping students to understand key rhetorical concepts As Fletcher writes in her introduction rhetorical thinking promotes the transfer of learning the single most important goal we can have as teachers if we hope to have a positive impact on our students lives This book will help teachers everywhere do just that     Teaching Composition Gary Tate,1987     Understanding Expository Text Bruce K. Britton,John B. Black,2017-11-01 Originally published in 1985 the various chapters in this volume give examples of research on all three aspects of text understanding namely structure world knowledge and process More than this however the research described represents a shift in emphasis from studying stories which dominated the field in the late 1970s to studying expository text This focus on stories was probably due to the essential first step in any science of examining the simplest materials possible However the editors thought that it was time to shift the research focus from stories to expository text and this volume is their attempt to provide this transition     Resources in Education ,1995     A Guide to Writing in English as a Second Or Foreign Language Dan J. Tannacito,1995 This bibliography offers English as a Second Language ESL and English as a Foreign Language EFL specialists and non specialists a listing of almost 3 500 works in the field of writing in ESL EFL at all educational levels from 1937 through 1993 It includes works focusing on how non native speakers write in English how they learn to write in English how ESL and native English speaker NES compositions compare how English is taught in contexts where it is used as a second or foreign language and instructional materials developed to support writing in a second foreign language Citations include bibliographies monographs textbooks periodicals dissertations and some unannotated master s theses conference papers and Educational Resources Information Center ERIC documents An introductory section and a list of native languages addressed in the works precede the annotated entries Author and subject indexes are also included MSE
