1945-1950: The Arduous Road to the Alliance Dieter Heinzig, 2015-06-18 Drawing on a wealth of new sources this work documents the evolving relationship between Moscow and Peking in the twentieth century Using newly available Russian and Chinese archival documents memoirs written in the 1980s and 1990s and interviews with high ranking Soviet and Chinese eyewitnesses the book provides the basis for a new interpretation of this relationship and a glimpse of previously unknown events that shaped the Sino Soviet alliance An appendix contains translated Chinese and Soviet documents many of which are being published for the first time The book focuses mainly on Communist China's relationship with Moscow after the conclusion of the treaty between the Soviet Union and Kuomintang China in 1945 up until the signing of the treaty between Moscow and the Chinese Communist Party in 1950 It also looks at China's relationship with Moscow from 1920 to 1945 as well as developments from 1950 to the present The author reevaluates existing sources and literature on the topic and demonstrates that the alliance was reached despite disagreements and distrust on both sides and was not an inevitable conclusion He also shows that the relationship between the two Communist parties was based on national interest politics and not on similar ideological convictions Translations on Communist China, 1969 The Rise of China and

Schools Council. History 13-16 Project, Schools Council History 13-16 Project Staff, 1979 Frontier Passages Xiaoyuan Liu, 2004 In this pathbreaking book Xiaoyuan Liu establishes the ways in which the history of the Chinese Communist Party was from the Yan'an period onward intertwined with the ethnopolitics of the Chinese periphery As a Han dominated party the CCP had to adapt to an inhospitable political environment particularly among the Hui Muslims of northwest China and the Mongols of Inner Mongolia Based on a careful examination of CCP and Soviet Comintern documents only recently available Liu's study shows why the CCP found itself unable to follow the Russian Bolshevik precedent by inciting separatism among the non Han peoples as a stratagem for gaining national power Rather than swallowing Marxist Leninist dogma on the nationalities question the CCP took a position closer to that of the Kuomintang stressing the inclusiveness of the Han dominated Chinese nation Zhonghua Minzu The Global Rise of China and Asia Abdul Razak Baginda, 2022-02-08 This book posits an alternative narrative to China's rise by focusing on its impact on Asia China's rapid rise as a multidimensional power is felt in all corners of the world and poses a direct challenge to the supremacy of the United States which has held the status of a primary superpower ever since the end of the Cold War For the most part Asian countries want to avoid being dragged into this great power rivalry preferring to adopt a more balanced and pragmatic approach While a recognition of China's greatness does not necessarily place states in a subservient position the author argues that the most prudent approach for Asian nations is to avoid being caught in the middle of the US China rivalry as this allows them to derive benefits from both sides Rise of China: Indian Perspective Editors: Prof S Gopal, Nabeel A Mancheri, The remarkable rise of China in the last three decades has had a mixed global reaction While many countries have welcomed this rise some of China s neighbours have viewed it with concern if not consternation What does the rise of China signify for India given our none too smooth relationship with China and latter s unqualified support to Pakistan in military and nuclear field What do our leading companies feel about China Would the Indian Ocean be the scene of stiff confrontation between India and China Or is China Threat an exaggeration or hype as some would hold This book is the result of intense discussions on the above questions in a seminar held on Dec 20 21 2011 at the National Institute of Advanced Studies Bangalore The Chapters in this book based on papers presented by leading experts on China both from the Government and the Private sectors covers almost all aspects of China from internal political developments foreign policy to economy S T developments and Strategic capabilities particularly with respect to India China s growing military and economic clout and impressive advances in trade and technology have all been analysed by various speakers who are well known for their expertise on china China s views on India have also been brought out succinctly The Seminar was the first major interaction on a subject of strategic national interest It is hoped that the book would contribute to better understanding of China by both the interested citizens of this country and the policy makers
