its method and theory is also included Chapter 3 establishes the author's methodological framework in studies of transition to farming in northeast China including the explanation of tool complex analysis interpretation of the results of this analysis and establishing a baseline based on studies in the transition to farming in central China Chapter 4 reconstructs Palaeo environment in northeast China involving sea level temperature and precipitation and vegetation changes during the Holocene in northeast China Mainly based on pollen data including present pollen reference studies of the summer monsoon this reconstruction provides an outline of environmental changes in northeast China Chapters 5 to 8 are case studies Based on the archaeological records in the four regions the Liao River region Liaodong peninsula Song Nen plain and Changbaishan mountains in northeast China they use the author's methodological frame work to analyse the process of transition to farming in each region to establish the patterns of transition in northeast China Chapter 9 synthetically analyses the process and model of the transition to farming in northeast China including the analysis of transition patterns the relationship between environmental changes technological level and agricultural transition in northeast China Some tentative explanations of the causes of the transition to farming are also included Chapter 10 extends some theoretical discussions including discussion of the relationship between environment and economic styles in different transition models The potential usage of tool complex analysis in other regions is discussed in this Chapter and followed by some suggestions in the future studies such as transition to animal farming transition within one archaeological culture and studies on individual species of plants and animals Also the suggestion of further studies needed such as using the same method of tool complex analysis comparing to economies in present ethnic groups
