István Nagy, 2021-12-26 Exploring the relationship and interaction between economic interests and normative non trade values this book argues that the emergence and development of non trade values is based on a complex dialectic interaction between selfish economic interests and normative values and examines how their structural interdependence has given rise to a remarkable evolution in international trade Conceiving this relationship as an intricate dialectic one that is neither purely value driven nor purely economic interest driven it addresses the emergence function and role of non trade values in international trade with a synthesizing approach and explores the results of their interaction in international economic intercourse Approaching the non trade issues of trade in a holistic manner the book demonstrates that trade can operate smoothly only if it is framed by an architecture of normative value standards and international trade liberalization has reached the level where further development calls for cooperation also in fields that at first glance may appear to be non trade in nature

Constitutional Review and International Investment Law David Schneiderman, 2024-04-10 The revival of interest in comparative constitutional studies alongside the rise of legal limitations to state action due to investment treaty commitments calls for a unique analysis of both investment law and comparative constitutional law The unresolved tensions that arise between the two are only beginning to be addressed by judges Are courts resisting these new international limitations on their constitutional space Constitutional Review and International Investment Law Deference or Defiance pioneers this discussion by examining how a selection of the highest courts around the world have addressed this potential discord A comparison of decisions in the US Europe Colombia Indonesia Israel and elsewhere reveals that rather than issuing declarations of constitutional incompatibility courts are more likely to respond to constitutional tensions indirectly Their rulings adopt stances that range from hard deference such as the Peruvian Constitutional Court viewing constitutional law and investment law as entirely compatible to soft defiance for example the Colombian Constitutional Court requiring only modest renegotiation of some treaty terms so that they are constitutionally compliant Readers learn that judges are not aiming to undermine the investment law regime but are seeking to mitigate constitutional collision

Rethinking Investor-State Arbitration Flavia Marisi, 2023-10-18 A significant increase in investor State arbitration cases has been observed since the 2000s The trust placed by investors and States in this method of dispute resolution stems from several strengths In addition to its neutrality one of the primary reasons for its widespread use is its adaptability enabling it to address specific challenges that have emerged in recent decades The following elements highlight this adaptability the arbitration procedure can be customised to meet the specific needs of the disputing parties and stakeholders involved It effectively responds to evolving cultural norms and ethical considerations such as diversity gender representation corporate social responsibility environmental issues and human rights Moreover it can adapt to global health crises by facilitating online hearings Finally during times of international armed conflict economic exchanges trade investment and investor State dispute settlement foster economic integration and interdependence contributing to maintaining commercial peace and supporting international peace and security However investor State arbitration has sparked vigorous debates with many advocating for reform in three crucial aspects transparency legitimacy and consistency Multilateral negotiations are currently underway on various fronts including the negotiation of more sustainable investment treaties amendments to institutional arbitral rules the design of a multilateral investment court and the development of enhanced policy frameworks This book delves into the history of investor State dispute resolution to provide readers with an understanding of how its main features have evolved over time It examines the most intensely debated procedural issues analyses their multifaceted characteristics reviews the complex relationship between investor State arbitration and the European Union and explores potential options for addressing stakeholder concerns

Too Complex or Too Ambitious? Leopoldo Biffi, 2021-02-09 This ePaper looks at the recent politics of EU trade and specifically at the political hurdles characterising the enforcement of free trade agreements FTAs negotiated by the European Commission It argues that civil society advocacy groups have played a key yet undertheorised role in accounting for the recent politicisation of a number of EU FTAs which has often translated into obstacles to ratification The TTIP the CETA and the EU Mercosur FTA constitute relevant examples The analysis privileges a Commission standpoint conceiving ratification hurdles as public management issues tackled by Brussels in view of rescuing its trade policy mandate from domestic vetoes We argue that the Commission is particularly compelled to implement FTA reviews and safeguards when advocacy concerns are endorsed by official level policy actors like the European Parliament enjoying ultimate veto powers In a final step the research also enquires into the narrower reality of mixed FTAs focusing on the case study of the CETA In this regard it suggests that prolonged national level ratification poses no extraordinary obstacle to the Commission as treaty enforcement is aided by lock in dynamics involving both official level and civil society veto players even in the absence of full de jure ratification We conclude that while the above ratification obstacles have been addressed by the Commission on an ad hoc basis as contingent policy issues their prolonged occurrence suggests that they will need to be tackled more systematically in the future This will require operating at the level of treaty design by addressing pressing concerns like trade and sustainable development more thoroughly and bindingly ahead of concluding negotiations in view of preventing otherwise inescapable enforcement hurdles The Global Energy Transition Peter D Cameron,Xiaoyi Mu,Volker Roeben,2021-01-14 Global energy is on the cusp of change and it has become almost a truism that energy is in transition But what does this notion mean exactly This book explores the working hypothesis that characteristically the energy system requires a strategy of the international community of states to deliver sustainable energy to which all have access This strategy is for establishing rules based governance of the global energy value cycle The book has four substantive parts that bring together contributions of leading experts from academia and practice on the law policy and economics of energy Part I The prospects of energy transition critically discusses the leading forecasts for energy and the strategies that resource rich countries may adopt Part II Rules based multilateral governance of the energy sector details the development and sources of rules on energy Part III Competition and regulation in transboundary energy markets discusses principal instruments of rules based governance of energy Part IV Attracting investments and the challenges of multi level governance focuses on the critical governance of the right investments This book is a flagship publication of the Centre for Energy Petroleum and Mineral Law and Policy at the University of Dundee It launches the Hart series Global Energy Law and Policy and is edited by the series general editors Professors Peter D Cameron and Volker Roeben and also Dr Xiaoyi Mu International Law Jan Wouters,Cedric Ryngaert,Tom Ruys,Geert De Baere,2018-12-13 This textbook offers for the first time a comprehensive analysis of the classic doctrines and main areas of international law from a European perspective meeting the needs of the many European law schools teaching public international law in English Special attention is devoted to the practice of the European Union the Council of Europe and European States both civil law and common law countries with regard to international law In particular the book analyses the interplay between international law EU law and national law in the case law of the Court of Justice of the EU the European Court of Human Rights and national jurisdictions in Europe It provides the reader with insights into how the international legal practice of the EU and its Member States impacts the development of international law both in terms of doctrines such as treaty making and customary law the exercise of extraterritorial jurisdiction state responsibility and the settlement of disputes as well as particular sub fields of international law such as human rights law and international economic law In addition the book covers other important areas such as the use of force and collective security the law of armed conflict and global and regional international organisations It provides European perspectives on all these issues and will be of great value to students scholars and practitioners Rethinking the Role of African National Courts in Arbitration Emilia Onyema,2018-06-07 With the increase in commercial transactions within the fifty four independent African states and at the international level it has become apparent that most of the legal framework for arbitration across the continent require reform Accordingly in recent years as this first in depth treatment of arbitration in Africa shows jurisprudence from national courts of various African jurisdictions demonstrates that the courts are becoming more pro arbitration and judges increasingly better understand that their role is to support or complement the arbitral process This book documents the second SOAS Arbitration in Africa conference held in Lagos in June 2016 In thirteen lucid chapters African practitioners and academics and European specialists in African legal and arbitral systems provide a remarkably thorough overview of the relation of courts and arbitration in the continent Among the matters that arise for discussion are the disposition of courts in Africa towards arbitration whether supportive or interventionist involvement of courts in the arbitral process before during and after an award has been rendered publication and access to arbitration related decisions from African courts enforcement of annulled awards in African states under the New York Convention prospects for the establishment of a pan African investment court and how foreign courts particularly in the United States France and Switzerland perceive African arbitration Because of the wide range of developmental stages among Africa s numerous court and legal systems Part I of the book explores generic issues relevant to courts and arbitration followed by detailed descriptions including court decisions of the situation in eight specific jurisdictions Egypt South Africa Sudan Mauritius Nigeria Ghana Rwanda and Kenya The authors of these latter chapters are legal practitioners and academics from each of these countries Throughout this book policy recommendations for improving access to court decisions and laws in African states are brought to the fore In its expertise based advocacy for a mutually harmonious and supportive co existence for arbitration and litigation in the context of the complexities and peculiarities of African states and its confrontation of the predominantly negative perception that often leads to arbitration flight from the continent this book helps companies investors and their advisors to base their decisions on facts and not perceptions It will be of great value to practising lawyers in arbitration as counsel or arbitrators companies doing transnational business global law firms government officials and academics in the field

The EU and its Member States' Joint Participation in International Agreements Nicolas Levrat, Yuliya Kaspiarovich, Christine Kaddous, Ramses A Wessel, 2022-02-24 EU law has developed a unique and complex system under which the Union and its Member States can both act under international law separately jointly or in parallel International law was not set up to deal with such complex and hybrid arrangements which raise questions under both international and EU law This book assesses how EU law has been adapted to cope with the constraints of international law in situations in which the EU and its Member States act jointly in relations with other States and international organisations In an innovative scholarly approach reflecting this duality each chapter is jointly written by a team of two authors The various contributions offer new insights into the tension that continues to exist between EU and international law obligations in relation to the joint participation of the EU and its Member States in international agreements
