Migration And Security In The Global Age Diaspora Communities And Conflict Routledge Studies In Peace And Conflict Resolution:

Migration and Security in the Global Age Feargal Cochrane, 2015-03-05 This book is an interdisciplinary examination of several interconnecting aspects of migrant communities in the context of contemporary conflict and security The book illustrates that within this globalised world migrants have become key actors living in the spaces between states as well as within them Arguing that migrants and their descendants are vital and complex constituencies for the achievement of security in this global age the volume uses a number of case studies including Palestinian Sri Lankan Irish and Somali diaspora communities to explore the different ways that such groups intersect with issues of security and how these attitudes and behaviours have evolved in the context of political transnationalism and the global economy Comparative and econometric studies of migration can provide a wide lens but at times fail to capture the depth and complexity of these communities and attitudes within them At the same time empirically focused studies are often case specific and while rich in local detail lack comparative breadth or the ability to make connections and see irregularities across a number of contexts that might be of interest to scholars beyond that specific area This book connects these literatures together more thoroughly In particular it demonstrates that political cultural economic and social factors all play important roles in helping us understand the actual and potential roles of migrant communities in conflict and the establishment of sustainable security within contemporary society Lastly given this context the book seeks to examine the challenges and opportunities that exist for such a sustainable security strategy to be developed This book will be of much interest to students of migration and diaspora communities peace and conflict studies security studies and ethnic conflict     Routledge Handbook of Peace, Security and Development Fen Osler Hampson, Alpaslan Özerdem, Jonathan Kent, 2020-06-04 This Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of the peace security and development nexus from a global perspective and investigates the interfaces of these issues in a context characterised by many new challenges By bringing together more than 40 leading experts and commentators from across the world the Handbook maps the various research agendas related to these three themes taking stock of existing work and debates while outlining areas for further engagement In doing so the chapters may serve as a primer for new researchers while also informing the wider scholarly community about the latest research trends and innovations The volume is split into three thematic parts Concepts and approaches New drivers of conflict insecurity and developmental challenges Actors institutions and processes For ease of use and organisational consistency each chapter provides readers with an overview of each research area a review of the state of the literature a summary of the major debates and promising directions for future research This Handbook will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies development studies security studies and International Relations     Climate Change and Resource Conflict Judith M. Bretthauer, 2016-08-25 This book examines the links between climate change and resource scarcity to violent conflict Does climate change cause conflicts This book analyses the economic political and social conditions under which countries with low levels of freshwater or arable land experience armed conflict There are strong theoretic arguments linking climate change and scarcity of livelihood resources to conflict However empirical accounts are contradictory Using qualitative comparative analysis fsQCA this book compares 22 political economic and social conditions across 30 countries experiencing scarcity of available freshwater or arable land The results show that there are three types of resource scarce countries that experience conflicts neo patrimonial states oil rich states that are poorly integrated into the global economy and least developed states In addition the results reveal that there are two types of resource scarce countries that remain peaceful non agrarian countries with either even development between groups or high integration into the global economy with high levels of adaptive capacities This explains the contradictory results of previous empirical studies and suggests that resource scarcity might contribute to conflict in least developed countries This book will be of much interest to students of climate change critical security peace and conflict studies and IR in general

Resolving Deep-Rooted Conflicts Herbert C. Kelman, 2016-07-15 This book is a collection of articles and essays by Professor Herbert C Kelman a leading figure in the conflict resolution community and one of the most influential peace researchers Professor Kelman a social psychologist has been a pioneer of conflict resolution and peace research and his work in conflict resolution has included a decades long action research program on the Arab Israeli conflict which has seen the development of Interactive Problem Solving Workshops an approach which has had a deep impact not only on research but also on the practice of conflict resolution around the world and especially in the Middle East Focusing on Kelman s conflict resolution related work this volume comprises an important collection of articles written by Kelman across his career as academic and practitioner By bringing together these carefully selected articles the book offers a concise overview of the body of Kelman s work and his intellectual biography It traces the origins of the field of conflict resolution the development of the study and practice of Interactive Problem Solving Workshops and the wider challenges faced by conflict resolution research and practice This book will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies conflict resolution psychology and IR in general

Peacebuilding and Post-War Transitions Lisa Gross, 2017-02-17 This book asks how and under what conditions external domestic interactions impact on peacebuilding outcomes during transitions to peace and democracy Why do so many peacebuilding interventions in post war states result in stalled transitions despite heavy international support This book suggests a new interaction based explanation for this puzzle and proposes an analytical framework of peacebuilding interactions Based on eight cases of peacebuilding interactions it demonstrates that the limited rationality of the actors involved in external domestic interactions influenced the post war transition results in Kosovo Drawing on interviews and focus groups the insights build on the process tracing of peacebuilding reforms in the area of Local Governance and Police Reform with a specific focus at the local level Through an in depth analysis of peacebuilding negotiations this book shows how peacebuilders use of ad hoc interaction tactics intended as heuristics to simplify decision making in overly complex post war environments have the unintended effect of offering domestic actors additional leeway to prioritise their domestic agenda often at the expense of achieving full democratisation The resulting consequences of these actions mean that even in highly resourced interventions such as those implemented in Kosovo stalled transitions become one of the most likely outcome of the peacebuilding process This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding war and conflict studies European politics security studies and IR in general Ceasefire Agreements and Peace Processes Malin Akebo,2016-11-10 analyses ceasefire agreements in relation to peace processes using qualitative analysis uses a process oriented conflict dynamics approach to analyse and compare ceasefire agreements will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies intra state conflict Asian politics security studies and IR Theories of International Relations and Northern Ireland Timothy J. White,2017-01-29 This book uses the case of Northern Ireland to evaluate theoretical approaches in international relations It investigates the process of negotiation that led to the signing of the Good Friday or Belfast Agreement and the continuing challenges to peace reconciliation in Northern Ireland Incorporating the work of leading scholars it explores a wide range of topics including the function of deception in promoting peace the question of partition and how it was reimagined by nationalists such as John Hume and how the decommissioning process led to a role in internal policing for paramilitaries The influence of outside actors notably the United States and the European Union is also considered along with the involvement of the Catholic Church and the marginalization of women This book will be important for academics interested in theories of international relations and to a wider public interested in understanding the Northern Ireland peace process International Intervention, Identity and Conflict Transformation Timea Spitka,2015-12-22 This book addresses the challenges of international intervention in violent conflicts and its impact on groups in conflict When the international community intervenes in a violent internal conflict intervening powers may harden divisions constructing walls between groups or they may foster transformation soften barriers and build bridges between conflicting groups This book examines the different types of external processes and their respective contributions to softening or hardening divisions between conflicting groups It also analyses the types of conflict resolution strategies including integration accommodation and partitioning and investigates the conditions under which the international community decides to pursue a particular strategy and how the different strategies contribute to solidification or transformation of group identities The author uses three case studies Bosnia and Herzegovina BiH Northern Ireland and Israel Palestine to reveal how different types of external interventions impact on the identities of conflicting groups The volume seeks to address how states and international organizations ought to intervene in order to stimulate the building of bridges rather than walls between conflicting groups In doing so the book sheds light on some of the pitfalls in international interventions and highlights the importance of united external process and inclusive identity strategies that promote transformation and bridge differences between conflicting groups This book will be of much interest to students of intervention peace and conflict studies ethnic conflict security studies and IR

Gender, Peace and Security Louise Olsson, Theodora-Ismene Gizelis, 2015-04-24 This volume explores the implementation of key gender policies in international peace and security following the adoption of UN Security Council resolution 1325 in October 2000 the first thematic resolution on Women Peace and Security How should we understand women's participation in peace processes and in peace operations And what forms of gendered security dynamics are present in armed conflict and international interventions These questions represent central themes of protection and participation that the international community has to address in order to implement UNSCR 1325 Thus far the implementation has often employed varying approaches related to gender mainstreaming a third theme of the resolution Yet there is a dearth of systematic data which until recently has restricted the ability of researchers to evaluate the progress in implementation and impact of UNSCR 1325 By engaging with both empirics and critical theory the authors of this edited volume make important contributions to the gender peace and security agenda They identify some of the problems of implementing UNSC 1325 and offer a sobering assessment of progress of implementation and insights into how to advance our understanding through systematic research Many of the chapters are focused on operational aspects of UNSCR 1325 but all also engage with the theoretical underpinnings of UNSCR 1325 to bring forth central debates on more fundamental challenges to the development of knowledge in the fields of gender peace and security This book will be of much interest to students of gender studies peace and conflict studies security studies and IR in general

Conflict Transformation and Reconciliation Sarah Maddison, 2015-06-19 This book examines approaches to reconciliation and peacebuilding in settler colonial post conflict and divided societies In contrast to current literature this book provides a broader assessment of reconciliation and conflict transformation by applying a distinctive multi level approach The analysis provides a unique intervention in the field one that significantly complicates received notions of reconciliation and transitional justice and considers conflict transformation across the constitutional institutional and relational levels of society Drawing on extensive fieldwork in South Africa Northern Ireland Australia and Guatemala the work presents an interdisciplinary study of the complex political challenges facing societies attempting to transition either from violence and authoritarianism to peace and democracy or from colonialism to post colonialism Informed by theories of agonistic democracy the book conceives of reconciliation as a process that is deeply political and that prioritises the capacity to retain and develop democratic political contest in societies that have in other ways been able to resolve their conflicts The cases considered suggest that reconciliation is most likely an open ended process rather than a goal a process that requires divided societies to pay ongoing attention to reconciliatory efforts at all levels long after the eyes of the world have moved on from countries where the work of reconciliation is thought to be finished This book will be of great interest to students of reconciliation conflict transformation peacebuilding transitional justice and IR in general

Peacebuilding and Friction Annika Björkdahl, Kristine Höglund, Gearoid Millar, Jair van der

Lijn, Willemijn Verkoren, 2016-03-02 This book aims to understand the processes and outcomes that arise from frictional encounters in peacebuilding when global and local forces meet Building a sustainable peace after violent conflict is a process that entails competing ideas political contestation and transformation of power relations This volume develops the concept of friction to better analyse the interplay between global ideas actors and practices and their local counterparts The chapters examine efforts undertaken to promote sustainable peace in a variety of locations such as Cambodia Sri Lanka Afghanistan and Sierra Leone These case analyses provide a nuanced understanding not simply of local processes or of the hybrid or mixed agencies ideas and processes that are generated but of the complex interactions that unfold between all of these elements in the context of peacebuilding intervention The analyses demonstrate how the ambivalent relationship between global and local actors leads to unintended and sometimes counterproductive results of peacebuilding interventions The approach of this book with its focus on friction as a conceptual tool advances the peacebuilding research agenda and adds to two ongoing debates in the peacebuilding field the debate on hybridity and the debate on local agency and local ownership In analysing frictional encounters this volume prepares the ground for a better understanding of the mixed impact peace initiatives have on post conflict societies This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution security studies and international relations in general

Struggle for Self- Determination ,2015-07-15 The book examines several models which have been advocated for a workable and acceptable solution to the Kurdish problem which would be absolutely necessary for stability in the West Asian region The book evaluates how the more than two decade long experience of Kurdish self rule in a democratic framework in Iraqi Kurdistan affects the debate over the other Kurdish regions in West Asia With Turkey s European Union accession process contributing to the opening of the political space to ethno nationalism there is a need for a non military solution to the Kurdish issue The book analyses the role of Kurdish diaspora which plays a significant part in placing the Kurdish question on the European political agenda It also examines the role of the Kurds in the aftermath of the Arab Spring and the changing geopolitics in the region Now the Kurds maintain the strongest platform in battling against the ISIS terrorists

Children Born of War Sabine Lee,Heide Glaesmer,Barbara Stelzl-Marx,2021-07-28 This volume presents research from an international interdisciplinary and intersectoral research project in which 15 doctoral researchers explored a range of issues related to the life course experiences of children born of war in 20th century conflicts Children Born of War CBOW children fathered by foreign soldiers and born to local mothers during and after armed conflicts have long been neglected in the research of the social consequences of war Based on research projects completed under the auspices of the Horizon2020 funded international and interdisciplinary research and training network CHIBOW www.chibow.org this book examines the psychological and social impact of war on these children It focusses on three separate but interrelated themes firstly it explores methodological and ethical issues related to research with war affected populations in general and children born of war in particular Secondly it presents innovative historical research focussing specifically on geopolitical areas that have hitherto been unexplored and thirdly it addresses from a psychological and psychiatric perspective the challenges faced by children born of war in post conflict communities including stigmatisation discrimination within the significant context of identity formation when faced with contested memories of volatile post war experiences The book offers an insight into the social consequences of war for those children associated with the enemy by virtue of their direct biological link     Subject
