

BACTERIA – a single cell organisms. Well-known examples of bacteria include salmonella and staphylococcus bacteria.

Nomenclature of Bacteria - Refers to naming of bacteria and other organism which are named according to the binomial system.

TYPES OF BACTERIA

Spherical: Bacteria shaped like a ball are called cocci, and a single bacterium is a coccus.

Rod-shaped: These are known as bacilli (singular bacillus). Some rod-shaped bacteria are curved. These are known as vibrio.

Spiral: These are known as spirilla (singular spirillus). If their coil is very tight they are known as spirochetes.

Bacteria Structure

Capsule – some bacteria have this third protective covering which is made up of polysaccharides; most important role is to keep the bacterium from drying out and protect it from phagocytosis or engulfing by larger micro-organisms.

Cell wall – each bacterium is enclosed in rigid cell wall that gives its shape and surrounds the cytoplasmic membrane, protecting it from the environment; the strength of the wall is responsible from keeping the cells from bursting when there's a large difference in osmotic pressure between cytoplasm and environment.

Plasma membrane – a layer of phospholipids and proteins that encloses the interior of the bacterium, regulating the flow of materials in and out of the cell.

Nucleoid – region of cytoplasm where DNA is located.

Cytoplasm – this is where the functions of cell growth, metabolism, and replication are carried out.

Ribosomes – microscopic factories found in all cells; translate genetic code from the molecular language of nucleic acid to that of amino acids – the building blocks of proteins which are the molecules that performs the functions of cells and living organisms.

Flagellum – hairlike structure that provide a means of locomotive function for those bacteria that have them; helps the bacteria to move away from toxic chemicals and towards nutrients.

Pilus – hairlike projections (shorter) that assists the bacteria in attaching to other cells and surfaces.

Bacteria Feeding

Heterotrophic bacteria, or heterotrophs, get their energy through consuming organic carbon. Most absorb dead organic material, such as decomposing flesh. Some of these parasitic bacteria kill their host, while others help them.

Autotrophic bacteria (autotrophs) make their own food, either through either: photosynthesis, or chemosynthesis.

Photoautotrophs Bacteria that use photosynthesis

Chemoautotrophs Those that use chemosynthesis These bacteria are commonly found in ocean vents and in the roots of legumes.

How do bacteria reproduce?

Binary fission the bacterium, which is a single cell, divides into two identical daughter cells .-> begins when the DNA of the bacterium divides into two (replicates)

Bacterial Diseases in Humans

Diseases of the Upper Respiratory Tract

1. Streptococcal diseases (strep throat): are caused by Streptococcus pyogenes.

2. Diphtheria is caused by a prophage-harboring strain of Corynebacterium diphtheriae. As dead tissue accumulates, a pseudomembrane forms in the throat or nasopharynx.

3. Pertussis (whooping cough) is caused by Bordetella pertussis

4. Bacterial meningitis is an inflammation of the membranes surrounding the brain and spinal cord. The infection can be caused by Neisseria meningitidis, Streptococcus pneumoniae, or Haemophilus influenzae.

Diseases of the lower Respiratory Tract

1. Tuberculosis (TB) is caused by the acid-fast bacilli of Mycobacterium tuberculosis.

2. "Typical" bacterial pneumonia is primarily caused by Streptococcus pneumoniae (pneumococcal pneumonia), Haemophilus influenzae, Staphylococcus aureus, and Klebsiella pneumoniae are other species.

3. "Atypical" bacterial pneumonia can be caused by Mycoplasma pneumoniae

Foodborne and Waterborne Bacterial Diseases

1. Botulism is a severe form of food poisoning caused by nerve toxins produced by Clostridium botulinum.

2. Salmonella Typhi is an acid-resistance bacillus that invades the blood. The infection is characterized by fever, abdominal pain, rose spots, lethargy, and delirium. - Typhoid vaccines are available and chloramphenicol is the antibiotic of choice.

3. Vibrio cholerae infects the small intestines, producing an enterotoxin causing profuse watery diarrhea and vomiting.

Anthrax is an acute infectious disease caused by Bacillus anthracis.

Clostridium tetani is the causative agent of tetanus.

Leptospirosis is a disease spread from animals to humans (zoonosis) by Leptospira interrogans. Infected individuals have flu-like symptoms.

Syphilis caused by Treponema pallidum. Primary syphilis is characterized by a chancre.

Gonorrhea caused by Neisseria gonorrhoeae women may have symptoms of vaginal and urethral discharge of pus and burning during urination.

Anticancer Drug Development and Clinical Response* Federico Innocenti, 2008-10-30 Genomics and Pharmacogenomics in Anticancer Drug Development and Clinical Response provides the most comprehensive body of knowledge available on the role of genetic and genomic variation in the individualization of drug therapies in cancer patients As a consequence of the intrinsic chromosomal and genetic instability of the tumor genome it is generally believed that tailoring of chemotherapy in cancer patients might be achieved by molecular analysis of patient tumor DNA In addition to reduce the toxicity risk of patients the tumor DNA information should be integrated with the available data on polymorphic drug metabolizing enzyme and transporter genes mediating the exposure of patients to active drugs and or their active metabolites The chapters of this book clearly show how DNA information from both the host germline and the tumor should be taken into account for rational selection of drug therapies in cancer patients an aspect that received little attention despite its importance The availability of new molecular approaches to the selection of drug therapy is an emerging need because the traditional approach based on the evaluation of patient and tumor characteristics is clearly far from optimal Many treated patients do not experience significant benefits from the treatment while they often experience moderate to severe toxicities In addition the development and clinical use of novel molecularly targeted agents alone or in combination with classical cytotoxic therapy requires the understanding of the molecular features of the tumors and the identification of tumor markers of response Bibliography of Medical Reviews, 1971 The Locavore's Dilemma Pierre Desrochers, Hiroko Shimizu, 2012-06-05 A new generation of food activists has come to believe that sustainable farming and eating local are the way to solve a host of perceived problems with our modern food supply system By combining healthy eating and a high standard of environmental stewardship these locavores think we can also deliver important economic benefits and increase food security within local economies But after a thorough review of the evidence economic geographer Pierre Desrochers and policy analyst Hiroko Shimizu have concluded these claims are mistaken In The Locavore's Dilemma they explain the history science and economics of food supply to reveal what locavores miss or misunderstand the real environmental impacts of agricultural production the drudgery of subsistence farming and the essential role large scale industrial producers play in making food more available varied affordable and nutritionally rich than ever before in history At best they show locavorism is a well meaning marketing fad among the world's most privileged consumers At worst it constitutes a dangerous distraction from solving serious global food issues Deliberately provocative but based on scrupulous research and incontrovertible scientific evidence The Locavore's Dilemma proves that Our modern food supply chain is a superior alternative that has evolved through constant competition and ever more rigorous efficiency A world food chain characterized by free trade and the absence of agricultural subsidies would deliver lower prices and more variety in a manner that is both economically and environmentally more sustainable There is no need to feel guilty for not joining the locavores on their crusade Eating globally not only locally is the way to save the planet
