Mission to Tehran , 1968      Iran and Russian Imperialism Moritz Deutschmann, 2015-12-22 Rather than a centralized state Iran in the nineteenth century was a delicate balance between tribal groups urban merchant communities religious elites and an autocratic monarchy While Russia gained an increasingly dominant political role in Iran over the course of this century Russian influence was often challenged by banditry on the roads riots in the cities and the seeming arbitrariness of the Shah Iran and Russian Imperialism develops a comprehensive picture of Russia s historical entanglements with one of its most important neighbours in Asia It recounts how the Russian Empire strived to gain political influence at the Persian court promote Russian trade and secure the enormous southern borders of the empire Using hitherto often neglected documents from archives in Russia and Georgia and reading them against the grain this book reveals the complex reactions of different groups in Iranian society to Russian imperialism As it turns out the Iranians were in the words of the Russian orientalist Konstantin Smirnov ideal anarchists whose resistance to imperial domination as well as to centralized state institutions more generally impacted developments in the region in the century to come Iran s troubled relationship with the wider world continues to be a topic of considerable interest to historians yet little focus has been given to Russia s historical connections to Iran This book thus represents a valuable contribution to Iranian and Russian History as well as International Relations

Decolonization and the Evolution of International Human Rights Roland Burke, 2011-06-06 In the decades following the triumphant proclamation of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in 1948 the UN General Assembly was transformed by the arrival of newly independent states from Asia Africa and the Middle East This diverse constellation of states introduced new ideas methods and priorities to the human rights program Their influence was magnified by the highly effective nature of Asian Arab and African diplomacy in the UN human rights bodies and the sheer numerical superiority of the so called Afro Asian bloc Owing to the nature of General Assembly procedure the Third World states dominated the human rights agenda and enthusiastic support for universal human rights was replaced by decades of authoritarianism and an increasingly strident rejection of the ideas laid out in the Universal Declaration In Decolonization and the Evolution of International Human Rights Roland Burke explores the changing impact of decolonization on the UN human rights program By recovering the contributions of those Asian African and Arab voices that joined the global rights debate Burke demonstrates the central importance of Third World influence across the most pivotal battles in the United Nations from those that secured the principle of universality to the passage of the first binding human rights treaties to the flawed but radical step of studying individual pleas for help. The very presence of so many independent voices from outside the West and the often defensive nature of Western interventions complicates the common presumption that the postwar human rights project was driven by Europe and the United States. Drawing on UN transcripts, archives and the personal papers of key historical actors, this book challenges the notion that the international rights order was imposed on an unwilling and marginalized Third World. Far from being excluded, Asian, African and Middle Eastern diplomats were powerful agents in both advancing and later obstructing the promotion of human rights.

Occidentalism: Perceptions of European Architecture in Nineteenth-Century Persian Travel Diaries Vahid Vahdat, 2017-03-31

In the midst of Europe's nineteenth-century industrial revolution, four men embarked on separate journeys to the wondrous Farangistan, a land of fascinating objects, mysterious technologies, heavenly women and magical spaces. Determined to learn the secret of Farangistan's advancements, the travelers kept detailed records of their observations. These diaries mapped an aspirational path to progress for curious Iranian audiences who were eager to change the course of history. Two hundred years later, Travels in Farangi Space unpacks these writings to reveal a challenging new interpretation of Iran's experience of modernity. This book opens the Persian travelers' long-forgotten suitcases and analyzes the descriptions contained within to gain insight into Occidentalism perspectives on modern Europe. By carefully tracing the physical and mental journeys of these travelers, the book paints a picture of European architecture that is nothing like what one would expect     James Outram Frederic John Goldsmid, 1880     Iran and the Gulf: A Search for Stability Prof. Jamal Sanad Al-Suwaidi, This volume presents the research and analyses of internationally recognized scholars concerning the internal and external dynamics which affect and often determine the policies of the Islamic Republic of Iran Following an introduction designed to provide an analytical and contextual backdrop the volume begins with a detailed look at the Iranian polity its evolution before and after the revolution and the role of ideology The next section addresses Iranian foreign policy with respect to the Arab Gulf states as a function of domestic dynamics and as a response to regional and international events and constraints The third section discusses Iran's military capabilities and includes reasoned judgments concerning the Islamic Republic's intentions and aspirations in the military realm The book concludes with a discussion of the evolving relationship between the GCC states and Iran with particular focus on the security dynamics that attend that relationship for the foreseeable future This timely and comprehensive work acknowledges Iran's important and immutable role in Gulf affairs and particularly in Gulf security affairs It also acknowledges the important evolution in Iranian foreign policy which has occurred since the revolution of 1979 and particularly since the death of the Iranian revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini     The Magazine of Christian Literature , 1892     *Treaties, &c. Iranian-Russian Encounters Stephanie Cronin, 2013 Over the past two hundred years encounters between Iran and Russia have been both rich and complex This book explores the myriad dimensions of the Iranian Russian encounter during a dramatic period which saw both Iran and Russia subject to revolutionary upheavals and transformed from multinational dynastic empires typical of the nineteenth century to modernizing authoritarian states typical of the twentieth The collection provides a fresh perspective on traditional preoccupations of international relations wars and diplomacy the hostility of opposing nationalisms the Russian imperial menace in the nineteenth century and the Soviet threat in the twentieth Going beyond the traditional this book examines subaltern as well as elite relations and combines a cultural social and intellectual dimension with the political and diplomatic In doing so the book seeks to construct a new discourse which contests the notion of an implacable enmity between Iran and Russia Bringing together leading scholars in the field this book demonstrates extensive use of family archives Iranian Russian and Caucasian travelogues and memoirs and newly available archives in both Iran and the countries of the former Soviet Union Providing essential background to current international tensions this book will be of particular use to students and scholars with an interest in the Middle East and Russia Iran's Rise and Rivalry with the US in the Middle East Mohsen M.
