Translation and Cultural Change Eva Hung, 2005-05-26 History tells us that translation plays a part in the development of all cultures Historical cases also show us repeatedly that translated works which had real social and cultural impact often bear little resemblance to the idealized concept of a good translation Since the perception and reception of translated works as well as the translation norms which are established through contest and or consensus reflect the concerns preferences and aspirations of their host cultures they are never static or homogenous even within a given culture This book is dedicated to exploring some of the factors in the interplay of culture and translation with an emphasis on translation activities outside the Anglo European tradition particularly in China and Japan

Beyond Descriptive Translation Studies Anthony Pym, Miriam Shlesinger, Daniel Simeoni, 2008-03-13 To go beyond the work of a leading intellectual is rarely an unambiguous tribute However when Gideon Toury founded Descriptive Translation Studies as a research based discipline he laid down precisely that intellectual challenge not just to describe translation but to explain it through reference to wider relations That call offers at once a common base an open and multidirectional ambition and many good reasons for unambiguous tribute The authors brought together in this volume include key players in Translation Studies who have responded to Toury's challenge in one way or another Their diverse contributions address issues such as the sociology of translators contemporary changes in intercultural relations the fundamental problem of defining translations the nature of explanation and case studies including pseudotranslation in Renaissance Italy Sherlock Holmes in Turkey and the coffee and sugar economy in Brazil All acknowledge Translation Studies as a research based space for conceptual coherence and creativity all seek to explain as well as describe In this sense we believe that Toury's call has been answered beyond expectations The Annet den Haan, 2016-09-12 In Giannozzo Manetti's New Testament Annet den Haan analyses the Latin translation of the Greek New Testament made by the fifteenth century humanist Giannozzo Manetti 1396-1459. The book includes the first edition of Manetti's text. Manetti's translation was the first since Jerome's Vulgate and it predates Erasmus' Novum Instrumentum by half a century. Written at the Vatican court in the 1450s, it is a unique example of humanist philology applied to the sacred text in the pre-Reformation era. Den Haan argues that Manetti's translation was influenced by Valla's Annotationes and compares Manetti's translation method with his treatise on correct translation Apologeticus 1458. The Fictions of Translation Judith Woodsworth, 2018-02-15 In The Fictions of Translation emerging and seasoned scholars from a range of cultures bring fresh perspectives to bear on the age-old practice of translation. The current movement of people, knowledge, and goods around the world has made intercultural communication both prevalent and indispensable. Consequently, the translator has become a more prominent figure and translation an increasingly present theme in works of literature. Embedding translation in a fictional setting and considering its most extreme forms, pseudotranslation or self-translation, for example, are fruitful ways of conceptualizing the act of translating and extending the boundaries of translation studies. Taken together, the various translational fictions examined in this collection yield new insights into questions of displacement, migration, and hybridity, all characteristic of the modern world. The Fictions of Translation will thus be of interest to practising translators, students, and scholars of translation and literary studies, as well as a more general readership. Translation as Intercultural Communication Mary Snell-Hornby, Zuzana Jettmarová, Klaus Kaindl, 1997-08-21 This selection of 30 contributions, 3 workshop reports, 27 papers from 14 countries, concentrates on intercultural communication in its broadest sense. Themes vary from dissident translation under the Marcos dictatorship in the Philippines and translation as a process of power in the 3rd world context to drama translation and the role of the cognitive sciences in translation theory. Topics of current interest such as media interpreting, news translation, advertising, subtitling, and the ethics of translation have a prominent position, as does the Workshop Contact as Conflict, which discusses the phenomenon of the hybrid text as a result of the translation process. The volume closes with the EST Focus debate on thorny issues of Methodology, Policy, and Training. The volume demonstrates clearly the richness and breadth of the topics dealt with in Translation Studies today, along with its complex interaction with neighbouring disciplines.
