Buss,F Stevens Redburn,Kristina Guo,2014-12-18 How do you put the public in public management How can the traditional ethos of professionalism and technical expertise be reconciled with norms of representation and citizen participation at a time when technology is transforming communication between citizens and government in some ways enhancing the exchange and in other ways complicating it Modernizing Democracy Innovations in Citizen Participation points the way Written for public administration professionals scholars and students interested in citizen participation it brings together new analyses of innovative practices from hands on community learning and focus groups to high tech information systems and decision support technologies The expert contributors illuminate the various roles that public administrators and leaders can play in fostering constructive meaningful citizen involvement at all stages of the public policy process from initiation and planning to feedback on public agency performance The Cambridge Handbook of Deliberative Constitutionalism Ron Levy,Hoi Kong,Graeme Orr,Jeff King,2018-04-19 Deliberative democratic theory emphasises the importance of informed and reflective discussion and persuasion in political decision making The theory has important implications for constitutionalism and vice versa as constitutional laws increasingly shape and constrain political decisions The full range of these implications has not been explored in the political and constitutional literatures to date This unique Handbook establishes the parameters of the field of deliberative constitutionalism which bridges deliberative democracy with constitutional theory and practice Drawing on contributions from world leading authors this volume will serve as the international reference point on deliberation as a foundational value in constitutional law and will be an indispensable resource for scholars students and practitioners interested in the vital and complex links between democratic deliberation and constitutionalism Justice for an Unjust Society H.P.P. (Hennie) Lötter,2021-11-01 This book presents a theory of justice whereby people living in radically unjust societies may transform such societies in the direction of justice The identification of injustice is addressed since a radically unjust society may well conceal its injustice from its victims The book considers a range of moral and pragmatic requirements of political action in the transformation of society A special feature of this work of theory is that it is illustrated by troubling examples drawn from the history of South Africa The case made here is that justice is not just for just societies It is for all of us everywhere The Confessing Society Andreas Fejes,Magnus Dahlstedt,2013-05-02 I highly appreciate the quality of Fejes and Dahlstedt s research and writing They manage to present in a comprehensible way some essential concepts of Foucault that help us to understand better what practices of lifelong learning in a broad sense are emerging nowadays in advanced liberal societies In doing so they contribute to the renewal of critical thinking in education They convince me that such renewal is important and necessary and I think both theoreticians and practitioners of lifelong learning will equally recognize and value this analysis particularly also because they present a good mix of theory and practice Professor Danny Wildemeersch Today people are constantly encouraged to verbalise and disclose their true inner self to others whether on TV shows in newspapers in family life or together with friends Such encouragement to disclose the self has proliferated through discourses on lifelong learning through which each citizen is encouraged to become a constant learner The Confessing Society takes a critical stance towards the modern relentless will to disclose the self and argues that society has become a confessing society Drawing on Foucault's later work on confession and governmentality this book carefully analyses how confession operates within practices of lifelong learning as a way to shape activated and responsible citizens and provides examples of how it might be possible to traverse the confessional truth of the present time Chapters include Reflection and Reflective Practices Deliberation and Therapeutic Intervention Lifelong Guidance Medialised Parenting This controversial book is international in its scope and pursues current debates regarding trans national policy and to research discussions on education lifelong learning and governance and it will provoke lively debate amongst educational practitioners academics postgraduate and research students in education and lifelong learning in Europe North America and Australasia
