Background

Required for Marine VHF and International VHF operations:

1. Restricted Radiotelephone Operator Permit (RRP) — permits an individual to communicate on marine VHF/UHF radio, and internationally on marine VHF frequencies.
2. Radio Marine License, Basic Radiotelephone or Radiotelegraph (RBL) — permits the operation of a licensed radio on marine VHF/UHF (2000), and internationally on marine VHF frequencies. The operator must be on the operating list, as indicated with a Restricted Radiotelephone Operator Permit.

You will receive data communications on various radio frequencies in addition to, or instead of, marine frequencies. The following license is required:

3. Amateur Radio License (ARRL, General Class) — permits an individual to operate on amateur radio frequencies, including VHF and HF bands (note that a Technician Class license does not permit HF operation).

Please be sure to study the Marine Radio Licensing — Checklist & License page for helpful comments about radio licensing and operating requirements.

Data Services

The following is a summary of the data packet data services offered for medium- and high-frequency (HF) and VHF radio operation:

Beefing — Network of stations operating on marine VHF frequencies within the VHF and HF bands. It is a commercial operation, which has resulted in several stations on the service. Coverage time is restricted to 10 minutes per week. Except for limited data from some services, the restrictions are not permitted.

Beefing (BBS) — Network of stations operating on Amateur Radio frequencies in the VHF and HF bands. Other VHF services require a General Class Radiotelephone License. Due to limited radio operating regulations, this network may not be used to receive messages. The majority of "beefing" service has very limited radio communication with your computer. Please note: "Beefing" is not an acronym for either a radio or a computer system. It is provided when stations receive information about the station's performance and quality. Communication is restricted to 10 minutes per day. The restrictions are permitted.
