Mind the Gap! Alfie Bouwer, Julia Grey, Reneé Ferreira, South Africa. Department of Basic Education, 2012

Self-directed learning research and its impact on educational practice Elsa Mentz, Roxanne Bailey, 2021-05-17 This scholarly book is the third volume in an NWU book series on self directed learning and is devoted to self directed learning research and its impact on educational practice The importance of self directed learning for learners in the 21st century to equip themselves with the necessary skills to take responsibility for their own learning for life cannot be over emphasised The target audience does not only consist of scholars in the field of self directed learning in Higher Education and the Schooling sector but includes all scholars in the field of teaching and learning in all education and training sectors The book contributes to the discourse on creating dispositions towards self directed learning among all learners and adds to the latest body of scholarship in terms of self directed learning Although from different perspectives all chapters in the book are closely linked together around self directed learning as a central theme following on the work done in Volume 1 of this series Self Directed Learning for the 21st Century Implications for Higher Education to form a rich knowledge bank of work on self directed learning

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI Mind, Brain, and Education Science: A Comprehensive Guide to the New Brain-Based Teaching Tracey Tokuhamma-Espinosa, 2010-12-20 Establishing the parameters and goals of the new field of mind brain and education science A groundbreaking work Mind Brain and Education Science explains the new transdisciplinary academic field that has grown out of the intersection of neuroscience education and psychology The trend in brain based teaching has been growing for the past twenty years and has exploded in the past five to become the most authoritative pedagogy for best learning results Aimed at teachers teacher trainers and policy makers and anyone interested in the future of education in America and beyond Mind Brain and Education Science responds to the clamor for help in identifying what information could and should apply in classrooms with confidence and what information is simply commercial hype Combining an exhaustive review of the literature as well as interviews with over twenty thought leaders in the field from six different countries this book describes the birth and future of this new and groundbreaking discipline Mind Brain and Education Science looks at the foundations standards and history of the field outlining the ways that new information should be judged Well established information is elegantly separated from neuromyths to help teachers split the wheat from the chaff in classroom planning instruction and teaching methodology The Reproductive Body at Work Verena Namberger, 2019-04-11 The transnational industry surrounding assisted reproductive technology and regenerative medicine is based on the unacknowledged labour of gamete providers surrogates and research subjects and benefits from low labour costs in enabling sectors such as logistics and transport This finding calls for a comprehensive analysis of how the contemporary intersection of neoliberal capitalism and the life sciences in short the bioeconomy capitalises on the body and its reproductive capacities The Reproductive Body at Work uptakes this challenge as it explores the relations between value production labour and the body in one particular realm of the global bioeconomy the South African bioeconomy of egg donation It highlights different forms and dimensions of unacknowledged or precarious human labour that are constitutive for the procurement brokering and circulation of oocytes as valuable resources The analysis illustrates that the respective organisation of value and labour renegotiate what the reproductive body can do which status and roles it is ascribed which cultural and economic values it signifies and how it is experienced and enacted within a matrix of intersectional power relations A theoretically profound contribution to the interdisciplinary debate on New materialism The Reproductive Body at Work will appeal to students and researchers interested in fields such as gender studies medical anthropology cultural studies sociology political economy and science and technology studies Key Practices for Fostering Engaged Learning Jessie L. Annual Report South Africa. Department of Basic Education,2016 Epistemic Justice, Mindfulness, and the Environmental Humanities Janelle Adsit,2021-11-29 Epistemic Justice Mindfulness and the Environmental Humanities explores how contemplative pedagogies and mindfulness can be used in the classroom to address epistemic and environmental injustice In recent years there has been a groundswell of interest in contemplative pedagogies in higher education with increasing attention from the environmental sciences environmental humanities and sustainability studies Teachers and writers have demonstrated how mindfulness practices can be a key to anti oppression and anti racist efforts both in and out of the classroom Not all forms of contemplative pedagogy are suited for this anti colonial and anti oppressive resistance however Simply adopting mindfulness practices in the classroom is not enough to dislodge and dismantle white supremacy in higher education Epistemic Justice Mindfulness and the Environmental Humanities advocates for mindfulness practices that affirm multiple epistemologies and cultural traditions Written for educators in the environmental humanities and other related disciplines the chapters interrogate the western uptake of mindfulness practices and suggest anti colonial and anti oppressive methods for bringing mindfulness into the classroom The chapters also discuss what mindfulness practices have to offer to the pursuit of a culturally relevant pedagogy This highly applied and practical text will be an insightful read for educators in the environmental humanities and across the liberal arts disciplines

Media in Mind Daniel Reynolds, 2018-11-30 Where do you end and where do media begin In Media in Mind author Daniel Reynolds draws upon naturalist philosophies of the mind from John Dewey through contemporary theories of embodied and extended cognition to make the case that the lines separating media from the minds of their users are not blurry or variable so much as they never existed to begin with Through analyses of films and video games from 1900 to the present Media in Mind shows how media forms and technologies challenge dominant models of perception and mental representation and how they complicate theoretical understanding of concepts like the platform and the interface In order to do justice to the profound and literally mind changing power of media Reynolds argues we need to think not so much about the relationship between media and the mind as about the roles that media play in our minds Through this crucial distinction Media in Mind surveys more than a century of media theory to illustrate the ways that scholars of film and digital media have situated and reconsidered a series of divisions between media user and world and how these conceptual divisions have reflected and inflected their ways of understanding the mind

Universe, Human Species, Reality Jacques Vanier, 2025-08-11 Universe Human Species Reality A Physicalist Approach describes the functioning of the material universe with the use of intermediate mathematical language The book uses a physicalist approach in the sense that it is based entirely on physical phenomena and on reality and does not use philosophical or theological argumentation based on abstract reasoning not anchored in physical observations Using these observations the book develops the argument that the principle of least action plays a most important role in the functioning of the universe Furthermore if we extend our study we may find an answer to some questions that have not been answered yet As examples we may mention a few of those such as the exact nature of the Big Bang the essence of life and the nature of the intellect brain gap This book should be of interest to undergraduate students in physics and biology and to the general science reader

Key Features Addresses our understanding of the complete basic physics of the universe Uses a physicalist approach rather than a philosophical and theological approach in studying the nature of the universe Gives a rather unique conclusion relative to the functioning of the universe including Homo sapiens
