Developing Pedagogies Learning The Teaching Of English:

Developing Critical Languaculture Pedagogies in Higher Education Adriana Raquel Díaz, 2013-09-17 Despite widespread agreement about the need to develop interculturally competent graduates there is a lack of agreement about how this goal may be achieved in practice This is significant as universities around the world particularly in English speaking countries have espoused an interculturally aware vision for their future graduates and turned to language education as an inherently intercultural activity to expose students to a world which is linguistically and culturally different from their own This book focuses on narrowing the gap between the often conflicting theoretical and practical imperatives faced by language teachers in an internationalised higher education context It does so by providing comprehensive conceptual discussions of emerging critical intercultural language pedagogies as well as empirical accounts and case studies from the frontline

Digital Humanities Pedagogy Brett D. Hirsch, 2012 The essays in this collection offer a timely intervention in digital humanities scholarship bringing together established and emerging scholars from a variety of humanities disciplines across the world The first section offers views on the practical realities of teaching digital humanities at undergraduate and graduate levels presenting case studies and snapshots of the authors experiences alongside models for future courses and reflections on pedagogical successes and failures The next section proposes strategies for teaching foundational digital humanities methods across a variety of scholarly disciplines and the book concludes with wider debates about the place of digital humanities in the academy from the field s cultural assumptions and social obligations to its political visions on Blended Learning Pedagogies and Professional Development in Higher Education is a critical research publication that delves into the importance of effective professional development for educators planning and teaching online or blended courses. It also establishes the benefits of technology mediated learning environments over traditional learning methods. Highlighting a wide array of topics such as online learning environments, active learning model, and educational development, this publication explores technology based teaching methods in higher education. This book is targeted toward educators, educational administrators, academicians, researchers, and professionals within the realm of higher education. Pedagogies for Autonomy in Language Teacher Education Manuel Jiménez Raya, Borja Manzano Vázquez, Flávia Vieira, 2024-06-28. This book aims to challenge established teaching cultures to promote teacher autonomy and autonomy oriented pedagogies in language teacher education. Offering a set of inspiring case studies that illustrate language teacher education for autonomy as a space of multiple possibilities, the book fuses theory and practice and gives a holistic view of the changing landscape of language teacher education, accounting for the transformative power of educational practices that help teachers think and act in informed, context specific and learner centred ways. It also demonstrates the importance of autonomy in language teacher education contexts, specifically to foster teachers' professional learning identity and agency, as well as in assessing and reshaping teacher education programmes. This book will be particularly useful to researchers, scholars, and postgraduate students in the fields of teaching and teacher education, modern foreign languages, and teaching and learning language research more broadly. Curriculum designers and language teacher education programme directors may also find the volume of use. Developing Pedagogies of Compassion in Higher Education Kathryn Waddington, Bryan Bonaparte, 2024-09-07. This collection addresses intersections and gaps between practice, theory, and research that both connect and divide compassion and pedagogies. In foregrounding practice, it makes an important contribution to the growing call for universities and educators to adopt inclusive, student centred approaches that challenge us to fundamentally re think what universities do. It celebrates the role of students as co creators of knowledge, locating them at the heart of what pedagogies of compassion in higher education should feel like and look like. It examines how compassion can become both critical and strategic in order to disrupt systems and orthodoxies that are no longer fit for purpose in a post pandemic world. The ultimate goal the book aims to address is the need for humane universities driven by compassion rather than profit, which can help to build fairer and more socially just societies. The book extends the theoretical and practical discussions of compassion as a fundamental organizing principle in higher education. It brings fresh interdisciplinary thinking, theories, and approaches, including the neuroscience of compassion, classical Eastern philosophies, intersectional compassion, sustainability, and environmental stewardship. It also includes critical reflection on experiences, challenges, barriers, and enablers across multiple levels and perspectives. These range from reflections on compassion in the classroom to compassion in the boardroom, as well as in the many other spaces and places where learning occurs. It offers a creative collection of essays on compassionate practices in higher education and appeals to anyone who is concerned about the moral standing of the university For some time now we have been told that universities must be viewed on the business model but this has only discouraged faculty students and staff As the contributors show however the very idea that teaching and educational practices could be more closely linked to compassion is definitely appealing and it gives us a more inspiring way of thinking about the university of the future Richard J White Creighton University Omaha NE USA      Policy Development in TESOL and Multilingualism Kashif Raza,Christine Coombe,Dudley Reynolds,2021-08-22 The book is of interest to scholars of multilingualism language teachers researchers and administrators who are developing policies on teaching English and promoting multilingualism Given its scope this edited collection provides an overview of how multilingualism is transforming the practice of Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL in diverse contexts around the world It serves as a platform for discussions related to policy enactment where TESOL and multilingualism are viewed as collaborative endeavours and approaches the topic from three different angles The first section of the book provides critical examinations of previous initiatives and accomplishments in the area of language policy development and implementation The second section describes current projects and initiatives intended to expand and strengthen the field of TESOL while providing space for local and indigenous languages to develop The third and last part of the book highlights policy development areas that need special consideration in order to develop a form of TESOL that builds on and contributes to multilingualism      Education in Indonesia Zulfa Sakhiyya,Teguh Wijaya Mulya,2023-07-13 This book offers a critical analysis on Indonesian education by drawing from various critical perspectives and theoretical frameworks to explore persistent challenges and social inequality problems in the education sector Critical perspectives are important to reveal how education is not a neutral mechanistic process of cultivating the knowledge and skills of future generation Instead it is a battleground in which competing visions ideologies discourses religious values and political interests struggle for dominance in a given society In each of the sections contributors draw upon specific case studies and employ critical theories to analyze power relations or to identify and destabilize underlying structures dominant discourses hegemonic knowledge policies or practices Some authors also highlight data evidencing inequities inequalities or injustices in Indonesian education system As a handbook the emphasis on critical perspectives is useful to identify and evaluate the blind spots of dominant policy discourses and their pedagogical consequences The plurality of critical approaches also means that this book is necessarily multidisciplinary A unique feature of this book is the fact that most authors are Indonesian academics who bring with them tacit knowledge of practices and issues Overall this book enriches the literature by bringing together different disciplinary perspectives such as political science psychology international relations economics and linguistics to critically examine important issues related to education in Indonesia      Professional Development through Teacher Research Darío Luis Banegas,Emily Edwards,Luis S. Villacañas de Castro,2022-03-16 Little is known about how language teacher educators become and also develop professionally as teachers of teachers One avenue for teacher education professional development is that of teacher research whereby teacher educators can not only improve their practices in their immediate context but also help develop transformative pedagogies in wider contexts by sharing their research This volume aims to understand how language teacher educators around the world continue developing professionally by examining their own teaching practices It seeks to understand the professional gains teacher educators see in conducting research with their own students future teachers to promote knowledge democratisation by including teacher educators from under represented contexts such as Latin America and Africa to examine language teacher educators motivations to write for publication and to reduce the gap between educational research and educational practice in BA and MA programmes in language teaching Handbook of CALL Teacher Education and Professional Development Dara Tafazoli, Michelle Picard, 2023-04-26 This comprehensive handbook provides an overview of current trends in computer assisted language learning CALL teacher education and professional development across the globe It highlights theories and practices in CALL teacher education and professional development in five sections such as English language teaching including pre service teachers in service teachers teacher educators material developers course designers and researchers It explores the role of CALL teacher education and professional development in many underexplored countries such as Africa Asia Eastern Europe and the Middle East It stresses the critical role of professional development programs from the use of technology in its generic sense The theoretical and empirical chapters in the book provide a more inclusive and comprehensive picture of various aspects of CALL teacher education and professional development globally It offers context specific approaches and strategies to language teachers and teacher educators It provides pedagogical implications and suggestions for promoting digital literacy and autonomy in online education This book provides valuable insights for researchers teacher educators and teacher trainers in applied linguistics

ELT, Gender and International Development Roslyn Appleby, 2010 For believers in the power of English language as aid can deliver the promise of a brighter future but in a neocolonial world of international development a gulf exists between belief and reality Rich with echoes of an earlier colonial era this book draws on the candid narratives of white women teachers and situates classroom practices within a broad reading of the West and the Rest What happens when white Western men and women come in to rebuild former colonies in Asia How do English language lessons translate or disintegrate in a radically different world How is English teaching linked to ideas of progress This book presents the paradoxes of language aid in the 21st century in a way that will challenge your views of English and its power to improve the lives of people in the developing world This book s focus on gender relations in development contexts its superb deconstruction of aid agencies in situ the gendered space of ELT classrooms and the voices of ELT teachers working in development contexts is unique This book should be read not only by sociolinguists sociologists critical theorists and theorists of development working in the academy but also NGOs and aid agencies working in post trauma societies There is much to be learned here Naz Rassool The University of Reading UK

Culturally Sustaining and Revitalizing Pedagogies Cathy Coulter, Margarita Jimenez-Silva, 2017-06-06 This book highlights the journeys challenges and unfolding stories of transformation that reside within university community partnerships focused on cultural and linguistic revitalization through schooling

Transformation and Empowerment through Education Raqib Chowdhury, 2018-11-19 Transformation and Empowerment through Education challenges the normalisation of Western discourses as the optimal choice for empowering education The book aims to reconstruct our relationship with education and employs contemporary theories in order to understand some of the most persistent phenomena in contemporary education and its role in our lives Written by professionals with experience of a wide range of academic and institutional conventions and traditions and from diverse ethnocultural backgrounds this book effectively presents a global perspective on educational practices both inside and outside the classroom The range of topics covered includes equity access inclusivity social justice leadership and the internationalisation of teaching This book based on empirical studies using key methodologies is ideal for academics and postgraduate researchers interested in critical pedagogy educational studies and educational linguistics as well as educators and policymakers around the world

Contemporary Foundations for Teaching English as an Additional Language Polina Vinogradova, Joan Kang Shin, 2020-10-29 This engaging volume on English as an Additional Language EAL argues persuasively for the importance of critical participatory pedagogies that embrace multilingualism and multimodality in the field of TESOL It highlights the role of the TESOL profession in teaching for social justice and advocacy and explores how critical participatory pedagogies translate into English language teaching and teacher education around the world Bringing together diverse scholars in the field and practicing English language teachers editors Polina Vinogradova and Joan Kang Shin present 10 thematically organized units that demonstrate that language teaching pedagogy must be embedded in the larger sociocultural contexts of teaching and learning to be successful Each unit covers one pedagogical approach and includes three case studies to illustrate how English language teachers across the world implement these approaches in their classrooms The chapters are supplemented by discussion questions and a range of practical sources for further exploration Addressing established and emerging areas of TESOL topics covered include Critical and postmethod pedagogies Translingualism Digital literacy and multiliteracies Culturally responsive pedagogy Advocacy Featuring educators implementing innovative approaches in primary secondary and tertiary contexts across borders Contemporary Foundations for Teaching English as an Additional Language is an ideal text for methods and foundational courses in TESOL and will appeal to in service and preservice English language teachers as well as students and teacher educators in TESOL and applied linguistics
