Diagnosing The Indonesian Economy Toward Inclusive And Green Growth:

Diagnosing the Indonesian Economy Hal Hill, Muhammad Ehsan Khan, Juzhong Zhuang, 2013-10-01 Diagnosing the Indonesian Economy Toward Inclusive and Green Growth discusses the critical constraints to inclusive economic growth in Indonesia. The volume includes a broad overview of Indonesia's development since the 1960s and features an analytic framework for the study that aims to identify the most binding constraints. The chapters analyze macroeconomic management since the Asian financial crisis, the status of Indonesia's industrial transformation, the challenges pertaining to Indonesia's infrastructure, the situation of human capital and employment, the record on poverty reduction, the impact and status of the decentralization effort, and the challenges attendant to the country's environment and natural resources. Diagnosing the Indonesian Economy Hal Hill, Muhammad Ehsan Khan, Diagnosing the Indonesian Economy Toward Inclusive and Green Growth analyzes the critical development constraints facing the country and proposes policy options to help overcome these constraints and set the country on a path of high and sustained inclusive economic growth in the medium term. Asian Development Review Andrew Foster, Avraham Ebenstein, Mulubrhan Amare, Lena Hohfeld, Somchai Jitsuchon, Hermann Waibel, Jonathan D. Ostry, Michael M. Hutchison, Chalongphob Sussangkarn, Eli Remolona, Masahiro Kawai, 2012-05-01 The Asian Development Review is a professional journal for disseminating the results of economic and development research carried out by staff and resource persons of the Asian Development Bank (ADB). The Review seeks high quality papers with relevance to policy issues and operational matters done in an empirically rigorous way. Articles are intended for readership among economists and social scientists in government, private sector, academia, and international organizations. In this issue: Creating Good Employment Opportunities for the Rural Sector, Winners and Losers of Multinational Firm Entry into Developing Countries, Evidence from the Special Economic Zones of the People's Republic of China, Rural Urban Migration and Employment Quality: A Case Study From Thailand, ADB Forum on the Use of Capital Controls. Realizing Indonesia's Economic Potential Mr. Luis E. Breuer, Mr. Jaime Guajardo, Mr. Tidiane Kinda, 2018-08-01 Analytical work on Indonesian macroeconomic and financial issues with an overarching theme on building institutions and policies for prosperity and inclusive growth. The book begins with a 20-year economic overview by former Finance Minister Chatib Basri, with subsequent chapters covering diverse sectors of the economy as well as Indonesia's place in the global economy. The Sri Lankan Economy Prema-chandra Athukorala, Edimon Ginting, Hal Hill, Utsav Kumar, 2017-10-01 This is a pivotal period in Sri Lanka's economic development. The end of conflict opens a door for accelerated economic growth and poverty reduction. Reform is needed to regain momentum because fiscal imbalances and rising public debt could jeopardize macroeconomic stability. The economy would benefit from significant trade and commercial policy reform. The labor market suffers from sluggish growth of formal sector employment and from skills mismatches which can be addressed by changes in education policy and systems. The book analyzes these and related critical constraints on the Sri Lankan economy and proposes a set of policy reforms that would lay the foundations for more rapid and inclusive development

Human Capital Formation and Economic Growth in Asia and the Pacific Wendy Dobson, 2013-07-18 The entire planet looks to Asian and other emerging markets to sustain growth momentum as traditional markets in the USA and Europe struggle with the slow and arduous processes of deleveraging after the global financial crisis At the same time there is growing recognition in Asia that the sources of growth must shift to sustain their own growth momentum in the years ahead Heavy reliance on the region's high savings rates and plentiful supplies of low cost labour will have to shift towards increasing the human capital embodied in more educated and skilled labour forces capable of contributing to productivity growth and innovation as future drivers of growth Human Capital Formation and Economic Growth in Asia and the Pacific focuses on why and how countries are making this shift The demographic transition is shown to be a significant factor as ageing populations in Japan South Korea and China manage declining growth in the labour force by stepping up investments in education and by changing policies and institutions Lessons to be learned from these experiences by more youthful populations in Southeast Asia are explored In addition attention is paid to the consequences of cross border differentials in technical knowledge and the quantity and quality of human capital Several implications for public policy and for international cooperation on human capital issues in the Asian region are identified The chapters in this volume are edited versions of papers presented at the 35th Pacific Trade and Development conference held in Vancouver Canada in June 2012 The conference goal was to better understand how governments and business in Asia and the Pacific can apply the key insight that one of the reasons economies grow is because of human capital formation the quality and diversity of the labour force are augmented not just because the labour force grows in size Students of Asia's growth prospects will find several aspects of this volume of particular value It includes chapters on the big picture conceptual and measurement issues on country experiences in meeting the imperatives of the demographic transition and investing in education and skills training and on country experiences with attracting foreign knowledge and the supply and recruitment of skills across borders in Asia and the Pacific Policymakers will also find useful the discussions of policy implications and the menu of issues requiring intergovernmental cooperation within the Asian region

Economic Change in Modern Indonesia Anne Booth, 2016-02-11 Indonesia is often viewed as a country with substantial natural resources which has achieved solid economic growth since the 1960s but which still faces serious economic challenges In 2010 its per capita GDP was only nineteen per cent of that of the Netherlands and twenty two per cent of that of Japan In recent decades per capita GDP has fallen behind that of neighbouring countries such as Malaysia and Thailand and behind China In this accessible but thorough new study Anne Booth explains the long term factors which have influenced Indonesian economic performance taking into account the Dutch colonial legacy and the reaction to it after the transfer of power in 1949 The first part of the book offers a chronological study of economic development from the late nineteenth to the early twenty first century while the second part explores topics including the persistence of economic nationalism and the ongoing tensions between Indonesia's diverse regions

Employment and Re-Industrialisation in Post Soeharto Indonesia Mohammad Zulfan Tadjoeeddin, Anis Chowdhury, 2018-05-15 This book studies the challenges for Indonesia once a miracle economy as it faces premature deindustrialisation rising inequality and domestic and external factors impacting its export oriented industrialization Since the fall of Soeharto Indonesia has undergone a far reaching systemic transition from centralised and autocratic governance to a highly decentralised and democratic system Complicated by regional variations the country is now being called upon to respect labour rights and amidst slow global economic recovery is facing increased competition from other low labour cost countries especially within the ASEAN Economic Community Tadjoeeddin and Chowdhury posit that Indonesia cannot recreate its past miracle based on cheap labour and suppression of labour rights It will need to move quickly to high value added activities driven by productivity growth and to develop its domestic market

Indonesia International Monetary Fund. Asia and Pacific Dept, 2018-02-06 This Selected Issues paper focuses on various challenges and opportunities related to reaping Indonesia's demographic dividend Demographic trends can impact growth through various channels These include the size of the labor force productivity and capital formation Indonesia's growth is set to have a sizeable tailwind from demographic trends The paper suggests that Indonesia should seize the window of opportunity to reap the demographic dividend as aging is projected to start kicking in less than 15 years In the long term Indonesia can grow old before becoming rich The rapid speed of aging implies that Indonesia similar to many Asian economies may face the prospect of becoming old before becoming rich Given Indonesia's favorable demographic trends policies should focus first on maximizing the demographic dividend Reaping the demographic dividend requires appropriate policies to raise productivity and create enough quality jobs for the growing working age population Investing in human capital early on including education and health care is essential to improve the productivity of the workforce and increase the size of the demographic dividend

Consolidating Democracy Brendan Howe,2022-11-21 This book assesses democratic resilience and challenges in relatively newly emerging democracies in the Asia Pacific which are simultaneously important case studies as newly emerging middle powers Across all dimensions and measurements South Korea and Indonesia are consistently the most salient case studies to consider The two case studies are compared across three sections First the relationship between economic development and democratic resilience in Indonesia and South Korea Second nature of political culture and societal constructs in the two case studies The final section looks at the potential peculiarities of the two case studies which are seen as uniquely challenged Indonesia by religious persecution and South Korea by political populism Certainly democratization is a long and difficult process This book provides insight into how the two countries have embarked on similar democratization projects It also delineates the successes and failures from which valuable lessons on democratization can be drawn

Internet of Things, Smart Spaces, and Next Generation Networks and Systems Yevgeni Koucheryavy,Ahmed Aziz,2024-05-26 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 23rd International Conference on Next Generation Wired Wireless Networking NEW2AN 2023 and the 16th Conference on Internet of Things and Smart Spaces ruSMART 2023 held in Dubai United Arab Emirates in December 21 22 2023 The 67 full papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 258 submissions The NEW2AN 2023 is well established conference with a unique cross disciplinary mixture of telecommunications related research and science various aspects of next generation data networks while special attention is given to advanced wireless networking and applications ISEAS Perspective Ulla Fionna,2015-07-08 As the euphoria fades from the Jokowi presidency this timely book reviews the processes that brought him to the top and the processes that have undermined his initial standing The nineteen articles by ten writers provide views from along the way starting with a chapter on the Jakarta governor elections from November 2012 and preceding through the key events up to a contemporary assessment in February 2015 Several major clues to the current disillusion are provided in accounts of the legislative elections and the presidential campaigns Key topics are vote buying the Islamic factor economic platforms pluralism economic challenges Max Lane points to deep alienation from politics and the emergence of new unions and a new political arena The ISEAS team provides a range of events and analyses that will be most useful to all students of current Indonesian politics clear concise insightful David Reeve Conjoint Associate Professor UNSW ILTI Academic Coordinator ACICIS This book effectively captures the dynamics of Indonesian politics by focusing on the various phenomena surrounding the 2014 elections It begins this political journey with an analysis of the implementation of local autonomy and the birth of a leader brave enough to challenge extant political elites It further explores the application of political culture in campaigns the shortcomings of elected leaders and the inadequacy of a state obliged to accommodate various interest groups Beyond all these this book proves that the political culture approach remains crucial in investigating Indonesia s political realities Sukardi Rinakit Political Analyst Special Staff to President Joko Widodo Diverse Development Paths and Structural Transformation in the Escape from Poverty Martin Andersson,Tobias Axelsson,2016-04-21 This volume analyzes the experiences of developing countries in Asia Latin America and Sub Saharan Africa and examines how they might catch up Based on growth performance across the developing world over the last five decades it offers a thorough account of the possibilities to engage in such processes in an increasingly globalized world Together the chapters highlight the diversity and variation of development pathways and provide valuable lessons and implications for how to approach this difficult question The book shows the importance of acknowledging that the process of development is dynamic and that the possibilities for catch up are situation dependent At the same time it makes clear that without structural change and in particular agricultural transformation sustained catch up is unlikely to happen The volume demonstrates how analysis of current growth processes in developing countries can be enriched by paying closer attention to the multifaceted nature of both economic backwardness and successful pathways to escape it Managing Climate Risk in the Global Economic System in the Post-COVID-19 Era Qiang Ji,2023-06-02 Islam's Encounter with Modern Science Taner Edis,2023-12-07 Within Muslim populations debates about the compatibility between science and religion tend to be framed by the long standing competition between modernizing reformers particularly westernizers and theological conservatives

Much like their liberal Christian counterparts reformers propose to embrace technical knowledge and reinterpret traditional beliefs undermined by modern science Conservatives are more open to challenging the content of science especially when science appears to support materialist views Islamists promote an alternative non western style of modernity nurturing a more pious professional class that contrasts with westernized elites By scientific standards westernizers appear to have the upper hand especially as conservative apologetics is drawn toward distortions of science such as creationism or fruitless attempts to Islamize science But conservatives can also point to some success in defusing tensions between scientific and religious institutions without adopting the full secularization of science seen in post Christian countries Proceedings of

The 5th MAC 2015 group of authors,2015-10-14 The 5th Multidisciplinary Academic Conference in Prague 2015 Czech Republic The 5th MAC 2015 Perspectives on Labour Economics for Development Sandrine Cazes,Sher Verick,2013 In developing countries labour markets play a central role in determining economic and social progress since employment status is one of the key determinants of exiting poverty and promoting inclusion Yet the reality in most developing countries is that the labour market fails to create the jobs in the formal economy that would help individuals and their families prosper In recognition of these challenges governments and other stakeholders in developing countries have increasingly prioritised policies and programmes to promote decent work However this requires navigating a range of complex issues and debates surrounding the linkages between development processes and labour market outcomes This volume consists of three main thematic parts Part I provides a broad overview of key issues including characterising the employment challenge in developing countries and the link between economic growth distribution poverty and employment Drawing on the literature and country examples Part II analyses the specific topics of wages migration and education The final section shifts to a more normative focus addressing labour market institutions and policies along with systematic approaches to quantifying labour markets in developing countries Perspectives on Labour Economics for Development is an invaluable reference for policy makers in middle and low income countries as well as an ideal handbook for teachers and students of economics and development Grand Design Adriana Elisabeth, Tim LIPI telah menganalisa dan menyusun grand design atau kerangka utama kebijakan luar negeri Indonesia sebagai masukan dan rekomendasi bagi Pemerintah Indonesia khususnya para pihak yang memiliki otoritas dalam melaksanakan hubungan luar negeri terutama sampai rentang waktu sekitar sepuluh tahun mendatang sejak 2015 Kerangka utama ini merupakan sebuah living document di mana dokumen ini perlu secara berkala ditinjau kembali sesuai dengan dinamika politik keamanan dan ekonomi yang terjadi di Indonesia baik di tingkat nasional maupun lokal maupun dinamika yang terjadi di tingkat regional dan internasional Apabila ditemukan hal hal yang perlu segera disesuaikan di dalam konteks implementasi kebijakan luar negeri dan diplomasi Indonesia maka perubahan layak dilakukan dengan tetap berpedoman pada hak asasi manusia diplomasi inklusif dan berkelanjutan dan kepemimpinan Indonesia
