

DIALYTICAL JOURNALS

The term “dialectic” means “the art or practice of seeking out the truth by using conversation, posing questions and answers.” Think of your classwork journal as a series of conversations with the texts we read during this course. This process is essential for how you develop a better understanding of the texts we read. Use your journal to incorporate your personal responses to the texts, your ideas about the themes we cover and our class discussions. You will find that it is a useful way to process what you’re reading, prepare yourself for group discussion, and gather textual evidence for your literary analysis assignments.

PROCEDURE:

- a. At the end of, individual passages that stand out to you, and record them in the left-hand column. The right column MUST include page numbers.
- b. In the right column, write your responses to that text (observations, questions, reflections, and comments on specific passages)
- c. You must label your responses using the following system:
 - (Q) Question – ask about something in the passage that is unclear
 - (C) Connect – make a connection to your life, the world, or another text
 - (P) Predict – anticipate what will occur based on what’s in the passage
 - (CL) Clarify – answer writer questions or confusion/clarify as needed
 - (R) Reflect – think deeply about what the passage means in a broad sense – not just for the characters in the story/narrator or the setting, think about what can you learn about the world, about human nature, or just the way things work
 - (E) Evaluate – make a judgment about what the author is trying to say
