Merchants Markets And Exchange In The Pre Columbian World Dumbarton Oaks Pre Columbian Symposia And Colloquia:

Markets and Exchanges in Pre-Modern and Traditional Societies Juan Carlos Moreno Garcia, 2021-06-30 Markets emerge in recent historical research as important spheres of economic interaction in ancient societies In the case of ancient Egypt traditional models imagined an all encompassing centralized bureaucratic economy that left practically no place for market transactions as many surviving documents only described the activities of the royal palace and of huge institutions mainly temples Yet scattered references in the sources reveal that markets and traders were crucial actors in the economic life of ancient Egypt In this perspective this volume aims to discuss the role of markets traders and economic interaction not necessarily organized through markets and the use of money metals valuable commodities in pre modern societies based on archaeological anthropological and historical evidence Furthermore it intends to integrate different perspectives about the social organization of transactions and exchanges and the different forms taken by markets from meeting places where exchanges operated under ritualized procedures and conventions to markets in which profit seeking activities were marginal in respect with other practices that stressed on the contrary community collaboration The book also deals with social forms of pre modern exchanges in which trust and ethnic solidarity guaranteed the validity of commercial operations in the absence of formal codes of laws or accepted authorities over long distances trade diasporas guilds etc Finally the volume analyzes a critical aspect of small scale trade and markets such as the commercialization of agricultural household production and its impact on the peasant economic strategies In all the book covers a diversity of topics in which recent research in the fields of economic sociology archaeology anthropology economics and history proves invaluable in order to analyze the role of Egyptian trade in a broader perspective as well as to suggest new venues of comparative research theoretical reflection and dialogue between Egyptology and social sciences A Handbook of Economic Anthropology Carrier, James G., 2022-05-13 This timely Research Agenda examines the ways in which public private partnerships PPPs in infrastructure continue to excite policy makers governments research scholars and critics around the world It analyzes the PPP research journey to date and articulates the lessons learned as a result of the increasing interest in improving infrastructure governance Expert international contributors explore how PPP ideas have spread transferred and transformed and propose a range of future research directions The World is Out of Joint Immanuel Wallerstein, 2015-11-17 The dominant view in social science has been that the modern world shows a pattern of linear development in which all positive social trends rise albeit at an uncertain speed toward a relatively homogenized world In the post 1945 period some analysts contested this linear model arguing that the modern world was rather one of escalating polarization Their view was strengthened by the separate emergence within the natural sciences of complexity studies which suggested that natural systems inevitably moved away from equilibrium and at a certain point bifurcated radically This book based on a truly collaborative international research project evaluates the empirical evidence in this debate in order to 1 give an adequate portrayal of the historical realities of the world system 2 draw a nuanced assessment about this debate and 3 provide the basis on which we can not only envisage probable future trends but also draw conclusions about the policy and or political implications of past and future research The work of ten research clusters based on crucial topics of overlapping nodes of social activity provides a vantage point with which to assess the basic issue a clear picture emerges of world historical interpretations of continuing polarizations
