The linkages between migration, agriculture, food security and rural development Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Fund for Agricultural Development, International Organization for Migration, World Food Programme, 2018 Migration has contributed to the society we live in today and as such it is part of our shared history Both the causes and the consequences are multifaceted and complicated While many people leave their homes as a result of conflict or poverty others move under conditions of peace political stability and development A large share of international migrants originated from rural areas This is an important part of the structural transformation of an economy and is an important part of the structural transformation of an economy Examining the complex interlinkages of migration with agriculture This report examines the existing literature and provides evidence from both developed and developing countries focusing on why people from rural areas decide to migrate It explores the drivers of migration both international and internal and aims to deepen our understanding of the interlinkages with agriculture food security and rural development This report assesses the impact of migration on countries of origin and destination focusing on rural areas and the agricultural sector It discusses how agricultural and social policies can address challenges and capitalize on opportunities created by migration trends

Interrelations between Public Policies, Migration and Development OECD, 2017-02-17 Interrelations between Public Policies Migration and Development is the result of a project carried out by the European Union and the OECD Development Centre in ten partner countries

Migration, Transfers and Economic Decision Making among Agricultural Households Calogero Carletto, Benjamin Davis, Paul Winters, 2020-08-19 The increasing volume of remittances and public transfers in rural areas of the developing world has raised hopes that these cash inflows may serve as an effective mechanism for reducing poverty in the long term by facilitating investments and raising productivity particularly in agriculture where market failures are most manifest This book systematically tests the empirical relationship between cash transfers and productive spending in agriculture amongst rural households in six different countries of the developing world Together the studies point to little impact of migration and public and private transfers on agricultural productivity instead facilitating a transition away from agriculture or to a less labour intensive type of agriculture From a policy perspective the studies raise the question of how to maintain rural economies as migration and social assistance are unlikely to provide a sustainable way to overcome rural poverty in the long run for those that remain in rural areas For the foreseeable future agriculture will play an important role in alleviating poverty and sustaining growth in rural areas Yet public and private transfers are not providing much of the impetus needed to raise the sector's productivity. Whether the transfers are invested in agriculture will ultimately depend on the attractiveness of the sector which is largely determined by the policies of governments and donors. This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Development Studies.

Food security and nutrition policy dialogues in Europe, the Caucasus and Central Asia 2016-2019 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-11-28. This publication is a compendium of the main outcomes of the online stakeholder dialogue organized by the project Developing Capacity for Strengthening Food Security and Nutrition in Selected Countries in the Caucasus and Central Asia funded by the Russian Federation in collaboration with the Global Forum on Food Security and Nutrition (FSN Forum). The publication presents an overview of the multiple topics that were discussed from 2017 onwards and provides the reader with a brief introduction to the main ideas and conclusions that emerged during these online consultations. In addition, this publication includes a series of short case studies that highlight good practices and lessons learned from school food and nutrition programmes and from the implementation of food security and nutrition policies in Europe, the Caucasus and Central Asia. This publication provides an entry point to the current thinking on the topics covered and allows the reader to learn from what initiatives, projects and activities are presently being implemented.

Migrations in the Mediterranean Ricard Zapata-Barrero, Ibrahim Awad, 2023-10-21. This open access Regional Reader describes population movement circulating within the Mediterranean area for any reason or from any region be them European, African, Asian or originating from any of the Mediterranean shores. It showcases a plurality of approaches to and applications of Mediterranean migration contributing to a regional approach to migration studies thereby defending this regional approach by scaling Mediterranean migration issues. This book covers a large set of questions related Mediterranean migrations to the migration research agenda such as market and economy, politics and policies, super diversity and intersectionality, media, society, welfare and the environment through five main parts: Geo-political, Mediterranean Relations, Governance, Policies and Politics, Mobility drivers and Agency, Cities, History and Social Transformations and Economy and Labour Markets. This Regional Reader provides an interesting read to scholars, researchers but also policy makers and civil society organizations, high representatives, international foundations and institutions interested in linking the Mediterranean and migration.

The future of food and agriculture: Trends and challenges Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-06-08. How can we achieve FAO's original vision of a world free from hunger and malnutrition? The report sheds some light on the nature of the challenges that agriculture and food systems are facing now and throughout the 21st century and provides some insights as to what is at stake and what needs to be done. What emerges is that business as usual is no longer an option but calls for major transformations in agricultural systems in rural economies and in how we manage our natural resources. The report was undertaken for the quadrennial review of the FAO Strategic Framework and in preparation for the Organization's Medium Term Plan 2018-2021.

The Flexible Multi-Partner

Mechanism Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2021-12-20 The Flexible Multi Partner Mechanism FMM as FAO s main pooled multi partner flexible funding instrument enables resource partners to contribute voluntary and less earmarked financial resources to support the delivery of programmatic results under FAO s Strategic Framework This report highlights the key achievements of the FMM in 2020 both in terms of its accomplishments as a funding mechanism and the delivery of transformative results on the ground through FMM funded Programmes and Subprogrammes

Prosperity in place Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,International Institute for Economic Development,2020-04-01 Future generations are shaped by the opportunities afforded now to youth Yet youth defined here as those between 15 24 years of age make up close to half the world s unemployed Rural rates of unemployment are particularly high This is especially so for young women United Nations figures class 75 percent of youth as underutilised By this they mean unemployed in irregular informal jobs or outside of formal education and training Underutilised youth are a missed opportunity This report is written for the leaders of Forest and Farm Producer Organisations FFPOs In rural areas FFPOs are often the major or sometimes only employers Set up to pursue the values of their members FFPOs contribute to rural prosperity namely a negotiated vision of that which people value and have reason to value in line with the common good All people have their own vision of what prosperity looks like and that is why a negotiation of a collective vision is important so that the perceptions of different groups of people such as youth are taken into account Handbook on the

International Migration on Albanian Family Farming Juna Miluka, Flexible Multi-Partner Mechanism Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2020-02-28 The FMM Annual Report for 2018 highlights the concrete results achieved through the continued support of key resource partners This report details initiatives innovations impacts outcomes and human centred stories from the field The report shows how deepening our engagement with resource partners and fostering new alliances is vital to achieving the Sustainable Development Goals Migration, Civil Society and Global Governance Carl-Ulrik Schierup,Branka Likic-Brboric,Raúl Delgado Wise,Gülay Toksöz,2020-06-29 How do the United Nations international organizations governments corporate actors and a wide variety of civil society organizations and regional and global trade unions perceive the root causes of migration global inequality and options for sustainable development This is one of the most pertinent political questions of the 21st century This comprehensive collection examines the development of an emerging global governance on migration with the focus on spaces roles strategies and alliance making of a composite transnational civil society engaged in issues of rights and the protection of migrants and their families

It reveals the need to strengthen networking and convergence among movements that adopt different entry points to the same struggle from fighting managed migration to contesting corporate control of food and land. The authors examine the opportunities and challenges faced by civil society in its endeavour to promote a rights based approach within international and intergovernmental fora engaged in setting up a global compact for the management of migration such as the Global Forum for Migration and Development and in other global policy spaces. The Flexible Voluntary Contribution FVC 2022 annual progress report captures the key achievements of the FVC both in terms of its role as a pooled fund for non earmarked and softly earmarked contributions from resource partners and the implementation of development initiatives through FVC subprogrammes. The report provides a comprehensive understanding of the FVC's role within the Organization, the contribution of FVC funded work to the achievements of FAO's four betters and their respective Programme Priority Areas (PPAs) and the future direction of the FVC based on experiences in 2022. The report comprises six sections: 1 Introduction, 2 Achievements of the FVC as a fund, 3 Achievements of FVC programmes, the four betters, 4 Key FVC principles, 5 Challenges and lessons learned, and 6 Conclusions and future actions. The migration propensity index: An application to Guatemala Ceballos, Francisco, Hernandez, Manuel A., 2020-07-22. International migration has grown rapidly over the past two decades at an annual rate of 2.4% prompting increased interest in identifying the root causes of outmigration and the population groups more likely to emigrate. However, anticipating migration is a complex task as the decision to migrate is often determined by multiple push and pull factors that are typically interrelated and are not always directly observable. This study proposes the Migration Propensity Index (MPI), a novel approach to indirectly estimate a household's propensity or probability to emigrate. The central idea is to identify and keep track of a reduced set of household level indicators that are strongly correlated with the latent decision of individuals to emigrate. Taken together and converted into an index, the combined indicators reflect the objective likelihood that one or more individuals from a given household will emigrate. The MPI is concise, easy to implement, and statistically rigorous and avoids asking direct sensitive questions about migration attempts or intentions which are prone to refusals and underreporting. We calibrate the index to data for Guatemala relying on an out of sample cross validation procedure using a panel dataset of 2,798 households living in what are considered vulnerable municipalities. The data were collected in 2012, 2013, and 2014. We discuss the index design and implementation including concrete examples of its application. The resulting model includes 12 simple variables and two location shifters and correctly identifies 93% of eventual emigrating and non emigrating households. The MPI can serve policymakers in getting better insights in drivers of migration, monitor present and expected migratory flows and for targeting of economic and social policies

The Flexible Multi-partner Mechanism (FMM) Food and Agriculture

Organization of the United Nations, 2020-09-28 The year 2019 marked a time of growth and renewed commitments for FAO's Flexible Multi Partner Mechanism FMM the main pooled funding mechanism for resource partners to contribute flexible voluntary annual and multi year resources to the Organization for the achievement of results under FAO's Strategic Framework and the realization of catalytic impact This annual report provides an overview of major improvements and transformational changes to the FMM since 2018 in addition to presenting key achievements challenges and lessons learned thus far in the implementation of the Fund in 2019

Economic Development, Agriculture And Climate Change

Antonio Yunez Naude, J Jorge Mora-rivera, 2023-02-24 Climate change CC is currently an unquestionable phenomenon If not stopped it will be catastrophic for life on earth Scientific evidence shows that human activities are the primary driver of CC tendencies since the industrial times In this book we present the relationship between development and CC with special reference to agriculture the rural sector and policies aimed to promote sustainable development We also give special attention to the situation in low and medium income countries particularly rural households and small farmers in these countries The study of agriculture CC and sustainability requires consideration of natural resources and their uses land freshwater forests etc as well as the rural sector since land for agricultural production often expands at the expense of forests In addition the use of water for agricultural production affects the availability of this resource for other uses in the urban industrial and service sectors Consequently sustainable agricultural development under CC requires an interdisciplinary or at least a multidisciplinary approach In this book we do our best to deal with this challenge by focusing on issues and topics related to agriculture and its use of natural resources in the context of CC but without ignoring the interrelations of these phenomena with further aspects of sustainability beyond agriculture
