Military Review, 2017 Lessons Not Learned Roger Thompson, 2013-07-10 Despite its reputation as the most impressive naval force in the world the U S Navy is in trouble according to the author of this book and systemic weaknesses could be its undoing Here military sociologist Roger Thompson provides a compelling often scathing assessment of the U S

Navy and its learning disabilities and then presents a convincing argument for reform Thompson points to the U S Navy's up or out promotion system massive personnel turnover inexperienced crews and drug and alcohol abuse as problems that make it difficult for the Navy to build cohesive well trained fighting units In a review of the Navy's recent history he finds that its ships submarines and aircraft are often outperformed in competitions and exercises with other navies and its failures are either denied altogether or perfunctorily excused Diesel submarines so quiet that they are rarely detected until it's too late to prevent an attack routinely surpass expensive U S nuclear subs and put U S aircraft carriers in danger American naval pilots whose weapons are often improperly tested are frequently bested by military pilots from other countries Because the U S Navy doesn't have enough surface ships to protect its capital ships American carrier strike groups now use Canadian ships as escorts Shortcomings like these Thompson argues undermine the Navy's potential and should be cause for national concern In presenting a side of the U S Navy that's rarely discussed this book spells out lessons the Navy must learn if it is going to succeed in an era of asymmetrical warfare of David versus Goliath conflicts In his conclusion the author puts forth a twelve step program that calls on the U S Navy to rethink its naval strategy to lose some weight and to focus on the fundamentals

F4F Wildcat vs A6M Zero-sen Edward M. Young, 2013-08-20 The Grumman F4F Wildcat and the Mitsubishi A6M Zero sen were contemporaries although designed to very different requirements The Wildcat ruggedly built to survive the rigors of carrier operations was the best carrier fighter the US Navy had available when the USA entered World War II and it remained the principal fighter for the US Navy and the US Marine Corps until 1942-43 With a speed greater than 300mph exceptional manoeuvrability long range and an impressive armament the slick Zero sen could out perform any Allied fighter in 1941-42 The battles between the Wildcat and the Zero sen during 1942 represent a classic duel in which pilots flying a nominally inferior fighter successfully developed air combat tactics that negated the strengths of their opponent
