Water City Matthew Bradbury,2020-12-30 Water City offers practical solutions to some of the environmental challenges facing 21st century cities as a result of climate change The dense compact nature of the contemporary city makes it difficult to generate urban resilience to the effects of climate change particularly coastal and pluvial flooding This book describes a design led remediation methodology that draws on catchment planning and GIS mapping and analysis to redefine the city as a series of hydrological and ecological systems Six case studies test the presented methodology two greenfield and four brownfield sites based in the UK USA New Zealand and China Each case study is illustrated with GIS maps and perspectives Specific solutions to the environmental problems that will be intensified by climate change are presented Water City describes adaptation strategies to help practitioners in the urban landscape tackle these issues and make our cities better places to live This practical guide is a key read for professionals and stakeholders in landscape architecture urban design planning and all those interested in how climate change will affect the future of our cities

Building Cost Planning for the Design Team Jim Smith,D M Jaggar,Peter Love,2016-02-26 Cost management of all building projects has become increasingly important as clients in the public and private sector demand the highest quality cost planning services with accurate budgeting and cost control All members of the design team must integrate their activities to ensure that a high quality project is delivered on time and within budget This book considers building cost planning and cost control from the client and the design team s perspective where all decisions whether concerned with design cost quality time value or sustainability are taken as being interrelated The latest Royal Institute of British Architects RIBA Plan of Work and the New Rules of Measurement for Early Stage Estimating and Cost Planning issued by the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors RICS have been incorporated into this new text The book follows the building design cost planning process from the crucial inception stages and then through all the design stages to the completion of the technical design contract documentation and the tender It provides a template for good cost planning practice An essential addition to this third edition is the introduction of integrated design and documentation processes captured in building Information modelling BIM on line cost databases and computerised methods of cost planning The integrated approaches are explained and provide vital information and knowledge for practitioners involved in building projects All stakeholders involved in development and design and client teams in public and private sector policy making and implementation need to understand the new approaches to design management processes and how cost planning and design approaches are adapting to using the new technology in practice The interactive style using in text and review questions makes this ideal for students and practitioners alike in property architecture construction economics construction management real estate engineering facilities management and project management

Markets in their Place Russell Prince, Matthew Henry, Carolyn Morris, Aisling Gallagher, Stephen FitzHerbert, 2021-07-27 Markets are usually discussed in abstract terms as an economic organizing principle a generalized alternative to government planning or even as powerful actors in their own right able to shape local and national economic destinies But markets are not abstract Even as the idea of the market seduces politicians around the world to take advantage of their abstract qualities they constantly run up against material reality Markets are always somewhere in place and it is in place that the smooth theories of markets falter and fail More than simply being embedded in particular places markets necessarily emerge in the various political social cultural and environmental relations that exist in and between places Markets shape places but the reverse is also true This collection of essays approaches markets from the ground up and from a part of the world often still regarded as peripheral to global capitalism the South Pacific With a wide variety of case studies including on indigenous economies childcare agriculture wine electricity metering finance education and housing the authors show how complex local social and cultural politics matter to how markets are made within and between places and the insights that can be gleaned from studying markets in this part of the world They explore the way superficially similar markets work out differently in different places and why as well as examining how market relations are constructed in places outside and on the edges of the centres of Western capitalism and what this says back to how markets are understood in those centres The book will be of particular interest to scholars and students working in and between economic geography cultural economy political economy economic sociology and more
